WOULD LINE UP DEMOCRATS
Governor Wants to Take Advantage of Supposed Prejudice.

SENTIMENT IS AGAINST OMAHA
Circular Letters State Vote for Enforcement of Eight O'Clock Closing Law Nearly Unanimous with Big City Excluded.

(From a Staff Correspondent)
LINCOLN, July 31.—(Special)—State house stenographers and other employees by him were kept busy yesterday making out hundreds of letters to democrats urging them to get talked in the state, the republican state busy at the primaries. One who read a copy of the letter said it had for its object the lining up of the democrats out in the state against Omaha so that the governor would get the benefit of any prejudice that may have been created against the big city during the state convention because its delegation opposed an endorsement of the so-called closing law.

According to this authority the letter sets out that with the exception of some ninety votes in addition to the delegation from Omaha the entire state convention voted for the endorsement of the 8-o'clock-closing law. Therefore, as Governor Shallenbeger stands on the fact that he has signed it, democrats should vote for him in the primary as against Mayor Dahlman.

It is said to be the intention of the democrats to publish in every foreign language platform relating to county option and send it out with the democratic plank on the same subject. They will do this to show that the democrats are opposed to county option even though the governor has pledged himself to sign a bill if passed by the legislature and it is re-elected.

In the meantime several parties have directed queries to the governor's office asking what he really got out of the Hittchock crowd at Grand Island in return for the things he did for Hittchock and the assistance his friends gave the suppression of Richard L. Metcalfe's liquor plank.

A difference of opinion exists as to whether John M. Devine really slapped W. H. Patrick at Grand Island or whether he simply "laid his fist against his jaw," as one eye witness describes the affair. John G. Maher, who witnessed the fracas, brought back this story:

"Seated at a table in the restaurant were Patrick, Judge I. L. Alberts and Elmer Thomas. Blake, Maher and I were at the counter when John Devine came in and took a seat with us. Patrick took up and said: 'Did you earn your money, Devine?'

"Devine promptly got up and walked around to Patrick and laid his fist against his jaw and said:

"What do you mean?"
"Patrick hesitated and Devine continued, 'I'll teach you to be a gentleman. If ever you use my name in a derogatory way I will slap your face and tend to you to the best of my ability.'

"Patrick at the time had a piece of watermelon and a fork in his hands and when Devine made his move, he dropped both of these and bristled up. But Devine stepped back and those at the table interferred and prevented any further mixup. I saw the affair and I am certain that Devine's fist did touch Patrick's jaw."

After the story of the affair had been published here, Devine said:

"I did not really slap Patrick. I simply put my fist right under his nose and kept it there during the talk."

Maher insists, however, that Devine and Patrick were both too excited to know what they were doing and that he was corroborated by those who witnessed the affair. When Patrick made his statement Devine supposed that he referred to an article Devine wrote in opposition to county option.

Lets Contract for New Building.
The First National bank has let the contract for its new building to a Chicago firm and it is to be completed by May 1, 1911. The bank will have its temporary quarters in the Brownell block on South Eleventh street, though it may not have a sign across the sidewalk to designate it.

Another Beer Raid.
Another raid was made last night by the police on a South Ninth street house and a quantity of beer and other liquors was confiscated. Three arrests were made, a man, his wife and daughter. The police are working overtime to shut up the joints in Lincoln and raids are of frequent occurrence.

Epworth Assembly August 3.
The Epworth assembly will open its annual meeting at Epworth park, August 3. This year tickets will be punched at the gate and taken up when the party leaves the grounds. This change was made so that persons who are camping on the grounds will not have to be waked up each morning to show their tickets. What will happen to the man who enters with a single ticket and stays a week and then refuses to pay the extra days when he goes out has not been announced. The price of season tickets has been increased from $1 to $1.50.

AUTO SCORCHERS PAY FINES
Three, including One Man from Omaha, Violate Speed Regulations at Fremont.
FREMONT, Neb., July 31.—(Special)—Three automobile drivers drew fines for speeding, in police court yesterday afternoon, and there are three more to come up Monday morning, with probability of still others. Mrs. Mable Wall was fined $5 for speeding on Fifth street and drew $25 and costs; George Robertson, an Omaha man, admitted that he had been a little too reckless, but tried to excuse himself on the ground that it was very hot and few people on the street. He got $10 and costs. Guy Kelley good-naturedly acknowledged that he had violated the laws and ordinances and contributed $4.00 to the city. James Shepard pleaded not guilty and neither Larson and Chas. Hansen were out of the city.

