The handsome houseboat constructed a year ago by Dr. Montgomery of Council Bluffs and sold this season to Guy Grant of Omaha, sank in the anchorage in Lake Superior Sunday afternoon. The boat was one of the most expensive and luxuriously furnished of the lake. A considerable mystery has been attached to the mystery that sent it to the bottom, for there was no accident whatever and no cause could be traced for the sinking. The trouble will not be divulged until the boat is raised. The boat went down in about eight feet of water in front of the boat clubhouse.

Judge O. D. Wheeler has returned from a two week's vacation in Minnesota. A greater part of which time was spent in the vicinity of the great fishing resorts. Judge Wheeler returned to tell his stories, although challenged by County Treasurer Mitchell to beat one he is achieving a record in the courts. Judge Wheeler said he would have been prepared to tell a real story about the fishing in Minnesota had not interfered to prevent the production of the proof. Of the hundreds of pounds of salmon which he had speared, he cannot ship home a single one to vindicate himself.

George P. Foster of Washington D. C., organizer of the International Steel and Copper Pikers' union in the North America, was in Council Bluffs yesterday calling upon Congressman Walter L. Smith. It was this union which has been the subject of a heavy indictment at the annual meeting held in Washington last winter in connection with the prosecution of the interests of the members, particularly in relation to the betterment of the more than 2,000 members of the national currency. Mr. Foster is on his way to Minneapolis, where some organization work is to be done. Nothing of the character is required here for the reason that there are no plate printing establishments in this part of the country. He stopped in Council Bluffs solely to shake hands with the Iowa congressman.

Fred Walter and George Tucker, the two young men who became involved in a stabbing affray in the Northwestern yards on Friday, when Tucker stuck his pocket knife into Walter's friend, were arraigned in police court yesterday morning. Each returned to prosecute the other on the serious charges that had been preferred and told Judge Snyder that they had been together working in the Kansas harvest fields and threshing for two months, and that it was the whiskey they got there that came to Council Bluffs that caused all of the trouble. One had $10 and the other $5. They had given a young Congressman an order for $50, which was not present when they were arraigned, and the court fined them $25. Why they were ready to go all they had saved from their summer's work was also gone. But the charges such had preferred against the other was of such serious character that their freedom was probably purchased at a low price.

MRS. TETAN FILLS STOVE WITH BLAZE BURNING Mechanism Out of Order and She Suffers Serious Injury as Result. Mrs. Clarice Tetan, 23 Logan street, was severely burned at her home Sunday evening while attempting to light a gasoline stove. Mrs. Tetan was filling the stove reservoir from a closed gasoline can operated by a pump, which became temporarily stopped and in trying to force it the lid suddenly came with a noise, splashing steam her apron and dress. It flashed into flame from a small jet still burning on the stove, enveloping her in flames from head to foot. Her brother, C. E. Adams, and her husband were present, but before they succeeded in smothering the fire with blankets, Mrs. Tetan's clothing was completely burned from her body. She was severely burned about the arms, face and hands. Her injuries are very serious but are not believed to be fatal. Both of the men were naturally burned.

Council Bluffs PROPERTY OWNERS DONATE Will Give Thousand Dollars to Open Vine Street.

COMMITTEE OF WHOLE TO DECIDE Repaving of Broadway and South Main Brought Forward and Finally Laid Over Again for Week.

The proposition to open Vine street through the block between Bryant and North Main street was presented to the city council last night in a tangible form, when Attorney Emmet Tinley submitted an offer from the property owners directly interested to donate $1,000 toward paying for the improvement. Mr. Tinley spoke of the necessity of rendering more streets available for business purposes if the policy of the expansion of the business center is to be continued, and stated that the slight improvement would make North Main street a new business thoroughfare. It will also connect Vine and Mynster streets, which now end abruptly. He stated that the improvement would cost about $4,000, which would include the purchase of all the frontage on Bryant street to the central fire station, a distance of 125 feet, thus throwing all of the city's holdings on that street into one body.

