OFFICER'S BULLET IS FATAL

Detective Callaghan, Pursuing William Fry, Slips Firing Shot.

MAN TWICE SENT TO PRISON

Was Being Taken to Police Station as Suspect of Car Robberies and Killed in Effort to Run Away.

William Fry, 28 years old, was shot and instantly killed by City Detective Thomas F. Callaghan at 3:30 yesterday afternoon, while escaping after being placed under arrest, accused of theft. The shooting, however, was purely accidental, the shot being fired when the detective stumbled and fell while pursuing the fugitive. The bullet, from a forty-one-calibre Colt's regulation police revolver, struck Fry in the back of the neck at the base of the brain and passed entirely through his head. The shooting occurred at North Tenth street and Avenue F. Fry had served two terms in the penitentiary for crimes committed in Council Bluffs.

On Wednesday, this week, police department reports indicated that Fry had been trying to sell sugar in 100-pound lots in the residence district in the vicinity of Eleventh street. The sugar was presumably the product of some of the many recent car robberies, and Chief of Police Proctor ordered Fry to be brought in. He was not found until 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon when Detective Callaghan encountered him at Tenth street and Broadway and placed him under arrest. When told what he was arrested for Fry denied all knowledge of the sugar incident but consented to go peacefully to the station without having the wagon called.

When the two had reached Eighth street, Fry made a sudden spring, breaking away from the officer, and ran down North Eighth street and into the alley in the rear of the True block. He was faster of foot than the detective and Callaghan tried to stop him by shooting into the air. It only increased the speed of the fugitive, and gave him such momentum that when he reached the rear of the Saltzman coal yards, near Seventh street, he easily scaled the high plank fence. He was out of sight when the officer got into the yard.

Chases Fry in Auto.

Boys declared that Fry had gone north on Seventh street, and Detective Callaghan was given the use of an automobile belonging to John D. Long, 29 South Main street. After going north to Rohrer's park and finding no trace of the fugitive, Callaghan returned on Seventh street, and when Avenue F was reached boys who had been following Fry pointed out his hiding place in a vacant lot covered with bushes. When Callaghan approached Fry again started to run, taking the middle of the street. Callaghan followed with his revolver in hand, intending to shoot into the ground at the feet of the fugitive. As he was running on the unpaved street, slippery from a recent shower, he stumbled and fell as he stepped on a street crossing. The fall caused the revolver to be fired, and Fry, running like a deer 100 feet ahead, received the fatal wound. There were many eye witnesses, and all stated that the shot was accidentally fired.

Fry had lived in Council Bluffs nearly all of his life. In the autumn of 1904 he was discharged by the Younkerman Seed company for stealing, and two weeks later broke into the place and stole a lot of stuff. He was arrested, and on December 14 was sent to the Fort Madison penitentiary for one year. After serving his term he returned, and committed another burglary at the Younkerman store, but before he was taken into custody was arrested for the burglary of a residence occupied by a relative, and was sent to prison again for nine months in October, 1905. Fry's mother died two years ago at the county farm, and was buried by the county. His father resides on Franklin avenue in what is known as the "Poverty flats."

COCHRAN SEES IN BURGLAR MAN WHO HELD HIM UP

Northwestern Fireman Identifies House Enterer as Person Who Tried to Rob Him Here.

W. T. Cochran, a locomotive fireman on the Northwestern, identified in Boone, Ia., the end of his division, Thursday, a man who held him up in the yards at Council Bluffs last Monday night. Cochran, who is a brother of Julius N. Cochran of No. 3 hose company, had just come in from his home and had left his engine at the round house. He was coming down the tracks and was opposite the DeLong mission on Avenue F, when he was accosted by a footpad. It was only a few minutes after 8 o'clock and still quite light. The fellow made a swift motion as if drawing a revolver and throw down his hand, but it was light enough for Cochran to observe that it was not a revolver barrel pointing in his face but the man's front finger. Cochran instantly struck the fellow a stinging blow in the face and at the same instant received a hard rap across his own arm from a fifteen-inch belt the thug held in his left hand. The blow disabled Cochran's left arm but he swung a hard right on the fellow's chin, knocking him down and sending his head with great force into contact with a rail. Cochran was preparing to take his man to the police station when another fellow came running up and he let go his man. The third party proved to be one of the caller's in the employ of the company. But in the meantime the thug regained his senses and fled.