The automobile law has been a dead letter here, not only in regard to speeding, but running without lights and without numbers on the rear of the car. Chief Peterson has a special man on keeping tabs on the speeders and a wonderful difference was noticeable in the way cars were run last evening around town.

Politics and Fraternalism.
HOMER, Neb., July 31.—(Special)—A celebration under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World was held at Homer yesterday, in which the attractions were many and various. Governor Shallenbeger spoke to an audience of some 1,200 people while many other politicians of more local reputation were here. Congressman Letts and others were in evidence and there was a base ball game, horse racing and other attractions on the side.

Winnebagoes
Get New Rights

Two Hundred Fourteen Members of Tribe Given Authority to Lease Their Own Lands.

WINNEBAGO, Neb., July 31.—(Special)—During a part of last year and the early months of 1910 a competency commission was organized by the state to determine the status of the Winnebagoes, a small tribe of Indians in Thurlow county. They were classifying the Indians with reference to their advancement in civilization and their consequently ability to conduct their own affairs independent of departmental control.

Some were given full and free possession of their land and property, others were given the right to lease their lands and collect the rentals outside the office, subject only to the approval of the local superintendent, a third class still have their lands and moneys held in trust for them. These Indians have met the demands of citizenship in such a way that the plan has been extended by the Indian office to include a class of Winnebagoes.

Authority has just been received granting to 214 members of this tribe the right to lease their own lands. It is hoped that the Indian responsibility thus thrown upon the Indian, and his consequent effort to meet it, will go far toward fitting him for his place in civilization. It is expected that many more will in the very near future take possession of their allotments and hence become self-sufficient and every effort possible is being put forth by those in charge to induce them to do so. Hundreds of them are farming already and several thousand acres of nice corn have been cared for this present year by Winnebagoes.

A new system of instruction in farming and general business management has been recently inaugurated by F. H. Abbott, assistant commissioner of Indian Affairs. It is now in operation on both the Omaha and Winnebagoe reservations. Skilled farmers are employed whose duties are to work out on the farms with the Indians, to advise and assist them in the purchase, use and care of machinery, to exercise a general supervision over their work and business operations and by taking a personal, directive interest in them, seek to prepare them for the duties and responsibilities of citizenship.

The indications now are that when the trust period expires, as it soon will for this tribe, and these Indians take their place among the citizens of Nebraska, they will do so not as a class of idlers, but as a class of respectable, self-supporting farmers, each owning, caring for and taking pride in his own home.

Much credit is due Mr. Abbott as well as Superintendent A. H. Kneale and others in charge of this work for the steps which go far toward bringing about this result.

Henry Cloud Returns.
WINNEBAGO, Neb., July 31.—(Special)—Henry Cloud, a member of the tribe of Winnebagoes Indians, has just returned from the construction of buildings at the new cathedral in Port Au Prince and having completed a four-year course.

He expects to remain on the reservation, serving as interpreter for the ministers in charge of a camp meeting now in progress here. He will look after some business interests and then expects to enter a theological seminary further to prepare himself to be of service to his fellow-tribesmen.

TECUMSEH—The home of Charles M. Chamberlain, cashier of the defunct Chamberlain banking house of this city, has been sold for $10,000. The property is badly run down. It was bought by J. L. Jacka for $2,500 and $350 back taxes.

TECUMSEH—Sheriff E. R. The hearing will be held on August 1st, and the decision will be final.

Central and Quebec.
A veritable edition de luxe among railroad pamphlets has been issued by the Grand Trunk Railway System to proclaim amongst tourists the glories of the cities of Montreal and Quebec. The brochure is beautifully printed and generally arranged in the artistic style of earlier days, with the ornamentation of a volume was regarded as an important incident to its representation of a pleasing matter. It gives an interesting description of the two most interesting cities in Canada, with many illustrations from photographs. Sent free to any address. Apply to H. G. Elliott, 311 Merchants Loan & Trust Building, Chicago.

Fremont Sentence for Three.
MITCHELL, S. D., July 31.—(Special)—Three prisoners confined in the jail, who were being held for the November term of circuit court, decided that they would take advantage of the time intervening between now and November and commence to serve their term by pleading guilty and receiving the sentence. Judge Tripp of Yankton came here to preside over the term for Judge Smith, because one of the men to be sentenced broke into the judge's house in Yankton and the court did not want to sentence the prisoner under those circumstances. This fellow's name was William Writcoff, and he got three and a half years. H. G. Davis got several checks a few months ago, but returned the money and he was given nine months, and John Brownson broke jail here nearly two years ago and was given a year and six months.

REPORT CONDITIONS IN HAYTI
Hugh Gordon Miller Comes to Defense of People of Island.

