INSURANCE AGENTS MEET

Will Convene in Omaha Monday for Annual Session.

PROTEST OUT IN THEIR FEES

Premium Rates Have Not Been Reduced and Entire Reduction Comes from Commissions of the Agents.

Fire Insurance men from all over Nebraska will meet in Omaha Monday for the annual meeting of the Nebraska Association of Local Fire Insurance Agents.

Aside from routine business the most important matter to be considered is a movement started among fire insurance agents against the proposed action of the large insurance companies to reduce their expenses by reducing commissions of agents.

It has been intimated, Omaha agents say, that the larger companies are seriously considering such a step. They will, if they follow out their present plans, considerably decrease the commissions of their agents without changing premium rates, throwing the entire loss upon the agents. All organizations of agents which would be affected in the event of such action are expected to make a strong fight against it.

Session Lasts a Day.

The session will last only one day. Acceptances have been coming in rapidly during the last few days and an attendance of about 300 is anticipated. Members will meet Monday morning at 9:15 at Martin Bros., Fifteenth and Farnam streets, and will go from there to the Field club. The business session, at which the regular business and annual election of officers will be taken up, will commence at 10 o'clock and will be followed by a noon luncheon.

In the afternoon the visitors will be the guests of the Omaha insurance men at the Mid-West Aviation meet. Special care will be provided, starting from Fifteenth and Farnam streets. In the evening the visitors will be taken out to the den as guests of Ak-Bar Ben.

Watches Clock for Two Hours

Missourian Refuses to Take His Eyes from the Train Until it is Train Time.

If all travelers were so careful not to miss their trains as "show me" Missourian who went out to Kansas City Friday morning, the troubles of the stationmaster of the Burlington station would be an ill.

"Say Mr. Station Master, what time does the train for Kansas City leave?" he inquired at 7 a. m. "I'm from Polk county, Missouri, and I'm going home," was volunteered also.

On being informed that he had two hours to get ready in, at the train left at 9:15 a. m., he said, "Well, you can't fool me. I am a good Missouri democrat and my place from now till 9 o'clock is right here where I can watch that clock and see the minutes go."

From that time on his gaze never wandered from the face of the clock; nothing could disturb him, and when 9 o'clock had reached the second he marched out and was soon on his way to home and mother.

Horse's Back is Broken by Fall

Tripped by Reins, Animal Falls in Agony and is Shot to Death.

Attempting to run with a rein caught under its hind feet, a horse was tripped and its back broken at Twenty-fourth and Hamilton streets about 5 o'clock Thursday evening. The horse and buggy it was drawing had been rented from the Nebraska Livery company by J. S. Huntley, a grocer.

The outfit was being driven by a delivery boy from Huntley's store when the accident happened. Frightened when he saw his reins becoming tangled around the horse's legs, the boy jumped, causing the animal to run. The horse was shot to death when the police found the nature of its injury.

WOMEN HAD A GREAT TIME

One of the Lincoln Women Writes Most Enthusiastically of Treatment in Omaha.

The visiting women at the Ad club convention were treated royally and that they were appreciative of that fact is shown by the following letter from a Lincoln woman who was here:

LINCOLN, Neb., July 21.-Editor Omaha Bee: There is much to be said of the Lincoln Ad club on its trip to Omaha, Tuesday, which was the most enjoyable and profitable one could wish for. I am sure if the wives, mothers and sweethearts could have seen their boys marching from the Omaha depot, with the band in the lead, which was a credit to the club, with their little Dutch caps and sunny faces, such a sight as only Lincoln boys do have, their hearts would swell with pride.

You would not soon forget the showing the ad boys made, with their red, white and blue umbrellas hoisted up and down, keeping time with the music of the band. There was not a cleaner, brighter or handsomer set of boys in Omaha than was our Lincoln boys. Wives, you ought to be proud of your boys.

Don't stay at home any more. All the boys lacked was your presence beside them. Another thing you missed greatly was the royal entertainment the Omaha ladies gave the visiting ladies. No ladies could have entertained more royally. They spared nothing in their kind, clever and gracious manner. Every lady on the entertainment committee felt that it was her duty and welfare of each guest. Much is to be said in regard to the manner in which they entertained. As many ladies were called for responded most willingly with their large touring cars and it is to be said that the Omaha ladies are skillful in handling their autos. One of the most remarkable chauffeurs among the many was Miss Louise Lord. She is a famous autoist and much credit is due her in the cheerful and pleasing manner in which she took her part in the entertainment. The ladies were most gracious in this feature of the entertainment. They drove miles and miles over some of the best boulevards in the west, notwithstanding the accounts and accounts were quite steep along the route. Much is to be said on the part of Mr. and Mrs. Joaly in the entertainment. They opened their beautiful home with all the kindness and cheerfulness becoming to their kind and generous hearts to the ladies of the Ad club. Every lady appreciated the delightful music and entertainment they received from them. And then the dinner and lunches at the club houses were of the finest and best.

We were sorry that all of the ladies connected with the Lincoln Ad club could not have shared these many good things. Don't miss them again, ladies. We wish to thank Omaha for its kind and pleasing entertainment on behalf of the Lincoln Ad club.

PROTEST WOODEN BLOCKS

Property Owners Seek to Withdraw Their Signatures.

QUESTION IS UP IN THE AIR

Legal Department Refuses to Be Drawn Into the Controversy-Letter from Indianapolis Officials on Pavements.

The question of paving South Sixteenth street with creosote wood block for its new paving, which everybody thought was settled some time ago, has again arisen like a ghost from the dead, having been stirred up by the contractors for old line solid paving.

The petition for creosote was handed in to the city clerk July 18 and was presented to the city council and approved the next night. The paving contractors, however, refused to give up, and during the last week C. E. Fanning's office sent out to all the property owners who signed the creosote petition a circular letter which was received from the Indianapolis city authorities in response to inquiries.

The evidence offered in the letter is rather bad for the wooden blocks and a number of the signers have expressed a tentative desire to withdraw. An attempt has been made to find from the city attorney's office if a withdrawal is possible, but the city legal authorities, anxious to avoid being drawn into the controversy, have refused to make any suggestions. In the meantime the ordinary process of the law will provide for advertising for bids on creosote and the objectors will have to make an immediate protest if anything can be done.

Lost Watch Turns Up Where Hidden

Judge Had Simply Hid it Too Carefully and Then Forgot About It.

Awaking at 5:30 Thursday evening in his room at the Hotel Rome, where he had secluded himself from the world and partaken in an innocent slumber, Judge N. B. Mavey of Muskogee, Okl., found his nap had added to his troubles, as a valuable watch belonging to him was missing. Now to be a little god of time is at least discomforting, so immediately the judge instigated a search for the missing watch, and after several hours of additional lost time he appeared at the police station and reported that during his sleep he had been robbed.

He stated that the watch had been taken from his pocket by some one who entered the room as he was visiting the land of nod. A description of the suspect was written and the whole tragedy spread upon the police records. Detectives Pattullo and Davis were detailed to find the thief and return the watch to its owner, which they immediately set about to do.

Arriving at the hotel the two detectors of crime began overturning chairs, tables, drawing back the rugs and looking under the bed, and finally the missing little watch was found where it had been hidden by the judge before he went to sleep, its hands shielding its face and its inside shaking as if it would break with laughter.

A shadow of chagrin passed over the judge's face as it was returned to him and he found he had not been robbed during his stay in the city after all.