Wednesday night a burglar was captured in a Boone residence and when Cochran saw him in the jail there he instantly recognized him as the man who tried to rob him. The fellow has been held to the grand jury on the double charge.

Annual Meeting of Missouri Valley Association Closes After Selecting Next Meeting Place.

The twenty-third annual meeting of the Missouri Valley Medical association held its final session yesterday afternoon with a unanimous declaration on the part of the doctors that it was one of the most profitable and pleasant meetings ever held by the association. At the business meeting for the election of officers and disposal of other matters relating to the welfare of the society, Dr. Donald Macrae of Council Bluffs, son of the founder of the society, was unanimously chosen president; Dr. J. M. Bell of St. Joseph, first vice president; Dr. J. M. Bantzer of Omaha, second vice president; Dr. Charles Wood Facet of St. Joseph, secretary, and Dr. Thomas B. Lacey of Council Bluffs, treasurer. All are new officers except the secretary and treasurer. The society passed some resolutions highly eulogistic of the treatment accorded them at Council Bluffs, particularly expressing the acknowledgment of the pleasant courtesies accorded them at the public library and by the local committee of arrangements, headed by Dr. J. P. Sprink, whose thoughtful care had smoothed every wrinkle from their pathways in the city.

A resolution that was adopted without dissent fixed St. Joseph, Mo., as the place for holding the next meeting, which will be the semi-annual gathering, the constitution requiring all of the annual meetings to be held here. The program lasted until well into the afternoon, although the doctors expected to have finished before noon. Several addresses scheduled for the previous day were deferred until the closing session, including an address by Dr. W. T. Elam of St. Joseph. The attendance yesterday was larger than on the opening day, many Omaha physicians being present.

When the curtain rises on the third act of "The Squaw Man," Edward M. Royce's play of ranch life in the west, which comes to the Dohany theater, today, matinee and night, the audience is seen to gasp. The scene is so realistic, one can almost imagine being out in the burning sun on the sandy plains of Utah, with nothing in sight but cactus plants and alkali water; and when the cowboys are seen coming in to the ranch yard, dusting themselves, we are almost sure that this is not a play we are seeing, but a reality.

ORCHARD TAKES NEW PLACE

R. W. Henderson Will Retire from Local Paper at Early Date.

The announcement was made yesterday that Robert W. Henderson, who has had charge of the editorial rooms of the Council Bluffs Nonpartisan since the death of H. W. Tilton in 1903, is soon to retire to be succeeded by W. R. Orchard of Glidden, Ia. Mr. Henderson has shown himself to be one of the keenest and most graceful editorial writers in the state, and has added greatly to the strength and character of the paper. Mr. Henderson has recently acquired valuable interests in southern California, which are beginning to require his attention. The Carroll (Iowa) Herald has this kindly notice of the new editor, who has just sold the Glidden Graphic: Mr. Orchard has spent nearly all his life in Carroll county, teaching school before he became an editor and occupied that relation to the Graphic for about fifteen years. The paper has been one of influence in a much wider field than its local circulation. Going back to the time when the republican party found itself divided into factions the Graphic, under Mr. Orchard, was one of the best progressives and with its wing of the party occupied a position of much influence. For the last two years Mr. Orchard has been postmaster at Glidden and is now near the end of his third term. Just how soon he will take up his new post at Council Bluffs is not stated, but it is probable he will retain his residence at Glidden until about the last of the year.

HARRY BULGER IN MORT H. SINGER'S "THE FLIRTING PRINCESS"

"The Flirting Princess," which comes to the Dohany theater next Sunday night, was the big hit of the past season in Chicago, having carried the record away from the Windy City for the longest run of any show in the city last season. It is full of delightful music, catchy songs and pretty dancers. The original production will be seen here, with the famous "Vampire" and "Apache" dances also the sensational bare-foot chorus.

