JUNKIN OPPOSED TO RECOUNT

Secretary of State Holds Governor is in Wrong.

BOARD TO MEET ON TUESDAY

Former State Superintendent Jasper L. McKim is again in the limelight and a second call down may be the cause.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The state canvassing board will meet Tuesday to canvass the votes cast at the late primary. It is expected that Governor Shallenberger will file a statement with the board setting out that he is having the votes recounted in several counties and requesting that the board delay its action until after these counts have been reported. If Douglas county returns are received by the secretary of state by Tuesday it will be a question whether the board will pay any attention to the request of the governor or consider at all the figures returned after the recount in the various counties. Secretary McKim has already gone on record as opposing the opinion of the attorney general that the governor acted within his rights when he demanded a recount to be made by the county boards. In this opinion Mr. Junkin does not stand alone, so there will be a question for the board to settle when it meets Tuesday.

Returns Not in Good Form. Some of the returns made on the recount do not have the signatures of the entire election board and one does not have the seal of the county clerk, but is merely signed by him. To one county clerk who asked for information Mr. Junkin said he must return an entire new abstract. None of the counties so far have done this.

The canvassing board is composed of the governor, the secretary of state, the auditor, attorney general and the state treasurer.

Several candidates who ran on both the populist and democratic ticket are in a bad way. In certain instances one has received the populist nomination and the opposing candidate has received the democratic nomination. Around the state house no one knows who composes the populist state committee and there have been some inquiries made during the last few days to get that committee. Some figure that this committee has the power to place a name on the ticket providing the populist nominee refuses to accept the nomination. Others insist that this right is not given to the committee under the law.

Was McKim Called Down? A lot of people here are wondering what has happened to cause the sudden subsidence in the political firmament of that overshadowing constellation, Jasper L. McKim. For several weeks up to and after the state convention McKim was in the thick of it, the head and front of the local insurgent column, the noisiest shouter for Whedon and Tobey, one of the traitors of the Anti-Saloon league and almost the whole works. McKim is the ex-state superintendent of instruction who traded himself into a soft job on the university payroll by the use of his official patronage and power; and the same McKim who was called down a few months ago for booking pet candidates for office on the university extension lecture courses. When he was notified to stop making a political circuit of the university's extension work he sought to evade it by suggesting to those who requested speakers that they write to the office-seeking orators direct. The inference is that McKim had another call down and that he thinks too much of his mental ticket at the university to take any more chances than necessary.

To Hear Roosevelt. Several Lincoln people expect to go to Omaha September 2 to hear Colonel Roosevelt at the Auditorium, while others who have invitations will attend the dinner given in his honor and get in on the program given at the den that night. Most of the state officers expect to be in Omaha on that occasion.

Blame It on West Lincoln. West Lincoln has a reputation and as a result everyone who now gets drunk in Lincoln and arrested is credited to West Lincoln. Heretofore when persons in Lincoln got drunk they were charged up to Beatrice, Crete, Omaha and other nearby places where they have no right to be. In the meantime they have been no rales on clubs and drug stores in Lincoln for several days.

Base Ball Holds Cubans. Dr. H. H. Nicholson, formerly of the state university, who spends a good portion of his time in Cuba and who was there recently, said that the ball is becoming the national game in that island. The Havana newspapers publish daily the reports of the games in the states as well as reports of their own games. Frequently, Dr. Nicholson said, it happens that an entire team will be chased off the grounds and usually the umpire is forced to dig out before the game is fairly started. Neither team will ever play without two umpires to start with.

Burlington Will Open Shops. The Burlington railroad has issued invitations to the "house warming" ceremonies attending the opening of the new shop buildings at Havelock, September 3, at 2 o'clock p. m.

Dawson Institute. LEXINGTON, Neb., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The Dawson County institute closed Friday, having had the largest enrollment in the history of the county. Miss Frances A. Alliance had charge of the primary work. Prof. O. W. Neale of the Kearney normal presented arithmetic and had a special exhibit of pictures. These pictures were placed on the walls of the assembly room, and each day an hour was given to the study of these paintings and the pictures. Prof. Dickerson was in charge of the penmanship and drawing. Superintendent Delsell conducted the classes in geography, grammar and history. County Superintendent L. A. Olinger was in charge.

