EBERHART A GOOD BOOSTER

Governor of Minnesota Held Some Live Wires from the North.

IS STRONG FOR CONSERVATION

Tells of Plans for the Big Congress to Be Held at St. Paul During September—Says He Likes It.

Governor Adolph O. Eberhart is considered by the professional advertising men of Minnesota a very proper man for the business. He came to Omaha yesterday morning at the head of the Minnesota delegation of twenty-eight or thirty men, and manfully marched every foot of the way from the train to the Paxton lobby. "How do you like the riding, governor?" asked a fat constituent, between puffs. "The ride I prefer to walk," retorted the athletic chief magistrate of Minnesota, as he shook a leg while the hand played the promise of a warm evening later in the city. "The governor will remain in Omaha until Tuesday evening and every minute of the time he will be boosting for the National Conservation congress, which is to be held in St. Paul September 6, 7 and 8. Our state conservation congress was worth hundreds of thousands of dollars in an advertising way, and naturally we expect the coming national meeting to be of very great importance in many respects. Former President Roosevelt will be on the program, and we expect President Taft will show his way clear to accept our invitation."

Politics is Barred.

This latter allusion had reference to the difficulty that arose when some people had it in mind to make the congress exclusively an affair in the interest of the former chief forester. A committee headed by Governor Eberhart went to Chicago to confer with the executive committee of the conservation congress, and after much diplomatic negotiation, an amicable agreement was reached, which will have the effect of barring anything of a political nature absolutely from the discussions. Governor Eberhart refused to discuss the negotiations leading up to the present understanding, but indicated that he is satisfied with the conclusion reached. He expects the coming congress to be a success, with a dozen western states represented on the program by their leading men. The congress will cost $10,000 for advertising and entertaining the delegates, but the people of Minnesota readily raised the amount.

Likes Omaha.

"I was treated so hospitably and enjoyed myself so much when here to speak before the Central Republican club that I am very glad to be able to spend another two days in Omaha," said Governor Eberhart. And he has with him a bunch of live wires, who made themselves at home immediately and began to pin St. Paul and Minnesota badges on everybody.

"Conservation is our lay now," said Curtis L. Mosher, official booster of the city of St. Paul. "We are not after the next convention, because St. Paul now has so many conventions dated for next summer we could not undertake to handle this one."

Woman Has Money For Postal Bank

Authorities Inform Her Bank Will Not Be Ready for Some Time.

Assistant Postmaster J. I. Woodard had a visit this morning from a prospective depositor in the newly authorized postal savings bank. The would-be patron, who was the first applicant, was an elderly Swedish woman, who was eloquent in her preference of the government to a private institution as a repository for her savings. Unfortunately the assistant postmaster was obliged to disappoint her, for the government is not yet ready to receive deposits and has advised the local office that it will probably be from three to six months before the new plan is put in operation.

Advance Sale of Next Winter's Styles in Long Fur Pony Coats

A Big Success Read About It
Our advance sale of Fur Pony Coats which started this morning and continues till Wednesday, has so far been a decided success. The unusualness of such a sale right in the middle of July causes much comment and curiosity as to the object in having such a sale now. The cause is simple. Any kind of merchandise can be bought cheaper when not in demand than it can be bought when it is in demand. Consequently this great sale of new winter styles in Pony coats means a big saving to those who are shrewd enough to secure one during this sale.

Our Little-at-a-time payment plan helps you
To enable everybody to secure one of these magnificent coats we have arranged an easy-to-pay plan for your convenience. Select the coat you like best, pay us a cash deposit of $10, then a little each week until paid. We store and protect garments free of charge. Make your purchase tomorrow. You can be in full possession of your coat before the first snow flies.
