

Nebraska FRUIT AND FLOWERS EXHIBIT

State Fair Will Furnish Much of Interest to See.

CANDIDATES FILING EXPENSES

Kinkaid Leads in Amount, as His Campaign Cost Him Almost Five Hundred Dollars.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 23.—Despite the fact the present season has been one of the most satisfactory for the production of fruit in a great part of the state, the horticultural exhibits at the coming state fair promise to be up to the usual high standard.

Secretary Marshall of the State Horticultural society, which organization has charge of these exhibits, is now receiving entries for fruits and flowers, and the present indications are that the exhibits this year will surpass those of some seasons when the state produced a full crop of fruit.

Although some of the usually large exhibitors from the central and northern parts of the state will not exhibit this year on account of a very light fruit crop in those sections, southern and southeast Nebraska will be represented with larger and more complete exhibits. Good exhibits are promised from counties in this part of the state that have not shown fruit at the state fair for several years.

Entries for the florists' productions to fill the spaces usually devoted to such exhibits, have already been received. Among them will be carolite lots from Fremont, Omaha, Beatrice and Falls City.

Nominations in Lancaster.

Following are the nominees in Lancaster county so far, as shown by the official canvass:
Representatives—Republicans, John Mook-ett, Frank McKelvie, Minor, Blasco and Earl Eganer; Democrats, John E. Miller, Allen, I. H. Hatfield, Mills and Dale.
Senators—Republican, E. P. Brown, T. A. Sebeck; Democrats, R. T. Chambers, Albert Watkins.

County Attorney—Republican, J. B. Brode. Democrat, W. M. McCarty.
County Superintendent—Republican, O. H. Morris. Democrat, E. C. Kemmler.
No instances against Florence.

The supreme court has denied the application of George W. Hadlock for an injunction against the city officials of Florence to prevent them from collecting for paving the main streets of the little city. Hadlock filed his suit in the district court of Douglas county and being denied his writ there appealed to the supreme court. The case was argued today and the court denied the injunction.

Expense of Candidates.

Expense accounts of candidates at the primaries have begun to pour in upon the secretary of state. Some do not include the legal filing fee and others do include it. Some include traveling expenses, which are specifically excluded under the law, and others report traveling expenses. Congressman Kinkaid, republican candidate for re-nomination, leads far in expenditures. He spent $459.05. A. D. Anderson, republican candidate, who failed to get the nomination for attorney general, says he spent $199. The following are the expenses reported by candidates: E. B. Cowles, $5.70; Grant Martin, $33.80; A. T. Gatewood, McCook, $35.75; William G. Brooks, for railroad commissioner, $34.55; R. C. Rogerson, for lieutenant, $10 as filing fee; James P. Latta, democratic candidate for congress in the Third district, $10 filing fee and no other expenses whatever; F. J. Sadlek of Wilber, for state treasurer, $81.50; B. A. Lewis, congress, Second district, $9.25; George Hall of Franklin, democratic candidate for state treasurer, $66.67; Thomas M. C. Birmingham, prohibition, populist and republican candidate for United States senator, $75 of which $10 was spent by the prohibition state committee; John A. Maguire of Lincoln, democratic candidate for congress, $37.84; Harry B. Fleharty, democrat, Second congressional district, $33.25; H. T. Clark, republican candidate for state commissioner, $33.33; J. F. Boyd, republican, Third congressional district, $19.82, including $10 filing fee; Ben H. Hayden, Lincoln, democratic candidate for railway commissioner, $64.80; C. K. Oyer, socialist candidate, First congressional district, $19.

Governor Cancels Dates.

Owing to the bad condition of his knee, which he recently injured, Governor Shal-berger has been compelled to cancel all of his speaking engagements. Some two weeks ago the governor slipped on the steps at the Burlington station in Omaha and injured his knee. At the time he paid little attention to the member but kept on with his campaign. A few days later it began to pain him, but over the advice of his physicians he kept on working. At this time the knee is badly inflamed and his doctors this morning ordered him to desist from any speech making or traveling, assuring him that unless he gave his knee complete rest the hurt may result in permanent damage.

Treasurer Buys State Bonds.