The new street will take sixteen feet of the city's present holdings and the remainder of the forty feet required from the 125 feet referred to. The only other property to be condemned is a single lot on North Main street. He also stated that the Eagles were to begin in a few days the construction of a $60,000 building, which would have a frontage on the new street. The matter was referred to the committee of the whole to be decided on Thursday. Before it was disposed of, Alderman Fisher suggested that the proposition to extend First avenue through to Fourth street, at a cost of about $20,000, be also included, but it was not received favorably.

The city engineer reported that a tabulation of all bids on paving indicated that E. A. Wickham was lowest and the contract recently advertised were awarded him. Two Chiefs Get Trip. Chief of Police Froom and Chief of the Fire Department Nicholson were granted leave of absence to attend the annual convention of the fire department at Des Moines and the latter at Syracuse, N. Y., and they were allowed $50 and $100 respectively for their personal expenses.

The judiciary committee reported favorably upon the proposition to buy the O. M. Hall tract of land at the south end of Hixson street, at a cost of $400, which will prevent the street from being closed at that point. Early in the proceedings a large and effulgent ray of sunshine was poured into the council chamber in the shape of a resolution from the West Council Bluffs Improvement club detailing the necessity for new new club in the central business section of the town, and asking the council to require the railroads to immediately begin the construction of a union passenger station to cost not less than $100,000. The council acted and placed it on file. The club also asked for an order requiring the gas company to lay mains throughout the western part of the city and thus prevent the use of dangerous gasoline stoves. This was also received and filed. The proposition for a new station on the line for the construction of sidewalks long since ordered was fully considered and the decision reached that the work should be done at the earliest possible moment.

Repeating Problem. The repaving of Broadway and South Main street was brought forward by an improvement resolution requiring property owners to remove the rough granite blocks and lay Galesburg block on a concrete foundation. The disposition was manifest to approve the resolution by a unanimous vote when Alderman Fisher asked to have it laid over for a week while a scheme for lessening the cost by using the matter by a base was examined and it was reluctantly agreed to. The resolution calls for the repaving of Broadway from the Methodist church to the Northwestern depot and Main street from Broadway to the intersection with Pearl.

"It's a shame at any time and it's a worse shame in such times as these to require any man to work two days for $2," said Mayor Malone, calling attention to the practice of permitting men to work less than one day at a time. Property owners on Benton street were granted permission to lay cement sidewalks on the grade established many years ago upon petition submitted by W. H. Lyndard and others. Proposition to ventilate the city buildings by a device made by the Eagle Ventilating company was referred to the committee on city property, Gus Hinrichs and others asked permission to reconstruct the sidewalk on Broadway near Seventh street in front of their property to prevent overflows and it was referred to the committee of the whole and city engineer.

Council Bluffs Meteor Causes Astronomers to Talk of the Air Strange Sunday Visitor Said to Have Been Bolidé Which Glanced Off from Earth's Atmosphere.

Echoes from the jarring disturbance caused by the enormous bolide that passed over here Sunday afternoon continue to come in. A terrifying meteor more than 100 miles wide and several hundred miles long felt the disturbance at the same moment, and the reports that have been gathered indicate that the violence of the concussion was about equal to the violence of the flight. The course of the meteor was from the southeast to the northwest, and from the fact that the jar was felt as far as Atlantic on the east and Fremont, Neb., on the west, and from these extreme points the concussion seemed to come from a high in the sky, indicates that the aerolite was of such huge proportions and was moving with such great velocity that its impact was enormous, when it dashed into the thin atmosphere at a great altitude. In fact the angle at which it struck the earth could not have been nearer than fifty miles above the surface, and the apparent flatness of the angle of contact may have permitted the flying missile only to strike a glancing blow, and scatter and continue its flight in the space.