STORY OF CANNIBALISM A FAKE
Ignorance is Not so Prevalent as Supposed and the Inhabitants Show Signs of Considerable Progression.

NEW YORK, July 31.—(Special Telegram)—Dispatches received here from Washington state that special agents of the United States are now in Hayti investigating conditions in the black republic, and that the stories to the effect that cannibalism is life on the island and that the rapid growth of voodooism threatens the existence of the whites. It has been alleged that conditions are such in Hayti that the residents demand intervention by the United States and it is the purpose of the government to learn definitely just what truth there is in the stories.

Hugh Gordon Miller, a New York lawyer and special assistant to the United States general attorney, came to the defense of the people of Hayti today. Mr. Miller is one of the most prominent lawyers in the United States and he is the author of a book on "The Rights of the Inhabitants of Hayti."

"Hayti's inhabitants are neither barbarous nor semi-barbarous," as I learned on my visit.

"No Woman Cannibal There.
This talk about a woman cannibal will undoubtedly be found to be gross exaggeration. I had never been on the island before and although I am not a native, I am informed as to the conditions that the stay-at-home American, I had some misgivings about what I should find. My surprise at what I actually encountered was therefore as great as it was agreeable.

"While the cities show some quaint characteristics, evidence of present day civilization are by no means rare. The resources of the rich interior have scarcely been touched.

"As for the people generally, they have the characteristics of their race. They are good natured, patient and industrious and they receive kindly treatment. As laborers they are thoroughly reliable under the direction of the white men who regard them as human beings and not as mere automatons. Religiously, they are tolerant.

"Reports that have been printed from time to time in the United States of the survival of the African voodoo rites were pronounced by all with whom I talked on the subject, gross exaggerations, or downright falsehoods. Bishop Collins declared that he had investigated some of the stories and had found no evidence of their truth. He believes that they are the concoctions of imaginative correspondents who stopped off for a day or two at one or other of the coast cities.

Ignorance Not Prevalent.
Ignorance is not so prevalent in Hayti as Americans have been led to suppose. Both the government officers and the clergy are doing excellent educational work.

"Training in the mechanical arts is in demand and will naturally increase more and more as the country is developed. Considerable skill already has been attained in the construction of buildings and in the use of the new cathedral in Port Au Prince and by the religious and public edifices elsewhere.

"Since it has become an independent state, Hayti undoubtedly has been retarded industrially, like other countries by too much politics. The recent troubles on this island, however, is largely due to meddling some activity of European speculators, who were anxious to secure concessions to be used for their enrichment. These persons have been and are still envious of the United States.

"Leaders of the Haytians today believe that the only salvation for the country is to be found under the protection of the Monroe doctrine. They have acquired confidence in our usefulness of purpose by observation of our treatment of the nearby island of Cuba."

UNCLE SAM BUYS TOWN LOTS

Interest in the new law, respectively, of the postmasters and the bankers are diverting at least.

In forty states out of the forty-six, only 21 postmasters are represented by their constituents in making applications of the authorized to receive savings. In forty-one states bankers to the number of 622 make applications to have their institutions designated as depositories.

The greatest number of applications applying to Pennsylvania is 11, having thirty, and also the greatest number of banks asking to be made depositories—eighty-six. Its neighbor, New York, is comparatively indifferent, having only twenty postmasters and six banks applying. The middle western states may be said to have come up stronger than any other region, the figures for applications being: Post offices, Ohio, 22; banks, 8; Illinois, post offices, 31; banks, 4; Indiana, post offices, 3; banks, 1; Michigan, post offices, 3; banks, 1; Missouri, post offices, 8; banks, 2; Wisconsin, post offices, 12; banks, 2; Minnesota, post offices, 28; banks, 3; Iowa, post offices, 11; banks, 20; Nebraska, post offices, 3; banks, 20.

The far western states and the southern states seem to be somewhat negligent of their opportunities. Georgia, the so-called empire state of the south, has only two banks and no postoffice applying. The New England states amply supplied with post offices and having more banks and capital to the population than any other part of the country are, likewise refraining from eagerness to adopt the new measure's opportunities. From Massachusetts, for example, come applications from but nine postoffices and sixteen banks; Connecticut, four postoffices and the bank; California is a sample of the far west with seven postoffices and two banks applying.