State Treasurer Shal-berger has today water bonds issued by the city of Sutton amounting to $25,000. To secure the money to buy the bonds it was necessary for Sutton to dispose of that amount of Douglas county bonds. The Sutton bonds will net the state 4 1/2 per cent interest annually.

Committee Not Selected.

William Husemeyer, chairman of the republican state committee, left for his home this morning without announcing the members of the executive committee which he was authorized to appoint. Mr. Husemeyer has selected a tentative committee, but will consult with C. H. Aldrich, nominee for governor, and other candidates before announcing the list. He said he would appoint Editor VanDusen of Blair as a member of the committee from the Second district.

Governor's Clerk Gets Sick.

C. C. Husted, recording clerk in the office of the governor, is confined to his home, having been taken ill this morning. Mr. Husted has been very busy lately, working in the office of the executive, and that, together with the intense heat of the last few days is supposed to have been too much for him.

FREMONT OFFICERS INTERESTED

Methods of Alleged Swindler at Indianapolis Like Those of Kline.

FREMONT, Neb., Aug. 23.—(Special.)—Fremont police officers are watching the case of J. W. Kline, arrested at Indianapolis, Ind., on charge of operating a land swindle. The name is that of a smooth crook who last spring fleeced John O'Connor, ex-county register of deeds of $3,000 on a fake deed to some Dodge county land. The Indianapolis man was caught in connection with the arrest of Walter Neal, who tried to work a similar game on an Indiana firm. The similarity of the swindle as well as the coincidence of the names leads the officers to believe that the Kline may be the man wanted here. During his Dodge Nebraska county operations, Kline went under the name of Harry G. Fisher.

LINCOLN WANTS HARRY SMITH

Attempt Made to Buy Crack Pitcher from Fremont.

FREMONT, Neb., Aug. 23.—(Special.)—Lincoln base ball backers are out strong for Harry Smith, the crack Fremont pitcher, who has been winning games for the Pathfinders in the State league. The Lincoln men now have made a flat offer for Smith, announcing their willingness to trade Bennett and Turpin. Both of these men are at present loaned to Fremont. Bennett being manager.

The Fremont management is loth to part with Smith and the fans are even more of that opinion. He could not be released without incurring the displeasure of the fans, who believe that Fremont has a cinch on the pennant with Smith remaining on the pitching staff. It may be that Smith will be released to Lincoln at the close of the State league series, September 13. This would give him some time before the close of the Western league in which he could play with Lincoln.

DEGRADING A FRENCH SOLDIER

Form of Punishment Meted Out to Private Convicted of Crime.

"Georges Marie Graby, you are unworthy to bear arms." This short, sharp sentence was heard in the barracks square on the Boulevard Mortier on the eastern extremity of Paris at 8 a. m. Graby, the murderer of Mme. Gouin, the widow of the well known banker, to whom these words were addressed, appeared in the uniform of the ordinary infantry private, rather smarter than most of his fellows, but looking deathly white.

Two minutes later he was marched back to the barracks with his uniform in rags, his back bent, his head hanging low, a sorry looking piece of humanity. A military degradation in France, carried out in accordance with the exact regulations of the law, is always an impressive though essentially sad spectacle.

It was not surprising, therefore, that a large crowd gathered near the Porte des Lilas this morning soon after daybreak, having heard the announcement that the degradation was for 8 o'clock this morning.

Special detachments of all the services represented in the garrison of Paris were on parade, and at 8 o'clock, at trumpet call, they formed a hollow square. The colonel in command gave the order "Shoulder arms!" and then Graby was seen coming from one of the buildings, marching slowly but with some composure with a guard of four infantrymen.

The guard accompanied him to the middle of the square, presented arms and then made three steps backward, leaving Graby in a shameful attitude, the cynosure of neighboring eyes. The officers were drawn up on horseback in front of him. The colonel gave orders to the bugler and once more the high notes rang out.

Then a sergeant stepped up to within a pace of Graby and read out the judgment of the court-martial condemning Graby to death and the presidential decree commuting this sentence.

The proclamation began "In the name of the French people," and the sergeant concluded by making the usual announcement: "This judgment has been read aloud before the condemned man and before the troops assembled under arms." At this Colonel Lepalleu, who had dismounted, stepped up and addressed Graby: "Graby, you are unworthy to bear arms; in the name of the law we degrade you."