Brakeman Killed at Belmont. ALLIANCE, Neb., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—About 1 o'clock Friday evening J. W. Hagard, employed by the Burlington railroad as a brakeman, was killed at Belmont. In uncoupling a helper engine, he in some way fell under the pilot and was severely injured. He was immediately rushed to Alliance, but died before he got there. He was a young man 25 years of age, and his father lives at Henrietta, Okl.

Lexington Man Killed by Horse. LEXINGTON, Neb., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—Yesterday afternoon the horse which Camille Gillett was riding became frightened at an automobile. The animal reared and then fell backwards on top of young Gillett, knocking him unconscious. He was carried to the office of the bar where Dr. Baker and Wade attended him. Mr. Gillett died at 4 o'clock this morning, having never regained consciousness.

BERLIN GLEN SAVES LIFE OF CHILD ON TRACK

Grasps Boy from Front of Swiftly Moving Train at Hildreth in Nick of Time.

HILDRETH, Neb., Aug. 29.—(Special.)—Berlin Glen of Atlanta, while in Hildreth to spend carnival week with his parents, saved the life of little 5-year-old Tyra Bever, son of T. L. Bever. With a crowd of fellow pleasure-seekers he had gone to the station in the evening as the passenger train came in. Without sounding a warning the train glided out of the darkness and up to the station, the headlight unit, the train making less noise than the crowd.

Tyra Bever was a half block away, when he thought something he wished to tell his mother, who was at the station. He raced toward the oncoming train and sprang on the track in front of the engine. Mr. Glen saw him coming and sprang on the track, seized the boy in his arms and stepped back to the platform just as the train whizzed past.

CIRCUS POSTERS COVER SPACE Advance Man Says Board Five Times Size of Bee Building Would Be Required Here.

If Omahans were to come down town early some morning and find a huge billboard erected on the Farnam and Seventeenth street facades of The Bee building and extending five times the height, they would be surprised to say the least.

It would take a board of those dimensions to hold all of the circus bills posted in Omaha and vicinity for the Forepaugh-Sells circus, which comes here Monday, September 19, according to Harry B. Graham, manager of the first advertising car which came to town yesterday morning.

The advance man says that from 15,000 to 20,000 "sheets" of paper are posted in every station. To the lay mind this is about as elucidating as Sanikist to Wyoming sheep herder. In passing it may be said that "sheet" of circus "paper" is 45 by 25 inches. Several weeks ago a crew of billers were in town doing some preliminary billing. The car now here is the first regular publicity conveyance to arrive. Three more will follow.

After exhibiting in Omaha the big shows go to Council Bluffs. The coming engagement will be the first here for several years for this foremost of American shows. It is said that an entirely new outfit has been provided for this season's tour.

UNION-PACIFIC RECORD FOR LOAD STILL STANDS Other Roads Making Claims for High Mark Overlook the Overland.

A train of 130 cars was hauled over the tracks of the Pennsylvania road between Altoona and Harrisburg two weeks ago and the officials of the road thought that they had set a new record for the largest train ever pulled. However, W. D. Lincoln, superintendent of transportation on the Union Pacific, states that on that road seven years ago a record load was hauled that beats the Pennsylvania.

The Union Pacific record is 125 cars, carrying a total of fifteen million pounds pulled by a 1,600 consolidated compound engine from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Sidney, Neb., while the latter mark is only 120 cars, hauling twelve million pounds.

REPORT ON IOWA RAILROADS

State Commission Recommends Many Changes in Laws.

ADJUSTMENT OF FREIGHT RATES

Policy is to Favor Iowa Industries as Far as Possible—Advice as to Physical Equipment.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) DES MOINES, Aug. 29.—(Special.)—The report of the state railroad commission for last year was filed Saturday. It includes the statistical matter, the most of which has heretofore been made public and the commission's recommendations. The changes in the laws are desired, as for instance, greater power in regard to drainage matters along railroad rights-of-way, greater power as to compelling under and over crossings for highways, some authority to require a change in location of highways, absolute power to the extent for telegraph and telephone charges and more money for the operation of the board. It is also recommended that the commission be given power to authorize some way in the matter of applying the long and short haul clause.