Will Keep on Inspecting.
Secretary Wilson's meat inspectors will continue to inspect lard substitutes, and not a pound of that article can go into interstate or foreign commerce unless it bears the mark. "United States, Inspected and Passed." This is the other part of an opinion just rendered by Assistant Attorney General Fowler, who is acting as attorney general in the absence of Mr. Wickarham, now on his way to Alaska. Judge Fowler in his opinion holds that lard substitute, which is a cooking compound made of one-fifth animal fat and four-fifths cotton-seed oil, is fairly within the definition of a meat food product and must be inspected under the meat inspection law.

Acting Secretary of Agriculture Says:
"The opinion of the Department of Justice confirms the construction put upon the law by Secretary Wilson. We have inspected lard substitute ever since the meat inspection law passed. We never had any doubt about the matter, but some of the manufacturers of lard substitute thought inspection of their product was not required.

Nevertheless there are those who stentily contend, offering to give chemical proofs, that the addition of cotton-seed oil to lard instead of injures the nutritive value of any food product. This has been, it is urged, proved by the use of cotton-seed oil or cotton-seed flour in making bread and cakes without the use of lard or butter, and quite palatable, too, as well as easily digested.

KERMIT ROOSEVELT IN PARIS
Lured by Cupid Young Man Pays Attention to Miss Rutherford.

SIMPLY QUESTION OF THE HEART
Son of Ex-President to Shoot Game in Scotland, Close to Where Mrs. Vanderbilt's Daughter Will Visit.

PARIS, July 31.—(Special Telegram)—Although young Kermit Roosevelt, the big game hunting son of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, said he was not lured into France upon his present trip by Cupid, he is paying devoted attention to Miss Margaret Rutherford, the charming daughter of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt. Mr. Roosevelt met Miss Rutherford for the first time when he was en route to America with his father, mother and sister. Events that are now presenting themselves seem to show that the young man has lost his heart completely.

Mr. Roosevelt will leave Versailles tomorrow for a brief stay in Rouen, and from there he will go to England. By an odd coincidence, Miss Rutherford went to England several days ago. Miss Rutherford was in Paris when Kermit arrived. He visited a friend in Versailles, but hurried to Paris this week and went to a hotel nearer the Vanderbilt residence, where he has been staying. At the Hotel de La Tremouille, where he has been stopping, he has persistently refused to see newspaper men.

Mr. Roosevelt ostensibly came to Paris to study the French language, a language in which Miss Rutherford is quite proficient. He gallantly denied that he knew Miss Rutherford upon sailing from America, but the interest which the young couple evinced for each other during the visit of Colonel Roosevelt and family at the American embassy here is not yet forgotten.

Mrs. Vanderbilt and her daughter are close friends of Ambassador Bacon and Kermit much time at the embassy. Miss Rutherford has a hope of getting a companion for her first appearance in society here as a bridesmaid at the wedding of her cousin, Muriel White, and Count Herman Scherren-Thos in the spring of 1908. She expected to pass the summer in Scotland and, through another coincidence, Mr. Roosevelt has been invited to spend the summer at a game preserve upon the Scottish moorland by a friend.

Mr. Roosevelt will later go to Constantinople and spend some time sightseeing in Turkey. Some of Roosevelt's friends have jolled him with a hope of getting a companion, but while the son of the former president apparently did not resent the good-natured chaffing, he kept silent.

HEALTH PROMOTERS OF THE WORLD TO MEET IN DRESDEN
Hygienic Exposition to Be One of the Great Events of the Twentieth Century.

DRESDEN, Saxony, July 31.—(Special Telegram)—Health promoters, indorsed by the king of Saxony and the imperial German government, are preparing to inaugurate an international hygienic exposition to be held in this city from next May until October. It is hoped that every country of the civilized world will have a share in the great exposition.

Herr Emil A. Lingner, royal commissioner of the proposed exposition, is now in Washington, D. C. for the purpose of calling the attention of the United States government and the medical fraternity of the United States to this event. Herr Lingner is extending invitations to the federal government of America and to all American physicians attending. The exposition will be one of the great, the greatest, the event of the twentieth century. It will collect scientists from all parts of the world. Every state of the German empire will have exhibits. Twenty-five hundred of the most celebrated medical scientists of Germany have consented to co-operate in the exposition.

Herr Lingner is extending invitations to England and the British dominions, France, Spain, Italy, Greece, Norway, Sweden, Russia, Mexico, South American countries, Japan and others. The Japanese government has already voted $2,000 to defray the expenses of its exhibit. The Japanese exhibit is so interested in fact, that it will include a number of Japanese physicians, scientists and government representatives on board. Bulgaria has appropriated $4,000 for its exhibit and Russia has appropriated nearly $25,000 for its exhibit.

The incident created a big sensation on the crowded street.

