Organization Considers Offering to Temperance Necessary for Harmonious

Governor is More Anxious About Election Than Primary.

APPOINTEE CHANGES FRONT

Bryan Well Satisfied with County Option Pledge, According to Editorial in the Commoner—Defends His Work.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—The Governor, Shallenberger, has started out to deliver the goods to Richard L. Metcalfe.

Thus the evidence is at hand to prove that Mr. Hitchcock has served his usefulness in so far as the governor is concerned and he is ditched.

The activities of the part of the Shallenberger organization for Metcalfe is due to the flood of letters which the chief executive has received since the Grand Island convention urging the nomination of Metcalfe as an olive branch to the temperance element of the party in order to secure harmony at the polls in November. One member of the legislature, who is a candidate for re-election without opposition, has written the governor that it is absolutely necessary to the success of the ticket, if Shallenberger is renominated, for Metcalfe to be the nominee for senator.

Mr. Shallenberger would be to make the ticket too heavy and lose thousands of votes, because of the witness of the head man. He insisted as a personal and political friend of the governor that the strength of his administration and his political organization should be placed behind Metcalfe, and everything possible done to get the democrats to line up for the Bryan candidate.

Many more letters of a similar nature have been received during the last few days and they have had their effect. The governor is now more anxious about the election than he is about the primary, so he is looking for harmony. The letters he has received indicate to him that Metcalfe will be able to bring more strength to the ticket than Hitchcock and so his organization is now working for the nomination of the Commoner associate editor.

One of the governor's appointees, who has heretofore been working for Hitchcock has taken off his coat and gone into the fray for Metcalfe. He is now out in the Fourth district, plugging the voters for the new combination. This man made the statement himself that he was going out to do what he could for Metcalfe. Being a loyal Shallenberger appointee it is not supposed that he would do anything political which did not have the approval of the governor.

That Mr. Bryan is well satisfied with Governor Shallenberger's county option pledge is indicated in the following editorial which will appear in the Commoner tomorrow:

"The Nebraska democratic state convention refused, by a vote of 647 to 138, to endorse county option as a definite for Mr. Bryan. Let all the facts be known: About 1841 Mr. Bryan urged the calling of a special session of the legislature to submit the initiative and referendum. He stated that by the submission of the initiative and referendum the county option fight could be postponed for two years. He failed to announce himself in favor of an endorsement of county option as the only way to break the hold of the liquor interests and insure the submission of the initiative and referendum.

"As a result of his flight the republicans endorsed the initiative and referendum, thus making it certain that it will be submitted at the coming session of the legislature (the democrats and populists also having endorsed it). This is a victory for the reform for which he has contended for fourteen years. He can afford to be turned down on county option if he can make sure of the initiative and referendum.

"But the democratic convention defeated, by a vote of 538 to 202 a plank declaring a plank declaring against county option and Governor Shallenberger announced at the convention that he would sign a county option bill. Since the republicans and populists have declared for county option and the democrats have refused to declare against it the chances are largely in favor of the passage of county option bill. It will be seen, therefore, that Mr. Bryan has reason to rejoice over the progress made in Nebraska. It matters little what is done to him; he can be happy so long as the things he is fighting for win—and they are winning in Nebraska."

Fort Dodge Packing Plant Fire

House Which Began Operations Tuesday After Being Rebuilt—Loss is Total.

FORT DODGE, Ia., Aug. 4.—(Special Telegram.)—The Fort Dodge Corn Belt Packing company's plant, which began operation Tuesday after rebuilding when the plant was destroyed just after completion last Christmas, is again burning. The location of the blaze cannot be found and the fire is gaining great headway, aided by a strong wind. The plant is valued at over $75,000. The cause may be incendiary.

At 1 o'clock the fire had spread to the entire plant and the whole is doomed. The loss will be total. Two theories are advanced for the cause of the fire. One is faulty insulation and the other spontaneous combustion in air felt in the cooling room. An inspector says the latter is improbable, as air felt is used in such plants without danger.

Dynamite was used twice unsuccessfully. The Fort Dodge fire department with a chemical engine is working desperately, but without avail. The plant is two miles from the city.

The office at the opposite end of the doomed property now is burning and President J. J. Ryan states he is certain the fire there is incendiary in origin and this makes suspicion greater about the rest of the plant. The matter will be investigated thoroughly. Mr. Ryan says a little thing like two fires will not prevent rebuilding. The insurance is $50,000.

Swain Who Thinks Darkness Protects Him is Bombarded

An apology: This story is scarcely fit for publication; yet, it goes to show, as many witnesses of history once remarked, "pride goes before a fall."