The adjutant then tore away the buttons from the uniform, the strap from the kepi and all other decorations, including the epaulettes. The bugle was heard once more and the same four privates who had led Graby out of the barracks led him back again.—London Standard.

SMOKE IN WESTERN NEBRASKA

Strong Odor of Burning Wood is Noticeable in Big Fires.

NORFOLK, Neb., Aug. 23.—All of northern Nebraska from the western edge of the state, 300 miles east to Norfolk is enveloped in an atmosphere of heavy smoke, with a strong odor of wood smoke, which old foresters declare is from forest fires. It is believed to have come from the Idaho and Montana forest fires. At O'Neill a warm wave lasting thirty minutes is reported to have accompanied the smoke's arrival.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 23.—Governor Gillett today issued the call for a special session of the legislature to convene September 6 to raise $2,000,000 by bonding the state for the benefit of the Panama Pacific exposition at San Francisco in 1915, provided congress designate the state metropolis as the exposition city.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

City Council Fixes General Levy at Nine and One-Half Mills.

The South Omaha city council cut its special session short last night on account of the intense heat and did nothing more than was absolutely necessary which was the recommendation of the general levy ordinance for the ensuing year. The ordinance provides for an assessment of 9.5 mills to produce a revenue of about $360,000 which is to be expended to pay the annual expenses of the city government. The committee of the whole committee to which the ordinance was referred, reported on the matter, fixing the levy and the ordinance was then placed on second reading. This ordinance represents a raising of the levy nearly one mill on the present valuation.

A special session of the council will be called for this afternoon when the ordinances will be read the third time and passed. The funds for the present fiscal year will then become available.

Stockmen for the Excursion.

The annual excursion to Cheyenne from the South Omaha Live Stock exchange will comprise about fifty of the South Omaha commission men, together with prominent officials of the Union Stock Yards company and the South Omaha packers. These men will leave Thursday at 6 p. m. in company with the large delegation from Omaha and the parties which occupy the four live private cars belonging to the high officials of the western railroads. The men will be provided with dining car service sufficient for the entire train. A. F. Stryker, secretary of the National Live Stock exchange, has contracted with the western man for "cool weather." The party will be provided with plenty with advertising matter to convince the stockmen that South Omaha offers them the most advantageous market.

Big Market Monday.

Thirty-two thousand sheep and 10,000 cattle were handled easily yesterday at the South Omaha market. This large consignment of stock equalled any previous day during the year. The market was especially heavy. The large numbers were handled the market slightly and the prices eased off 10 to 15 cents in consequence. Good, fat stuff sold at steady prices.

The increase of cattle to date is 71,000-head for the year's receipts. The large run yesterday had little effect on prices. All good stock found a ready sale.

Cholera Experiment Near End.

Only three pigs out of the eight which were placed in the pens unprotected against the cholera which had a firm hold on the four original pigs remained alive Monday morning. Two of the remaining three are in a dying condition and the last signs of succumbing to the fatal maldy. It was considered very fortunate that the thief who stole one of these pigs took the one which was not treated with the anti-toxin serum. But fortunately the eighteen pigs treated with the anti-toxin are all well and all are as fat and healthy as on the day they were placed in the pen. Had one of these been stolen there would have been a serious break in the evidence in favor of the serum method of treatment.

Mrs. Nell B. Miller Overcome.

Mrs. Nell B. Miller, wife of Arthur C. Miller, was overcome with heat about 4 p. m. Monday while at work as clerk at the Union Pacific freight depot, Twenty-seventh and O streets. She is a clerk in the depot under her husband, who is chief clerk. She is a woman of about 30 to 35 years. She was apparently well a few moments before she was taken to collapse over her work. The cause of her illness was at once suspected and Dr. Kelly was called. She was given temporary treatment at the depot and removed to her home at 211 North Twenty-second street in an

CROPS ARE ALL DOING FINE

Reports from Several Different Sections Are Good.

BEETS AND POTATOES ARE BETTER

Farmers Expect to Get Good Price for These, as There is Shortage in Other Sections of the Country.

Crops in eastern Colorado and western Nebraska are in fine shape, according to J. F. Valley, general agent of the Burlington in Denver. He came from Denver to Omaha Tuesday and said that everything looked in the best of condition along the road.

