Minnesota Senator Says Each Citizen Should Aid in Conservation. MORE LAWS FOR COAL LANDS

PAUL, Minn., Sept. 6.—Senator Knute Nelson said in a speech in the Senate today that the natural resources of the country should be conserved by the federal government, the state, the farmer, the landowner, the state, its lands, its forests and its waters, and the federal government, the resource of its mines, its forests and its lands with their appurtenances.

Another Bomb Found in Peoria; Fails to Work

Two Gallons of Nitroglycerin Are Discovered Hidden Behind Girders of New Bridge.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 6.—The discovery today of a two-gallon can of nitroglycerin with fuse attached, and adjusted, battery beside it and a small clock to time the explosion, carefully hidden among the steel girders, now in the east Peoria yards, gave the first clue to the identity of the miscreant who blew up the A. Lucas & Sons' plant and the structural steel in the east Peoria yards Sunday evening.

This find was made by John Scully, a former employe of the Peoria & Pekin Union, now in the grocery business, who with railroad detectives was thoroughly examining the site of Sunday's explosion.

The clock had evidently failed to go on account of some defect in the little clock, which was set to explode at 10:30 p. m., when the other three shots were fired.

The can bore no labels which would indicate its origin, but it came from Peoria or some other city where immense quantities of high explosives are used, goes without saying, for it is now believed that the two gallons of nitroglycerin were at hand for the two jobs and that much of this fluid could not be obtained in the whole state of Illinois.

An aggregate of $12,000 reward has been offered for the apprehension of the persons who dynamited the Peoria & Pekin Union last night and damaged the Bushnell Manufacturing plant and the Peoria Co-operative company, besides the two great steel girders for the new Peoria & Pekin rail bridge.

Council Bluffs Caulkins Held For His Assault Upon I. V. Todd

Brutal Attack Upon Omaha Man May Get Him Prison Term—Gardiner Let Off Easy.

P. T. Caulkins and C. C. Gardiner, the two men who assaulted I. V. Todd of Omaha as he sat in a Council Bluffs street car Sunday afternoon with his wife and baby and holding the latter in his lap, were given a hearing in police court yesterday afternoon. Caulkins was charged with assault with intent to do great bodily injury, and upon advice of his attorney, Clem F. Kimball, waived examination and was sent to the county jail under a bond of $100 to await indictment by the grand jury.

Gardiner, the second man, was saved through the generosity of Mr. Todd, who testified that Gardiner did not take part in the murderous attack upon him.

Gardiner had previously consented to offer a plea of guilty to the charge of disturbing the peace and pay a fine of $25, but when Todd testified that he heard him remonstrating with the other man Police Judge Snyder could not impose a sentence severer than a fine of $10 and costs. This was paid for him later in the day and he was released.

Both men are iron workers employed at the Kimball elevator factory. Gardiner has resided in Council Bluffs for a number of years and bears a good reputation. Caulkins has been here only since last February and has shown himself to be a very dangerous man when under the influence of drink.

Within the last month, his friends have been beaten into insensibility three other men.

Mr. and Mrs. Todd were on their way to Manawa when the assault was made. Caulkins had insulted almost every woman on the car by profane and low remarks, and it was not until he had gone to the rear end of the car and forced himself into the seat occupied by Mr. Todd and his wife that Todd remonstrated with him and was instantly assaulted with steel knuckles, receiving wounds that will scar his face for life.

Mrs. Todd, who is a delicate and refined woman, received such a nervous shock when she saw her husband thrown upon the car floor and her husband being beaten that she was made so ill that it required genuine heroism on her part to sit by the side of her husband in police court.

Council Bluffs Minor Mention

The Council Bluffs office of the Omaha Bee is at 15 Scott Street. Both phones 42.

After hearing the testimony of numerous witnesses, and fully examining all phases of the case, a coroner's jury in Council Bluffs yesterday afternoon returned a verdict fully exonerating Detective Thomas F. Callaghan from all blame in connection with the killing of William Fry Friday afternoon. The inquest was conducted by Justice Cooper at his office in the county court house in the absence of Coroner Treynor. The jury was composed of W. E. McConnell, Robert F. Rain and George W. Lape.

Chief of Police Fryoom testified to the fact of having received reports that Fry had been lured to and seated in 100-pound lots, presumably the product of recent car robberies, and that he had a general order to bring the man in.

Nothing further has been learned tending to connect the dead man with the numerous car looters. Fry used to wheel his decrepit mother around the streets and often to neighboring towns in a baby buggy and nearly all of his thefts were to provide for her wants.

Banker Returns to Stand Trial

H. S. Green of Dow City, Ia., Surprises Officers by Giving Himself Up After Six Years' Absence.

DENISON, Ia., Sept. 6.—(Special)—H. S. Green, the Dow City banker who conducted two banks in this county which failed in April, 1904, after which he fled, returned today and surrendered to the sheriff. Apparently little effort had been made to reach him on indictments against him, until the arrest of Cashier Booth of the Dow City bank about three weeks ago. Then the sheriff set about to locate Green.