At Neola, twenty-two miles east of Council Bluffs, the jar caused poorly propped windows to fall. At Malvern ditches were rattled and clock pendulums sent bumping against the cases. Rev. Henry DeLong, who at West Liberty, holding religious services and the concussion started the congregation and made the building quiver. The same reports came from Hamburg, twenty-five miles south, and Magnolia, thirty-five miles north.

A Council Bluffs man, who has continued his scientific studies after leaving college and specialized somewhat in astronomy, pronounced the jarring sound to be the crash of a meteor against the upper air. "The meteor was one of the bolides of wandering through space and a large enough to be admitted into the bolide class," said he. "I do not believe it struck the earth, for the reports appear to indicate that the origin of the sound was rising as the reverberation died away. It was certainly an enormous mass, traveling with a velocity of at least fifty miles a second, or 2,400 miles a minute, more than 2,000 times faster than a Krag rifle bullet. It is even possible to determine its weight and dimensions, although it may now be several million miles away from the earth."

"The heaviest bolide that ever came into contact with the earth's atmosphere of which we have any record, was reported in August, 1861, and the disturbance was quite similar to this and affected a territory of 1,600 miles in extent, extending westward from Massachusetts. A number of years after an Amherst astronomer collected the data establishing the angle the vibrations reached the earth and thus fixed its altitude, and with this and convenient data determined its weight and velocity. His computations showed it to have been twenty-five miles in diameter and its speed nearly fifty miles a second. If it had hit the earth it would have penetrated hundreds of miles and made a hole more than twenty-five miles wide, from which the molten interior of the earth would have gushed, destroying thousands of miles of the American continent's surface."

"The aerolites are very heavy, composed of iron and nickel of almost the same proportions of the Carnegie armor plate. Most of the meteors are very small—mere comets, and have any record, was reported in August, 1861, and the disturbance was quite similar to this and affected a territory of 1,600 miles in extent, extending westward from Massachusetts. A number of years after an Amherst astronomer collected the data establishing the angle the vibrations reached the earth and thus fixed its altitude, and with this and convenient data determined its weight and velocity. His computations showed it to have been twenty-five miles in diameter and its speed nearly fifty miles a second. If it had hit the earth it would have penetrated hundreds of miles and made a hole more than twenty-five miles wide, from which the molten interior of the earth would have gushed, destroying thousands of miles of the American continent's surface."

"Any sharp-eyed observer will find that he can see on an average twenty meteors an hour on any clear night. It is estimated that 2,000 tons of meteoric matter falls upon the earth each twenty-four hours. The meteoric phenomena will be very brilliant for the next few days. The earth is just beginning its annual passage through the orbit of a broken-up comet and on August 12 will be in the thickest part of it. If the sky is free from clouds and the atmosphere clear Friday night a very brilliant display may be expected, and the comet will be almost in the proportions of a shower of stars. August meteors are often heavier, but not so numerous as the November swarm, when the earth goes through the remnants of Biel's comet."

Rockefeller is Caught Scorching Village Constable Pleased with Treatment at Hands of Oil Magnate Upon Visit to Home.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 8.—John D. Rockefeller is slated to appear in a justice court tomorrow morning to answer a summons charging him with breaking the speed laws with his automobile. The millionaire was caught in a speed trap last Thursday by Constable H. H. Bilkey of the little village of South Belknap, Bilkey says. Constable Bilkey found by his stop watch that Mr. Rockefeller was driving at a speed of thirty miles an hour. Mr. Rockefeller received Constable Bilkey personally, accepted service of the summons and promised to appear before Justice J. W. Dean tomorrow morning. Then he sent the constable home in triumph in a carriage, assuring him, Bilkey says, that he thoroughly appreciated his courteous way of doing business.

Taft WILL PROTECT INDIANS Prosecution to Reclaim Title to Vast Areas in Oklahoma Planned. WILL NULLIFY LITTLE "JOKER" Clause Written into Bill at Late Hour Approved from Necessity—Grants Appeal from Decision.