It happened out at Lake Manawa, a young man from Omaha, who is noted far and wide as a drawing card with the fair sex, was the star actor and it is with his "pride" and with his "fall" that this tale has to deal.

The girl in the case—there's always a girl in it somewhere—was one of the many fair campers. She had annexed the aforementioned young man over in the park and after a season of listening to the soulful music of the band he gallantly proceeded to escort her to her tent.

He thought there was no one watching. Perhaps there wouldn't have been had it not been for the rain; but the rain inconsiderately damped the downy couch in the "lady's room" tent and the flap was wide open and a fall.

To return to the story, the music in the park, the cool breezes wafted from over the lake, in fact, the whole harmony of nature, awakened in the young man that sentimentality which had made him famous.

His arm stole gently 'round her waist. She didn't seem to object. He began to talk—the time was about ripe for a few flowery remarks—and the girl began to listen. "Can't you see I'm crazy 'bout—"

A heavy camp chair fell in the pathway, a shin missed several inches of hide, and a roar from the "gangs" put a complete and lasting "quotation" to the heart-masher's tale of adoration.

VATICAN READY TO RECALL VICO

Papal Nuncio at Madrid Directed to Be in Readiness to Leave on Short Notice.

POPE'S ADVISERS DISCOURAGED

Clericals and Antis Are Preparing to Make Demonstrations.

SAN SEBASTIAN IS FOCAL POINT

Vatican Authorities Believe Spanish Premier, Canalejas, Will Be Compelled to Push Campaign Against Church.

ROME, Aug. 4.—Mar. Vico, the papal nuncio to the Spanish court, was given instructions from the Vatican today to be ready to leave Madrid at a moment's notice in case of an unfavorable issue to the negotiations. This preparation for a complete rupture of diplomatic relations between Spain and the Vatican would indicate that little is hoped from the answer which Cardinal Merry Del Val is now drafting.

Although the Vatican is earnestly trying its best to avoid a complete break with Spain, Cardinal Merry Del Val fears that Senator Canalejas, the Spanish premier, will be forced, in order to satisfy his extremist supporters, to still further accentuate his anti-Catholic policy and the cardinal is preparing for the worst.

The note which will be submitted to the papal congregation of extraordinary affairs will not be given to the press here before its delivery to the Spanish premier at Madrid, to comply with the usual courtesies of diplomatic intercourse.

MADRID, Aug. 4.—A renewed and formal prohibition of the proposed manifestation of the clerical forces at San Sebastian, the summer capital, Saturday was issued today by the minister of the interior. The organizers of the demonstration nevertheless persist in their plans and as the republican leaders are arranging an anti-clerical demonstration at San Sebastian on the same day great apprehension prevails.

The clerical press publishes today further articles of extreme violence against the government. The organizers of the anti-governmental demonstration have, in circular letters to the clergy, urged them to incite their congregations to refuse obedience to the prohibition of the demonstration.

The civil authorities are considering prosecutions of the organizers of the proposed Catholic manifestation and troops are in readiness to enter the summer capital at any moment.

One of the republican faction was wounded with a knife. The police charged the fighting crowds and dispersed them.

BROWNE MUST STAND TRIAL

Court Denies Motion of Illinois Democratic Leader to Dismiss Case.

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Judge Kersten today refused to quash the indictments against Lee O'Neill Browne, democratic minority leader of the Illinois legislature, charging him with purchasing votes for William Lorimer for United States senator. The court deferred judgment on the plea of Browne's counsel that the testimony of Representative Link Meyers and Heckmeyer that they had been paid or offered money for voting for Lorimer be barred from the second trial of Browne. The first trial resulted in a disagreement after the jury had been out 15 hours.

Judge Kersten later announced that his decision regarding the testimony of the other legislators would be rendered when the prosecution sought to put them on the stand.

The first 100 veniremen appeared in court today.

DUMA PRESIDENT IN JAIL

M. Guekhoff Temporarily Resigns to Serve Short Sentence for Duelling.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 4.—Alexander Guekhoff, who temporarily resigned his duties as president of the Imperial Duma in order to serve a sentence of four weeks' imprisonment for fighting a duel with Count Uvaroff, a rival leader in the Parliament, began his term in the fortress of St. Peter and Paul today. In the duel, which was fought November 20, M. Guekhoff, now a private member of the Duma, wounded Count Uvaroff slightly in the shoulder.

WHY WATCH VISITORS.

