BASE BALL RULING IS MADE

Club Releasing Player Without Notifying Those Having Option on Services Responsible for Salary. Services Responsible for Salary.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 18.—After declaring Ernest B. Lusa, formerly a player on the rolls of the New York and St. Louis National league teams and on the Troy team of the National Baseball commission today promulgated the following ruling:

"If a player is released by a minor league club without notifying the club having an option on his services they are responsible for his salary until he gets another engagement. If they do notify the club holding the option that they are to release the player and do not hear from that club within three days they will be permitted to release the player outright." within three days they will be permitted to release the player outright."

Lush was released to the Troy club by New York last May, was attacked by rheumatism and later released by Troy. New York then claimed him and pending a decision by the commission he signed the St. Louis National league team.
