GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat Held Firm, but Bearish Sentiment Prevails.

COLD WEATHER BOOSTS CORN

Cash Demand on All Grain is Poor and No Improvement is Expected —Market is a Strong One Thursday.

OMAHA, Sept. 8, 1910.

Opening cables were lower again. Wheat held firm early, due mostly to the strength in corn. The situation is unchanged and bearish sentiment rules. Cash demand shows no improvement and premiums are off 1c.

Cooler temperatures and reports of frost in the northwest started a rally in corn. The market was strong, ranging higher throughout the day.

After the first bulge in wheat values were hammered lower by elevator houses offering large lots. Buyers were not supporting the market and closing values showed a loss of 1c to 2c in cash prices.

The cooler weather caused considerable nervousness in corn during the early trading and prices were advanced 1½c to 3c. Offerings were more liberal on the advance and the market eased back.

Primary wheat receipts were 1,334,000 bushels and shipments were 727,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 1,235,000 bushels and shipments of 468,000 bushels.

Primary corn receipts were 1,174,000 bushels and shipments were 313,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 1,079,000 bushels and shipments of 338,000 bushels.

Clearances were 74,000 bushels of corn, none of oats and wheat and flour equal to 307,000 bushels.

Liverpool closed ¼d to ¾d lower on wheat, and ¼d higher on corn.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Almost to a man Chicago speculators today expect the government crop report to show an increase in the spring wheat yield as compared with the estimate last month. In consequence, there was profit-taking and liquidation on a large scale, in the belief that the federal figures would have a bearish effect on prices. Last sales were at the same level as last night to ¼@⅝c below. Corn finished with a gain of ⅝@⅞c, and oats at a loss of ¼@⅝c to ⅝c. Hog products made an irregular close, varying from 30c to 17½c decline.

Barring a little bulge early, when corn advanced on a frost scare, there were no strong spots in the wheat market. A depressing influence was the disposition of buyers to keep away from cash wheat here and in other centers. Moreover, the spread between the September and May options widened to within a shade of 10½c, the largest so far this season. Millers reported a poor demand for flour. Argentine shipments were large and primary receipts exceptionally heavy. A prompt upturn in corn was the leading seller of wheat, as for nearly a week past, during which time there has been a decline of about 4c.

Fluctuations in the December option were 99¾@99⅞c and $1.01, with the finish steady at $1.00 to $1.00⅛@1.00½, with a net loss of a shade to ⅛c.

Predictions of frost caught many short sellers of corn. December ranged from 55½c to 56⅝@56½c, closing firm at 55⅞c to 56⅛@56c, a net gain of ¼c to ⅝c. Cash demand was also slow. No. 2 yellow closed at 57¼@58½c.

Oats declined to the lowest point of the season. December sold from 34½@34¾c, and in the end was 34¾c, a loss of ⅜c, compared with last night.

Provisions in the main were higher. Final quotations were 2½c higher to 17½c lower for pork, 5c to 15@17½c up for lard, and ribs at an advance of 7½c to 30c.

Futures ranged as follows:

WEATHER IN THE GRAIN BELT

Cooler is the Prediction for the Next Twenty-Four Hours.

OMAHA, Sept. 8, 1910.

The area of high pressure, with cooler weather noted moving in over the northwest Wednesday morning, is rapidly extending down over the Missouri valley and eastern Rocky mountain slope, and the weather is decidedly cooler throughout the upper valleys and west to the mountains this morning. Showers continued in the northwest during Wednesday and rains were general in the central valleys last night. Rains continue this morning on the eastern Rocky mountain slope and are falling in the lower Missouri and middle Mississippi valleys. The weather is clearing in the northwest and heavy frosts occurred in western North Dakota. The rains in Nebraska last night were scattered and were apparently confined to the eastern portion of the state. Rains in excess of one inch occurred at the following points: Hartington, 1.20 inches; Auburn, 1.10 inches. The pressure will continue to rise over the central valleys during the next twenty-four hours and the weather will be cooler in this vicinity tonight and will continue cool Friday. Frost tonight is predicted for the west portion of Nebraska.

NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Political Conditions Cast Aside as Relating to Market.

CROP REPORTS RECEIVED LATE

Monthly Statement of Copper Producers' Association Insufficient to Relieve Apprehension Felt in that Line of Trade.

NEW YORK, Sept. 8.—The small contingent of operators in stocks laid aside political conditions today in the conviction apparently that they had lost their power to influence prices. The new subjects which were substituted for the attempt to find a motive force which would prove effective made but small impression on the market.

The government crop report, as it did not appear until less than half an hour before the close of the session and after the grain markets had closed for the day, had more effect of pressure on activity than of stimulation.

The monthly statement of the Copper Producers' association was ill-calculated to relieve the apprehension which is felt over the course of affairs in that trade.

The assumption that production was being curtailed as a result of agreements arrived at by conferences among the principal producers held abroad was effectually belied by this showing. The publication came too late to affect foreign markets and an advance in the price of copper occurred in the London market. The effect on securities here was slight.

A further crumbling in the price of American Hide and Leather preferred carried it to 19, the lowest price of the year, after having sold at 32¾c on Tuesday. This represented the culmination of a discreditable episode in stock market manipulation by which a pool in the stock worked on the credulity of a speculative following almost up to the hour of the publication of the annual report.

The time money market was called easier today, but there was no important change in quotations.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $1,065,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.