When he was here and announced his intention to have a day for all kickers on law enforcement, the governor did not indicate that he had a list of witnesses who are to appear. Hence all hands will watch the visitors to the governor tomorrow with more than ordinary interest. The mayor's friends profess to have no concern at all in the matter, but there are those who hint that when the taking of testimony begins things will be brought out to involve the mayor as well as the three republican commissioners concerned.

Friends of the members of the fire and police board now claim they can see the real reason for the governor coming to Omaha to secure evidence against the board. They say that it is an admission of the part of the governor that he has not the evidence against these men which he said he had when he directed the attorney general to begin ouster proceedings. They say he now wants to secure complaints to make good his deficiency, if such a thing is possible.

The Millstone

During the thirty or forty minutes of a conference held by that office Senator Gore testified that he had been approached by Jake L. Hamon, former chairman of the Oklahoma territorial republican committee and also former chairman of the Oklahoma state republican committee, and that he had been offered a bribe of $25,000 or $30,000 to remove certain legislation pending in congress so that $3,000,000 might be paid to J. F. McMurray, an attorney at McAlester, Okl., and his associates.

"Attorney's Fees." The money was to represent "attorney's fees" of 10 per cent of $3,000,000 which was to be secured from a New York syndicate for 4500 acres of coal and asphalt land now owned by the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians in this state.

Vice President Sherman's name was mentioned by Mr. Hamon, Senator Gore testified, as being "interested" in the land deal to the extent of favoring the approval by congress of what is known as the McMurray contract with the Indians.

What happened in another private room in Washington and also where, it was alleged, Hamon made more "overtures" relative to the land deal, was told by Congressman C. E. Creager of the Third Oklahoma district. Congressman Creager supplemented the testimony of Senator Gore. His account sums up the matter as follows:

Creager of the Third Oklahoma district. Congressman Creager supplemented the testimony of Senator Gore. His account sums up the matter as follows:

Having gone there, Mr. Creager testified, he was informed he could have a substantial "interest" in the land deal, if he would withdraw his opposition to the approval of the McMurray contract by congress.

Asked the question: "Were any figures mentioned as to how much you were to receive?" Mr. Creager replied, "No, I did not let it go so far as that. I made it plain I was not open to being influenced in that way."

"Frog Leg" Supporters. On one occasion on record as being firmly opposed to the granting of such an enormous fee to attorneys," Congressman B. S. McGuire, who was charged by Senator Gore as being "interested" in the McMurray contract, was said by Mr. Creager, in his testimony to have been at the time of his visit, an occupant of the same suit of rooms with Hamon and McMurray at the hotel.

Clerks of Senator Gore testified to having been invited by McMurray and Hamon to "frog leg" supper at Washington at which the Indian contracts were to be "talked over."

These invitations, it is declared, were all "turned down."

On one occasion, one of the clerks testified, Hamon said Senator Gore was awfully hard on his friends.

Senator Gore, in his testimony, asserted that the offer of bribery went so far that Hamon said the $25,000 or $30,000 would not be paid over in the form of a check or marked money, but that "it would be all clean, hard cash."

The committee that heard the charges was appointed by McMurray and Hamon, which are declared to have been made by McMurray individually with 10,000 Indians, each of whom agreed to turn over 10 per cent of their profits from the sale of their land, provided the contracts were approved by congress.

The committee headed by Congressman Charles H. Burke of South Dakota, chairman, as composed of Congressman Phillip P. Campbell of Kansas, Charles B. Miller of Minnesota, John H. Stephens of Texas and E. W. Saunders of Virginia. Its initial session was held today.

Congressman Creager's appearance on the witness stand followed a series of charges Gore's sensational statements.

Among Senator Gore's assertions were the following: That Hamon told him that a man higher up in his government was interested in the approval of the contract and therefore, there was no reason why Senator Gore should not be; that when asked who was the man "higher up," Hamon had replied Vice President Sherman.

That Hamon told him Senator Curtis of Kansas was interested in the deal.

That Hamon told him Congressman McGuire of Oklahoma was "interested" in the deal.

That Hamon told him that an employee of the department of justice at Washington "was interested" in the deal; that he (Senator Gore) knew the name of the employee, but would not divulge his name, or the name of his informant especially because the latter would lose his position.

That former Senator Long of Kansas, acting as counsel for McMurray had gone to President Taft on April 28, to urge the approval of the contract; but that the president had said "it would take a good deal of argument to convince him that the amount of fee asked by McMurray was justified."

Senator Curtis today sent a telegram to the committee denying that he was in any way interested in the contracts and offering as quickly as possible to the surface. (Lately opening the "conor," they found Fairry unconscious, but still breathing. All efforts to rescue him failed.
