Totals 15 2,339 CATTLE-There were no fresh receipts double what they were the corresponding week of iast year. It might be said in explanation of the heavy run that dry weather in the range country and consequent shortage of feed is forcing the range men to send in their cattle earlier than usual, and while quite a number of cornfed and native cattle are still arriving. Thus the total receipts this week were unusually large, as noted above.

Because of the heavy runs prices through

HOGS—A good part of yesterday's advance was lost in the hog yards this morning on a fully normal supply. Trade was featured by uneven prices, however, and it was pretty hard to tell just where the market was. Sales ranged from steady to a dime lower in both divisions, good bacon and mixed grades selling at quotably firm figures at the opening, while the balance had to move at declines of 5@10c. Shippers bought cautiously, competition was rather slack between killers, and while movement was not very active the big end of the run