Adjustment of Freight Rates. The commission discusses its own policy as to adjustment of freight rates and calls attention to the fact that it has greatly reduced rates in Iowa. But it also states that it has made most of the changes largely for equalization purposes. The policy of the board is to favor Iowa industries and it adheres to the belief that the railroad should be used for the protection of Iowa industries. Some of the changes in interstate rates have been contrary to this policy.

Advice as to Physical Equipment. The commission offers some advice as to railroads in regard to the matter of keeping up the condition of the roadbed and rolling stock, and urges that no matter what the contingency, the property be maintained at a high standard. There has been very much done in recent years to improve the condition of Iowa tracks and bridges, but the commission believes that a great deal more should be done.

Infantile Paralysis Epidemic. What is believed by the state board of health to be the beginning of an epidemic of the dreaded disease, infantile paralysis, was the report which reached the offices this morning from four counties from various parts of the state had been unearthed and one death had been reported from the same cause. The board refused to give the names of the victims, but the report intimated that the disease was general throughout Iowa.

Asks $10,000 for Alleged Slander. Mrs. Morris Lynch has filed a suit for $10,000 in the district court here today against W. H. Lingenfelter. It appears that Lingenfelter during the recent trial of Chief of Police George Yeager for alleged maladministration in office testified that Mrs. Lynch was running a house of prostitution. The charge filed today is an outcome of his testimony.

Perjury Charge Against Detective. Another result of the George Yeager trial was the charge filed this morning in a justice of peace office against Detective P. J. Van Nordstrand, accusing him of perjury in the recent unpleasantness. The warrant was sworn out and filed by J. Kassamer, whose house on East Locust street the detective declared to have been a house of prostitution.

State Fair Record Breaker. Saturday was kids' day at the Iowa State fair and a report from the office of the superintendent of admission at noon declared that the attendance for any other Saturday in the history of Iowa's fifty-first state fair would be surpassed by that of today. With the exception of a racing event this afternoon and several minor judging contests, nothing of particular interest developed today. The program will be continued in a more elaborate manner Tuesday.

Solidifying the Party. The journey of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt through Iowa this week, it is believed, will have a most excellent effect in the direction of uniting and cementing the republican party. He appeared to take especial interest in the celebration of Mexico's independence will be the dedication of the National theater of the City of Mexico. This is one of the triumphs of Diaz's contributions to the artistic development of his capital city. The new theater, which is a magnificent new edifice, is practically finished. It has cost the government about $6,000,000. The architecture is very impressive. At a distance the theater gives the impression of being shaped like the half of an immense sphere. The interior is finished in Italian and Mexican marble. The framework is of steel. It is said that the foundations were built with especial care with a view to defending the edifice from any earthquake shock. The theater will be liberally subsidized by the government, and the people of the Mexican capital expect to have an opera that will not be surpassed by many cities. The people are music-loving and fond of drama. The enterprise seems to have the approval of all the people.

Colonel John A. Pattie, one of "The Old Soldier Fiddlers," appearing at the Orpheum this week, had an interesting experience when he visited W. W. Eastman, justice of the peace in the town of Burlington. During the conversation it developed that fifty years ago Mr. Eastman courted Anna Pattie, cousin of Colonel Pattie. Anna Pattie was killed when her skirt was caught in a mill belt. Her father, William Pattie, was the first state auditor of Iowa. The Patties lived at Janesville, Ia.

Rice & Cady, managers and chief comedians of the magnificent "Beauty Trust" company at the Gayety theater this week, exercised commendable taste in their selection of such an entertaining delegation of performers, whose clean-cut performance is so interesting, entertaining and refreshing it quickly relieves one of the grog.

Director Brown of the Woodward Stock company is discovering that life is just one thing after another. While he is producing "The Love Watches," he is getting ready for "Such a Little Queen," which goes up next week, and for which rehearsals began yesterday. The season is going very well for the start.

There is something about "The Show Girl" which is bound to attract largely to amusement lovers. It is one of the best musical comedies from the pen of R. A. Barnett who has written many popular successes. The company is headed by Hilda Thomas, assisted by Mr. Lou Hall and a carefully selected cast of chorus. The engagement will be for the rest of the week with the usual matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

Woman's Power Over Man Women's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prepared for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for women's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

cial pains to single out the leaders of the party for consultation and to manifest approval of the work being done by the party as a whole in advancing progressive principles. He passed through that part of the state which has the large republican majorities and which must be relied on for the success of the party in the state and he gave approval to the attitude of the republican party in the state. Now the state committee will get together and start the work of the campaign with a certainty that it will be carried on by a united party.