Last Thursday County Attorney Klinker received a telegram from Green, sent from Los Angeles, saying he was about to come back. He was released on a $2,000 bond. On his way to Iowa Green went to Twin Falls, Idaho, and saw Booth and talked the situation over with him, deciding finally to hold to his resolution to return and face trial.

The court meets next week, when both Green and Booth will ask speedy trial. Klinker and Sheriff Cummings had told no one of the Los Angeles telegram, so the return of Green is a complete surprise. The return of Green is a complete surprise. The return of Green is a complete surprise.

Double Century Race to Aitken

National Car Wins at Indianapolis After Record-Breaking Race Through.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 6.—Fighting all the way, first with his team mate, Al Livingston, then for 155 miles with Harroun in his Marmon "Wasp" until the "Wasp" broke a coupling in the sixty-eighth lap, Johnny Aitken, the driver, won the 200-mile race and $1,000 in the closing event of the season at the Indianapolis motor speedway this afternoon. Aitken took the lead from Livingston at the second of the second lap and held it for twenty miles. Harroun then led for ten miles, when Aitken jumped in front but soon lost the lead again to the Marmon "Wasp."

Harroun, pushed by Aitken, set a pace that at the end of seventy-five miles, just after he had stopped for a new tire, gave Aitken, who jumped into the lead, a new world's record for that distance. Aitken's time for the fifty-five miles was 2:21.2, while the previous record was 2:24.4, also held by the National driver.

In the fifty-mile free-for-all event, Eddie Hearne, driving a 120-horse power Benz, jumped into the lead from the start and never was headed, although pushed hard by De Palma, driving a 200-horse power Fiat. Hearne's time for twenty miles, 1:15.4, beat the world's record for that distance, 1:15.8, made by Robertson in a Fiat.

Hearne, in a Benz, won the fifty-mile race. Hearne won the first twenty miles in 1:05.4, a world's record for that distance. Hearne, in a Benz 120-horse power machine, led all the cars. Harroun, in his Marmon, was second. Livingston, in a Benz, was third. Time: 2:25.25. Prizes: $200 for winner, $600 for second and $300 for third.

A National, driven by Wilcox, won the five-mile contest for cars with 10 cubic inches displacement. Time: 4:09.20. Bardoll, driving a McFarlan, captured the five-mile handicap. Time: 3:08.82.

Copy of Bee Put in Cornerstone

Massive Piece Raised to Admit Copy of Newspaper Containing Full Details of Ceremonial.

The cornerstone of the new First Congregational church that was laid Sunday afternoon was raised yesterday and the box it contained opened for the purpose of putting into it a copy of the Omaha Daily Bee of yesterday morning containing a full account of the ceremonies and services connected with laying the stone. The stone itself is a massive piece of gray Bedford sandstone, which has shown such enduring qualities that this block should be capable of resisting the leveling hand of time for many years.

It is expected construction work will be pushed with such rapidity that the structure will be ready for dedication by the beginning of the year. When completed it will be in all respects the most beautiful and imposing church edifice in the city, and perhaps the best example of modernized Doric architecture in the state. It is also probable that the estimated cost of $35,000 will be considerably exceeded, for the architect, F. E. Cox, has been given increased latitude and will elaborate rather than curtail the details of construction and ornamentation.

When the church is ready for dedication there will not be a dollar of debt. It is located just off the northwest corner of Bayles park, the most central location possible. The new building has been made possible through the splendid energy and executive ability of Dr. O. O. Smith, the pastor.

Co-Operation of Postal Employees Enables Department to Save Big Sum.

SARATOGA, N. The annual meeting of the Postoffice Clerks' National Association was held yesterday at Saratoga, N. Y. Present, C. S. Overturf, president of the association, president and respondent DeGraw, and other speakers were: George Dietrich, who discussed "The Business Man's View of the Postoffice," and John T. Hazen and F. Rescued Sailors Tell of Fight with Fire on Lost Ship

PISHGOWD, Wales, Sept. 6.—The steamer Mauretania arrived here today, having on board Captain Pinkham and fifteen of his crew, who were picked up by the Cunarder after they had been at sea in a small boat for six days, following the burning of their vessel, the British tramp steamer Westport, which was wrecked Monday evening at the Westport.

Captain Pinkham said that the fire on the Westport started in the engine room on August 27. The flames drove the engineers from their posts and spread so rapidly that soon the donkey engines operating the pumps were disabled by the heat. An attempt was made to extinguish the fire by a bucket brigade, but the hopelessness of the effort was quickly apparent and the captain ordered small boats lowered. From the bunkers the flames made their way to the store room and galley and prevented the provisioning of the boat. The intense heat repeatedly drove back the sailors, who hoped to secure food sufficient to keep them until they were picked up by a passing vessel.

Though pressed hard by the fire, the crew stood by their ship until Sunday afternoon, while the captain ordered all hands to abandon the vessel. Throughout that night the boats, each carrying sixteen persons, cruised in the vicinity and in the morning another attempt was made to secure much needed stores. The burning craft, which was then sinking, was again boarded, but scarcely had the crew reached the boat when Monday evening the ship foundered.
