BOHEMIAN FESTIVAL READY

Arrangements for Monster Affair Are Now Completed.

TO RAISE FUNDS FOR SCHOOLS

Bohemian Societies Are Endeavoring to Establish Schools for Neglected Children of Race—Festival September 3, 4 and 5.

Omaha is to be distinguished very soon again by a monster assemblage in the guise of the grand festival which is to be given by the local Bohemians for the benefit of the Untrudni Matice Skolska, the central society for founding and maintaining Bohemian schools in Austria. The big event is to take place September 3, 4 and 5, and according to the preparations announced as completed, it will be one of the most gorgeous affairs ever given by the Bohemians here. Joseph L. Padron is chairman and Frank Boutin, secretary of the ways and means committee, and the fact that many local Bohemians are taking a prominent part in the preliminary work is a sure guaranty of success.

The festival will be given to increase the fund of the Untrudni Matice Skolska, an institution, the purpose of which is to found and maintain private Bohemian schools in all communities in which the Bohemian nationality is in minority and where the Austrian government refuses to do its sacred duty.

In Bohemia, Moravia, Silesia and lower Austria, there are thousands of Bohemian children compelled to frequent schools in which they are not only taught a foreign and unsympathetic language, but even to despise their nation and their native language. It may seem impossible, but it is an undeniable fact, known to all who are acquainted with the political and other conditions in Austria.

Penalties for School-going.

One of the objects of the despotism on the blue Danube is to denationalize the Bohemians, to make them forget the traditions and lofty ends of their nation that had played an important part in the European history, and to accept the language of their political opponents in all communities where in their own country the Bohemians are in minority. In the so-called "mixed territory" in the northern part of Bohemia the fight against the Bohemians (Czechs), is very fierce and often brutal. The Bohemians sending their children to their national schools are persecuted, sometimes to such an extent that they can get neither employment nor rent. Nevertheless, they suffer, if only their children can enjoy the benefits derived from frequenting Bohemian schools.

The Untrudni Matice Skolska was founded to make the suffering of the Bohemians in the "mixed territory" more tolerable and in all parts of the kingdom of Bohemia, which is the most important part of the Austrian empire, and among all classes of the Bohemian people money is collected for the benefit of this important national

Sixteenth Has Fun in Alaska

Private John C. Sullivan Writes that Soldiers Have Fine Fishing and Days Are Long.

John C. Sullivan of Company F of the Sixteenth United States Infantry now located at Haines, Alaska, has written to his friend Jack Lynn of South Omaha concerning the doings of the soldiers in the barracks in the far north since they moved from Omaha. They are enjoying the summer season at present and aside from the routine of camp and barracks duty seem to be spending the time in amusing themselves. The Arctic days are still pretty long, but are rapidly shortening and soon a bleak twilight will be the only light of the day.

This fact inspired the soldier to say: "I have often wondered since coming here why the people of Haines do not get together and harness some of the water power that is going to waste and build a small electric plant. From what I have read on the subject I think it would be feasible in a town of this size, especially as oil is very high."

As to amusements the soldier mentions the regimental library and the dining. "The latter seems to be fine and the companies are vying to make the record catch."

"Company F," says the soldier, "holds the record so far with a 16-pound halibut; Company G is a close second with a 16 pounder; then comes the machine gun platoon with one weighing 167 pounds."

"Several of the companies here in the post own motor boats, but they are dinky little affairs and not much good for rough weather. Some of the boys have been figuring on buying a boat, but I do not think it would pay as the boating season is over very early."

"The Indians here are far ahead of the Indians in the states; they get no aid from their government; they have nice houses as a rule and many own motor boats."

Handley Not Candidate for Senate.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 25.—Governor Handley will not be a candidate for the republican nomination for senator during the coming campaign. Shortly after his return here from St. Louis tonight he gave out an authoritative statement saying he was not and would not be a candidate.