Refuse to Endorse Movement. The Christian churches of the Northwest Iowa district have refused to endorse the Iowa Constitutional Amendment Association, the head offices of which are in this city. At the district convention at Sioux City a resolution calling for an endorsement of the association in its efforts to secure statehood was overruled. The association is equipped with a boarding home and Miss Keeney says that in having rooms for transients the association inflicts a large need of the girl, who comes to the city a stranger.

Though she has been in association work only since last January, when she began her special training at Detroit, Miss Keeney has had several years' experience as a teacher in the high school and is well qualified to meet the special demands of her new position. She is a graduate of Smith college, a member of the same class as the association's physical director, Miss Florence Alden.

On her way to Omaha Miss Keeney stopped at the conference at Lake Geneva, which she says was most interesting and well attended. The new general secretary, Miss Lilly M. Strong, is expected to arrive later in the week.

At the Douglas County convention of the Women's Christian Temperance union, which is to be held in the Baptist church at South Omaha, Thursday, eight unions will be represented: Valley, Elk City, Waterloo, Omaha, West Side, Benson, Frances Willard and Lucy Thurman unions.

Spokane has three policemen, who look after the culprit of their own sex. One belongs to the Salvation army and two to the Volunteers of America.

tail, while his companion was dressed in a suit-made suit of blue.

Arthur Newton, the solicitor engaged by friends of his client, appeared for Crippen and J. H. Welfare, retained by the father, represented her. Prosecutor Travers Woodward had charge of the case for the crown and after introducing evidence in justification of the arrests, he asked that the prisoners be remanded for eight days.

The prosecutor explained that the government's evidence against the typical pointed only to her as an accessory after the fact. He said he proposed at this time to offer only formal evidence in support of the action of the authorities in arresting and holding the accused. A week hence the prosecution would be ready to proceed with the case.

Inspector Dew briefly described the arrests on board the steamer Montrose as the vessel approached Quebec. As he took Crippen into custody, the latter said: "I am not sorry. My anxiety has been too much."

Dew said that he told Crippen that he must put him in handcuffs, "as you have written that you intended jumping overboard."

To this Crippen replied: "I will not do that. My anxiety has been too awful."

Crippen Contemplates Suicide. Explaining his suspicion that the fugitive had planned to commit suicide, the inspector exhibited to the court a business card on one side of which were the words: "P. Robinson and company, Michigan. Presented by John E. Robinson."

This card was found among Crippen's effects on the back of it apparently in the doctor's handwriting, was the following: "I cannot stand the horror I go through."

Woman's Work Activities of the Organized Bodies Along the Lines of Undertaking of Concern to Women.

Miss Flora Keeney, the new assistant secretary and director of educational work of the Young Women's Christian association, arrived in Omaha Monday and is already making friends with the association members. Under the guidance of the retiring assistant secretary, Miss Frances Crippen, who leaves the association September 15, Miss Keeney will be busy this week learning the duties of her new position.

The new secretary comes to Omaha from Lansing, Mich., where during the summer she has been assisting with the work. This association is equipped with a boarding home and Miss Keeney says that in having rooms for transients the association inflicts a large need of the girl, who comes to the city a stranger.

every night any longer, and as I see nothing bright ahead and my journey is coming to an end, I have made up my mind to jump overboard tonight. I know I have spoiled your life, but some day you may learn to forgive me. My last words are spoken."

Dew also introduced a torn piece of a card on which Crippen had written this question: "Shall we wait until tonight about 10 or 11? If not, what time?"

Asking after Miss Levene, Crippen said to the inspector: "I will do all I can for her. It is only fair to say that she knows nothing about it. I never told her anything."

The witness said that in conversing with Captain Kendall of the Montrose, Miss Levene remarked that she had not seen a newspaper since she left London and, referring to the murder mystery, added: "I know nothing about it." To the inspector the woman said: "I assure you I know nothing about it. I intended to write my sister when I got to Quebec."

When the warrant was read on shipboard Miss Levene wept and, becoming greatly agitated, fainted.

At this point Solicitor Newton questioned the witness and drew out the statement that his client had throughout been perfectly calm and collected and had given no trouble to those who had him in custody.
