

TIDE TURNING BACK TO U. S.

Settlers Hastening Back from Canada to the Corn Belt.

OTIS TELLS OF INCIDENTS

Says that at Least Five Hundred Settlers from N.D. Section in South Dakota Have Recently Returned from Canada.

The tide has turned in the exchange of agricultural population between the United States and Canada, and the balance is rapidly swinging in favor of the states, according to G. M. Otis of Hunt, S. D., one of the foremost real estate operators in the Dakotas.

"In spite of all that is said, the American farmer would rather be a son of Uncle Sam than a nephew of John Bull," said Mr. Otis Monday at the Merchants hotel, "and he is beginning to demonstrate it."

"In three or four counties near Hunt, there are today 200 farmers who I know that have returned to the United States from Canada in the last three or four years—and those are only the cases that have come to my personal knowledge."

"The trend has set in strong, and I have no doubt but that the coming census figures will show the situation in its true light."

Middle West the Beneficiary.

"The great middle northwest will be the chief beneficiary from this new situation. We have land in South Dakota superior to that of Canada, and the emigrants are finding it out and re-emigrating. Nebraska, too, will soon feel the effects of this, as Montana, North Dakota and Wyoming have already."

"In spite of heavy advertising given other sections of the northwest, especially California, I am confident that the greatest development for any region is going to be shown by South Dakota and contiguous states. We have the best land and we're going to get the people to match it, as we have done in the past."

"The same view of the Canadian-American situation is taken by Thomas Ayres, a real estate man of Pierre, S. D., also at the Merchants."

"A great deal of the migration was due to speculation," said Mr. Ayres. "The opening of new lands in the states has overcome that phase of it, and the tramp homesteaders are coming back. Besides this surface drift, however, there were bona fide settlers who have found out the United States is after all the better place, and they are coming back."

"The Dakotas, particularly South Dakota, are filling up rapidly with settlers from the eastern farming states. Nebraska is profiting by this also. We are next door neighbors and the fortunes of the two states are closely connected."

Youth Receives Stab in a Fight

While Rescuing Friend from Five Assaults Michael Sullivan is Wounded.

While taking the part of a friend who was being attacked by several other youths, Michael Sullivan, son of Detective Sullivan, received a stab wound in the breast Sunday afternoon at Twenty-fourth and Ames avenue. John Melvin, who is said to be the youth who wounded Sullivan, made his escape from the scene, and has not been sought by the police.

According to witnesses, young Sullivan and Clifford Cameron, a companion, of 2834 North Twenty-fourth street, came upon five young men attacking a sixth and immediately took a hand in rescuing the victim. In the fracas Melvin struck Sullivan with a knife.

Sticks and bricks and clubs figured in the melee after Sullivan and Cameron took their part in it, according to the report. Two of the first assailants, including Melvin, received severe beatings, but no one was seriously injured. Sullivan lives at 2223 Larimore street. He was able to go to work Monday.

MURRAY PROUD OF HIS PEACH

General Passenger Agent of the Union Pacific is Given the Big Prize.

W. H. Murray, general passenger agent of the Union Pacific, is the proud possessor of a ten-ounce peach, almost as proud of it as if he had raised it himself. Ten ounces may not sound very big to most minds, but when you take into consideration the fact that it takes a good-sized peach to tip the scales at five ounces his fruit is some bouncer.

The peach is one of the many which was on exhibition at the Boise Commercial club's part of the Lincoln state fair, and was grown by irrigation methods in Boise valley. Idaho. E. L. Clark of that city is in Omaha today, and has several of the big prizes in his grip to last him on the way home. He claims that an acre of the trees off which the big one came will fill an ordinary refrigerator car for shipment.

JOSEPH E. BARKER IS SICK

Member of the Board of Governors of Ak-Sar-Ben Has Typhoid Fever.

Joseph E. Barker, member of the Board of Governors of Ak-Sar-Ben and prominent insurance man, is ill with typhoid fever at his home, 108 South Eighteenth street.

"Mr. Barker has been ill for some days and the case was diagnosed as typhoid on Friday, but the news has been kept quiet and will come as a shock to friends and associates."

"Mr. Barker is resting easily today and is on the whole slightly better," said a member of the household Monday.

Mr. Barker's illness will probably cause him to miss out on the fall festival of Ak-Sar-Ben, in which as a governor he is of course deeply interested.