"Sugar beets are doing finely and the potato crop promises to be good. As the crops in Michigan and Minnesota were small the farmers will get a good price for them. Grain and hay crops are only doing fairly well there, but nearly 50 per cent of the average crop ought to be harvested."

L. W. Wakeley, general passenger agent of the Burlington in Omaha, figures that the corn crop of Nebraska will be 300,000,000 bushels if the fair weather keeps up and at the very least 190,000,000 bushels should be harvested, by his estimate, based on the Burlington reports.

Big Oats Crop.

O. McKelby, a Nebraska farmer near Fairfield, has the prize field of oats for this year, a crop of 5,355 bushels having been raised by him on sixty-two acres of land. This means that an average amount of seventy bushels to the acre was harvested, which is one of the heaviest crops of this grain raised in this state for some years.

Ten acres of his field averaged 101 bushels to the acre, and the straw when cut was still green and fresh and will be equal to $10 a ton for hay for fodder for cattle. The seed for this plot cost $2.25 and he can sell every bushel of the crop gathered for seed grain.

Wheat grown by Mr. McKelby averaged thirty-five bushels to the acre and sold for 90 cents a bushel right at the machine.

ON RETIRING FROM BUSINESS

Observations of a Scholar on "The New Reservation of Time."

To most men retirement from business or the daily tasks of life on account of age, whether voluntary or not, is distasteful, even when accompanied by the accustomed income or a pension. It is difficult for the men of three score and ten, or even three score years, to accommodate themselves to the new conditions. They are rendered unhappy by lack of their old time activities. The end of life seems appreciably nearer. That they are supplanted by younger men and their methods by newer ones seems humiliating to them.

Each year sees more and more such retirements, and the persistent discussion of old age pensions presages at some future time the existence of a large and constantly changing body in society existing on that basis. At present with us the movement has not extended beyond corporations and the military service, but already there is proposed that the government pension its civil servants, and it may be that in time old age pensions will be instituted here as they are in continental Europe, to include the whole nation.

When such time arrives it will be necessary for individuals to view the practice from another point of view than that with which it is generally regarded today. If great unhappiness is to be avoided, and in this connection we venture to recommend to the reading of every one the calm and beautiful article, "The New Reservation of Time," in the Atlantic Monthly for August by William Jewett Tucker. Mr. Tucker on attaining his seventieth year was retired on a pension from the presidency of Dartmouth college, a position which he had held with great distinction for many years. He had not felt his age, and scarcely realized that he has attained the allotted span, so his retirement was to him unexpected, but so far from feeling humiliated at having "gone into residence," he finds the life there "is most stimulating and quickening, in spite of the fact that I am cut off from certain public activities and put upon a reduced regime for each day's work."

The reason for this unexpected result is found in the new valuation of time which had come with the change. One learns easily to revalue time "when the imperative occasion arises." And with the newly acquired sense comes a great exhilaration. "Time," he says, "has now become in a very appreciable way a freed possession," and in his old age one learns how, as the psalmist advised, "to number his days," not as the miser does by subtraction, but by addition—"one day more to enrich the sum total."

"I count it a very great liberty," he again says, "to be allowed, as it is certainly a very great one to be able to live in right proportion to the present. This liberty, and the art to use it, make up another of the rights and privileges which belong to those who have entered upon the reservation of time. Very few of us get much out of the present. * * * Our real world is a world of plans, of expectations, and of anxieties. We become disciplined to forethought and prevision. * * * But we cannot believe that it was meant that our future should empty our present of so many of its rightful satisfactions."

Dodge Man Refuses Nomination.

FREMONT, Neb., Aug. 23.—(Special.)—Dodge county nominated by two votes, Valdo Winterstein will not run for county attorney of Dodge county. Winterstein received two votes as against one each cast for two other democrats, no candidate having filed for the office. For a time Winterstein considered running for the office, but he decided that the manner of his getting on the ticket would be too great an embarrassment to overcome. J. C. Cook, republican nominee, and sole candidate for the office, would have instituted legal proceedings to keep Winterstein off the ballot in case he had tried to accept the filing. Cook is the present incumbent.