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 8.—A vigorous prosecution to reclaim title to a vast amount of Indian land in Oklahoma is being planned by the Department of Justice for the coming autumn. One of the principal actions in prospect is to overcome the effect of an ingenious "joker" which was written into the Indian appropriation bill just before that measure was handed to the president for his signature. The "joker" was discovered by Solicitor General Bowers, but it was agreed between the president and Mr. Bowers that it was too late to send the bill back to congress and that a means of nullifying the "joker" should be devised. This "joker," which is now a law, granted the right of appeal to the United States supreme court in a case involving over 300 Indian contracts, which had been decided in favor of the government by the court of appeals of the eighth district. As the matter had been taken into the circuit court on a demurrer the defendants had no right of appeal to the supreme court. It is the belief of the government officials that the authority to appeal was sought and secured, not with any idea that the case might be won in the court of final resort, but simply to gain a delay of a year or eighteen months. This belief is based on the fact that the lands involved in this case are practically all coal and oil lands and every day that passes they are being stripped of these natural resources as fast as the coal can be mined and the oil pumped.

Will Apply for Receiver. The plan to offset this move by the possessors of the land is to apply to the United States court in Oklahoma for a receiver for the lands just as soon as the act is passed. In this way the court will exercise full control over all the operations and secure the benefits to the final successful litigants. In investigating the contracts by which it is contended the Indians have been defrauded of the lands, it is said that the Department of Justice officers have unearthed a startling condition of affairs involving many well known persons, which will come out fully when the cases are heard. The government is fighting to have the lands and every day that passes they are being stripped of these natural resources as fast as the coal can be mined and the oil pumped.

Indians Only Granted Citizenship. The government is preparing a novel answer to this suit. It will be contended that while Indians may have been granted the right of citizenship under the United States laws, they do not become citizens of the United States until they are naturalized, and that the jurisdiction of the United States and of the states in which they reside, it will be claimed, the Indians were not under the jurisdiction of the United States, but under the tribal jurisdiction. The United States deals with the tribes, but never with the individuals. The outcome of this contention will be watched with particular interest.

President Taft has told several of his callers recently that he was fully acquainted with Vice President Sherman's attitude as to the Indian contract cases involved in the pending Oklahoma investigation and that he had no objection to the fourth amendment provisions that persons born in, and under, the jurisdiction of the United States are naturalized, were citizens of the United States and of the states in which they reside. It will be claimed that the Indians were not under the jurisdiction of the United States, but under the tribal jurisdiction. The United States deals with the tribes, but never with the individuals. The outcome of this contention will be watched with particular interest.

Woodruff Thinks Direct Nominations Will Be Lost in Shuffle. BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 8.—Timothy L. Woodruff, republican state chairman of New York, talks politics with President Taft for more than two hours and a half today. Mr. Woodruff is optimistic over the outlook in New York state, and declares that a compromise will be reached just before the primary election. He is particularly optimistic about the prospects of a republican victory in the coming campaign in fighting for the "direct" primary system has not been stated. President Taft stated his position anew today. He also believes in the convention plan, but he may try to gain.

Duke from Land of Bull Fights is Scared in Gotham Watches Street Fight, Sees Man Die and is Attacked by Brother by Mistake.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The Duc De Montpensier, uncle of the king of Portugal, and brother to the French pretender, went out to see the sights tonight—and he saw them. The duke's pilot was leading him towards "Hell's Kitchen," but when they were half a mile from the place a gang fight sprang up. Just in time for the duke to see as much of it as he cared to from the shelter of a protecting doorway. When the smoke of thirty revolver shots cleared, one man lay writhing on the pavement and another leaped to the nearest corner and fell. Uncertain figures could be seen hurrying off with the less seriously wounded. It was vastly interesting and when the police arrived too late to make more than two arrests, he voted to stay till the party broke up. So he and his guide went to the nearest police station whether the two prisoners and the wounded were first taken. Preparations for an antemortem statement were just beginning when the more gravely wounded of the two stood up and cursed the police. "I'll tell you nothing," he said, swore and then fell dead, struck with convulsions.
