Subscribers leaving the city temporarily should have The Bee mailed to them. Address will be changed as often as requested.

PHAW, we let dog days get by without knowing it.

Several jack-potters in Illinois seem to be still standing pat.

Assassin Gallagher's repentance should have preceded his bullet.

The entire country rejoices at the hopeful condition of Mayor Gaynor.

Every time Senator Aldrich talks up Senator Bristow yells "Rubber" at the crowd.

It is against the political, not the religious, influence of the church that Spain rebels.

The lack of getting a jury to try Lee O'Neill Brown must be due to the record of the first one.

It is astonishing how gentle these political bees are. They seldom sting fatally until after election.

No wonder the suffragettes are down on cigarettes. Too good a chance at rhyming to miss.

In spite of over-zealous reformers, the cause of good government continues to make steady headway.

Another advantage Mr. Rockefeller finds in bathing in whisky is that he does not get the suds in his eyes.

Folks who complain that their city lacks civic pride should not drop waste paper on the public thoroughfares.

Still, all those bleeding champions of the people continue to take their share of the Chastanqua gate receipts.

Why all this hubbub against the smokesacks? Do men want to monopolize the smoke nuisance themselves?

Those thirty-five Columbus policemen who refused to board street cars during a strike would be better off the force than on it.

As governor of Nebraska, A. E. Cady would be a credit, not only to the republican party, but to the people of the whole state.

No question is ever settled until settled right. That is why we cannot say which has the best watermelons, Georgia or Missouri.

Just imagine Mayor "Jim" in the governor's chair representing the official dignity of a great state like Nebraska. It is to laugh.

The size of those "attorney's fees" mentioned in the McMurray case is enough to make the average lawyer turn green with envy.

The best way for Omaha to rebuke Governor Shallenberger is to nominate Cady for governor and then elect him over the democratic double-dealer.

It is needless for men to discuss "Occupations for Women" so long as women are finding lucrative employment in about every field man is in.

The Beauty of Old Age.

As a rule people mellow with age. As experience ripens into knowledge animosities should fade into charity and love and wisdom deepen. It is often impossible to ward off infirmity, but neither age nor infirmity need mean decrepitude and age need not mean unhappiness.

Reminiscence is a concomitant of age, but it is no warrant for that narrow fallacy that the "good old times" were the best and the old person who can get away from this delusion can be happier with less effort than the one who lives entirely in the yesterday of life.

Penalty for Assassination.

Congress has made punishable by death an assault upon the life of the president, whether it be successful or not and it has been suggested that the law be made to apply to similar attacks upon mayors and governors.

Mexico's Centennial.

Mexico will celebrate the 100th anniversary of its independence on September 15, and it proposes to make the day an epoch in its career. It will naturally be that, for it will mark the close and beginning alike of the most eventful periods of Mexican history.

The Private Loan Grant.

The inquiry into Senator Gore's charges of attempted bribery has served to emphasize a form of graft which is too common, if not generally understood on the outside.

Problem in Physical Culture.

When John G. Carlisle died at the age of 75 it was recalled that he never took more physical exercise than duty required; never even walked when he could avoid it.

It is a matter of temperament, then, or of habit? Does one nervous system demand so much real physical exertion each day and another none, or are people shaped in these things by their habits in youth?

But while Diaz has ruled for these thirty-three years more like a monarch than a president, he has done more for Mexico, while embodying in himself the national spirit and the national life.

Hit or Miss.

For the guidance of republicans who are not acquainted with the personalities and relative strength of the different candidates for nomination in the coming primary, The Bee is printing a list, which, when taken together, will in its judgment make the strongest ticket to go before the people in the election.

The Rewards of Politics.

Talk as much as we may about popular rule and the duty each citizen owes to interest himself in politics for the public good, the fact remains that the exertion of political activity is as a rule inspired by the desire to earn the right to political recognition.

Church Calls for Men.

The Protestant church is calling loudly for "men" to go into the ministry. Seminaries are unable to supply the demand.

Teaching Honesty Lacks Emphasis.

An examination of the testimony given before Master in Chancery Rowell B. Mason in the Illinois Central railroad case suggests that political corruption may be only an offshoot of a wider commercial dishonesty.

Out for the Loot.

It is pretty evident either that the McMurray gang was trying to do the Indiana by hook and by crook, or else that there was plenty of loose talk from which one could justly infer that a great piece of "business" was on.

Our Birthday Book

Ernest Thompson Seton, nature story teller, was born August 14, 1860, in England. To avoid confusion he changed his name from Ernest Seton Thompson to Ernest Thompson Seton.

Railroad Lawyers and the Law.

A wholesome change of attitude on the part of railroad lawyers is indicated by the fact that sixty-five of them have been in conference for several days over the new railroad regulation act.

How to Make the Fat Comfortable in Summer

If you are fat and have difficulty in breathing or walking or eating and if you find that the heat is exhausting to you during the heated term you will be interested in knowing that there is a new fat-removing prescription now being prepared in tablet form and that one of these little tablets after each meal will reduce your fat by 12 to 15 ounces per day.

French Vichy Water from Vichy, France is only one of over 100 kinds of Mineral Waters we sell. We buy direct from Springs or importer and are in position to make low prices and guarantee freshness and genuineness.

variations of this evil are numerous. It is possible, for instance, for transfers of stocks and securities to be made under the cover of an investment, when, as a matter of fact, it is nothing but a bribe.

SECULAR SHOTS AT PULPIT.

St. Louis Republic: A Massachusetts clergyman expresses the belief that base ball will be played in heaven. Of course, we are all convinced that the members of the home team have an excellent prospect of going there, but—well, how could a game be played up there without any umpires?

SERMONS BOILED DOWN.

It's no use trying to be a grateful grubber. Heavenly love is more than a love for heaven. Originality is the original sin, according to the bigot.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE.

The New York rule requiring bread to be sold by the pound is a cruel knock at the art of putting blowholes under the crust. The preacher who intimated that base ball may be played in heaven evidently thinks that talenders are not beyond redemption.

Step by Step. Heaven is not reached at a single bound; but we build the ladder by which we rise from the lowly earth to the vaulted skies. And we mount to its summit, round by round.