Denver Civil Engineer Commences Taking Nourishment After Starving Self Fifty-Seven Days.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 2.—Roland Moeller, a young civil engineer who went fifty-seven days without food in order to cure stomach trouble and a partial deafness induced by catarrh, today began taking nourishment in the form of orange and plum juices. "He can hear without difficulty, but is weak." When Moeller, whose father is a physician of Milwaukee, Wis., began his fast he weighed 145 pounds. Today he weighs about 90 pounds. For the last two weeks one of the four physicians who have been watching Moeller has been giving him daily olive oil, and this is believed to have given him nourishment sufficient to sustain life beyond the forty day period of fasting which physicians say is the limit of safety.

Captain Shawhan will send more than a car load of fruit from his district in Idaho, but it will be in small lots of the choicest, selected as the fruit is shipped. The shipment announced yesterday consisted of two boxes of Bartel pears. They will be placed in cold storage when they arrive and kept there until installed in the exposition.

WHERE WILL IT STOP?

MRS. ALICE ROOSEVELT-LONGWORTH IN THE LIMELIGHT.

Y. P. Civic League of Illinois Alone Sent 26,000 Letters Asking Co-Operation.

Can This Great Public Interest Be Used, When Aroused, in a More Important Cause?

The four Christian Endeavor societies of Fairbury, Neb., on August 2, 1910, sent a request to Mrs. Nicholas Longworth asking her to stop smoking cigarettes. This action was the climax of a discussion following the reading of a paper on narcotics. Since then it has assumed a national importance.

While the use of narcotics is a deplorable thing and the victim of the drug habit a wretched and pitiable person, the endeavor and other societies have overlooked a matter much more serious, in their neglect of the liquor drinkers, who outnumber the drug addicts and lady smokers 100 to one. Contrary to the old idea that a drunkard is a bad man, in most cases he is a helpless victim of circumstances which have been conducive to the taking of stimulants, and he has fallen carelessly into the habit, not knowing the results. For reasons of sympathy rather than censure is due the drinker. Equal sympathy and consideration are due the family and relatives who must suffer with him and for him. Society fails to comprehend the situation. He is suffering from poisoning. Why should a man be fined or imprisoned for the cause of poisoning? It is not only useless, but destroys his chances of being cured, as well as inflicts needless suffering upon him and his innocent loved ones.

In view of our modern scientific knowledge it has been found to be better to give him medical attention. A treatment recently discovered by Dr. B. E. Neal is now becoming recognized as a positive antidote for alcoholic poisoning. The immediate acceptance of this cure as proven by the opening of 41 Neal Institutes in the United States and Canada, with demands from large European cities for the establishment of Neal Institutes there, bring us to believe that this is the antidote and perfect specific so long sought for. It is found to destroy immediately all appetite for alcoholic liquors as easily as water extinguishes fire, leaving the patient at the end of three days as free from the taint of alcohol as a ten year old child. The Neal method of treatment is being accepted by the medical fraternity wherever demonstrated as it is seen to be harmless and effective.

Had Dr. Neal discovered a cure for tuberculosis, every Christian Society and woman's organization in the country would have taken it up, not only sending patients, but giving money and assistance of all kinds. Yet there are more people suffering from drink than from tuberculosis. Dr. Neal does not ask donations, but he does wish to interest the women in his work and invites a thorough investigation of his method of treatment and of the results. This now makes available that which has never before, a Cure, almost instantaneous (3 Days), one or more Institutes in each state, and a Home Cure, equally effective, for those who cannot go to the Institute. The Neal Cure has not failed in a single instance, and the cases of relapse have been less than two per cent and these only from evil associations. Each patient is given a bankable bond for his money in case of failure to absolutely take away within three days any desire of liquor. This bond is backed by the Neal Institutes Company, capitalized for $1,000,000.00. This is merely mentioned to give confidence to the friends of afflicted persons, that they may know into whose hands they are placing their loved ones.

It is much more vital to the drinking man to remove from him the desire for liquor, than to merely remove the liquor, for as long as the desire remains he will get the liquor. (For this reason temperance organizations will promote their cause by co-operating with the Neal Institutes. All information is free. Anyone knowing of a person or persons needing such treatment will confer a lasting benefit upon them by sending their names in strictest confidence to The Neal Institute, 1522 South 19th St., Omaha, Neb., or Des Moines, Davenport or Sioux City, Iowa.