NEGRO'S DASH FOILED
Officers at Hand

Robert Davis, a negro, who gave his address as 1411 Cass street, supplied the plot for a drama of exciting incidents last night on Farnam street between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets. He went into the Townsend sporting goods store, 1814 Farnam street, and asked to be shown a gun. He was shown several, but the one he wanted would only be satisfied with the best of the lot. "That'll do, said he, and he made his way out of the shop. As no coin had passed, the assistant who had charge of the deal made after him, but his haste only added to the speed of the thief. He cut into an alley round the corner and the assistant thought the game was lost until he heard the sound of gun play. Officer Anderson and Deputy Sheriff Osborne happened to be passing at the time and seeing the negro running they attempted to stop him. They did not succeed, but they drove him into the arms of Officer Perrie, who was attracted by the shooting and happened to be passing the alley just as Davis was making his dash. He is now confined in the city jail charged with the larceny of the revolver.

The incident created a big sensation on the crowded street.

ANOTHER JOB FOR ROOSEVELT
Former President May be Made Temporary Chairman of New York Republican Convention.

NEW YORK, July 31.—(Special Telegram)—Former President Roosevelt will probably be temporary chairman of the republican convention this fall and will make the keynote speech. Men of all shades of opinion are urging upon Mr. Roosevelt the acceptance of this duty as the prime importance to the party. He has not as yet signified his intention, but it is believed he will yield to the pressure and accept the chairmanship.

Standpat congressmen in various sections of the state are having red-hot fights to secure renomination. While Representative Millington has already won the contest for his seat, set up by Colonel Roosevelt's nephews, Theodore Douglas Robinson, in the Horkheimer district, Representative George Fairbairn in the Otsego-Scholastic-Delaware-Charles L. St. James Vechten Olcott, Walter L. Knapp, James S. Simmons, who wants a renomination, all have hard fights.

FAILS TO FIND ANY FRAUD IN THE SALE OF STOCK SHARES

Judge Woodmansee Issues an Order in the Barones Von Flifuss-Proctor Matter.

CINCINNATI, July 31.—Common Pleas Judge Woodmansee Saturday night gave an unexpectedly early decision in the case of Barones von Flifuss-Proctor, who resisted the issuance of an injunction against the transfer of 100 shares of stock valued at $40,000, which injunction was obtained by attorneys representing her husband, Percy Proctor, of Cincinnati.

Judge Woodmansee dismissed the claim that the stock had been obtained by fraudulent collusion between Joseph De Wyckoff of London, England, and Mrs. Proctor and states that the stock was given by Percy Proctor previous to his marriage to the barones as collateral for a marriage settlement of $40,000.

The court held that the present ownership of the stock is vested jointly in Mr. and Mrs. Proctor and lets the injunction stand until the Proctors have come to some agreement out of court, which he would enforce before giving his final decision in the matter.

Joseph De Wyckoff was given a severe scoring for his claim to ownership of eighty shares of the stock and the claim of a brokerage firm of London for services also dismissed.

Pending a settlement out of court the case goes over to the October session. Attorneys for the barones and Mr. Proctor have made arrangements for a conference next Thursday, it is said.

UNITED STATES ASKS EUROPEAN NATIONS TO AID LIBERIAN CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The United States has invited Great Britain, France and Germany to appoint a representative each to join with a representative of this country in managing the Liberian customs receipts. Owing to its interest in Liberia since its establishment, the United States received a predominance of influence in this control.

It was said at the State department yesterday that the United States has made no departure from its time honored attitude toward the republic, and does not have in mind such a step. Any intention to get a foothold in Africa was denied by prominent officials.

The refunding calls for the loan of about $1,000,000 to the republic. A prominent firm of New York bankers has undertaken the project, and its representative, Paul Warburton, is now in Europe to associate with his firm in the loan British, German and French bankers.

ANOTHER WOMAN COURSED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Black Duck, Minn.—"About a year ago I wrote you that I was sick and could not do any of my household work. My sickness was called Retroflexion. When I would sit down I felt as if I could not get up. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and just as you told me and now I am perfectly cured, and have a big baby by me."

Mrs. ANNA ANDERSON, Box 19, Black Duck, Minn.

Consider This Advice.
No woman should submit to a surgical operation, which may mean death, until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made exclusively from roots and herbs, a fair trial.

This famous medicine for women has for thirty years proved to be the most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women residing in almost every city and town in the United States bear willing testimony to this wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

It cures female ills, and creates radiant, buoyant female health. If you are ill, for your own sake as well as for the sake of your family, give it a trial.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

Black Duck, Minn.—"About a year ago I wrote you that I was sick and could not
