AD MEN TO HAVE BLOWOUT
 Club Will Dine at Rathskellar and See Show.

TO BE MUSIC HALL GUESTS
 Entertainment Planned for Tuesday Night to Be Light and Airy, and Serious Words Will Bring Punishment to Perpetrator.

Members of the Omaha Ad club will dine together Tuesday evening at the Henshaw rathskellar and will then go to the American Music Hall as guests of the theater management, which has reserved enough tickets to seat the whole membership of the club.

At the dinner there will be no set speeches, but President Ralph E. Sunderland will outline the plans of the organization for the coming season and other members of the executive committee will discuss their activities. Besides the serious side of the talks there will be enough of light and airy persiflage to keep the ad men from being bored by each other.

At 11 o'clock, under command of Generalissimo Bob Manley, chairman of the entertainment committee, the advertisers will form in line and march to the Douglas street vaudeville theater, where the ad men will go with the avowed purpose of making their presence felt. All members who are not able to begin the evening with the dinner will be given theater tickets at the rathskellar and allowed to join the party.

The whole affair is planned for strictly political purposes and serious remarks will be punished severely by those in charge.

STRONG MOVE FOR PENSIONS
 Local Veterans Send Out Circulars to All Branches for Congressional Support.

Following the action of civil war veterans held Tuesday evening, at which the National Tribune Pension Bill was endorsed, circulars were sent out from local headquarters to all the commanders of the Grand Army of the Republic in the country. The various heads are requested to get the endorsement of the congressmen and senators from their district to the pension bill, so that the matter will be brought before congress with a high show of support early in the coming session.

Following is the text of the circular:

All a mass meeting of veterans of the civil war, held at Omaha, Neb., on the evening of September 20, 1910, the bill known as the "National Tribune Pension Bill" was unanimously endorsed as acceptable to the comrades assembled. To make this action effective, the approval, in writing, of the various senatorial and congressional candidates, irrespective of party lines, was obtained, including themselves to support and secure, if possible, its enactment into law.

We believe the practical value of the above rests in the written pledges of the various candidates, now in our hands, given to us before election.

We urge our comrades throughout the several departments of the Grand Army of the Republic to secure the pledges and to do it now. Time is swiftly passing, and soon to the last veteran "dead will be his star to the drum-beat of morn." Do this act; do not put it off one day, so that action may be had on this measure in the 21st days of the approaching congress.

The necessity for united action finds an illustration in an historic incident. When it was decided to erect an equestrian statue of Peter the Great, in St. Petersburg, an immense boulder outside the city limits was chosen for the pedestal. Large numbers of horses were attached to the boulder, and, under the shouts of the drivers, a mass of whips they were urged forward, but they could not move the great rock—they did not pull together. A thousand men were tried and at the dropping of the signal, the boulder began to move under united and intelligent effort.

schedule, and Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island said that "I was not in harmony with my people; I want to know whether the people were with me or with Mr. Aldrich. A democratic victory means that the people want to rebuke me and endorse the statesman from Rhode Island. If this Fifth district should elect a democratic congressman, it would be a rebuke to Congressman Norris for the splendid fight he led for a better method of legislation in the house of representatives. In my judgment, whatever your politics may be you are not willing to have the state recorded that way and you can not afford to have it so recorded.

Democrats and Savings Banks.
 "I read in a democratic paper the other day an article on postal savings banks. In which the editor said that the democrats should be congratulated on the establishment of the postal savings banks. I am congratulated on its passage, but they are not entitled to any credit for it. Just one lone democrat in the United States senate voted for the bill, and he was a poor maverick who came from Oregon and got into the senatorial corral by the votes of a republican legislature that instructed him how to vote upon this and a few other important matters. Your republican senators worked for that law and voted for it, and in my judgment the people of this state were with them in their votes and are not ready to rebuke them for it."

Democrats Exposed.
 Senator Burkett talked at St. Paul this afternoon to several hundred people in the courthouse grove, almost entirely upon national issues. He declared the reason why the republicans were kept in power year after year is that the party leans its closer touch with the people and it is more responsive to their ideas. As an illustration, he pointed to the last democratic legislature, condemned at the close of its session by its own party press, and contrasted its record with that of the last republican congress which placed more progressive legislation on the statute books than had been put there by any previous congress.

The explanation, he said, that the republican party is founded on the idea that the government has a right to do things for the people, protect them in their trade and convenience, establish market places and conserve their interests generally, while the democratic holds to the contrary theory.

Congressman Kinhaid reviewed the work of the last congress and declared this to be a poor time to saddle a do-nothing congress on the president as electing a democratic house would do.

SULTAN OF SULU IN NEW YORK
 Oriental Potentate Will Visit Principal Cities of the United States.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Hadjji Mohammed Jamalul Kiram II, sultan of Sulu, titular head of the Mohammedan faith in the Philippine islands, and pensioner of the United States, arrived today on board the steamer St. Louis, accompanied by Dario Ralo Moda, his personal adviser; Charles J. Wordie, an interpreter, and four Jolo attendants. Here to meet the sultan on his arrival and give him formal welcome to the United States was Major Hugh L. Scott, fourteenth United States cavalry, formerly governor of the Sulu archipelago.

The oriental potentate will remain in New York several weeks and will later visit the principal cities of the United States. During his stay here he will renew the acquaintance of President Taft.

Major Scott went down the bay in a revenue cutter to meet the sultan and was the first to greet him.

Kiram II, through an interpreter, said he wanted to understand that he has at the present time just one wife.

"I believe it is best now to have but one wife," he said. "An abundance of wives make one a lot poorer and in other ways causes too much trouble."

The sultan, who has been credited with the possession of a valuable collection of pearls, the product of the islands, said that he was not going to sell any pearls in this country, despite the report that he would do so. He said that since he left Jolo he had sold several lots.

Gooble of South Dakota Shoots His Former Wife
 Rancher Goes to Chicago and, Failing to Bring About Reconciliation, Uses His Gun.

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—(Special Telegram.)—Police of the Twenty-second street station conducted a city-wide search today for Frank Gooble, a rancher from South Dakota, who is accused of having shot his former wife, Rose Gooble, at 326 West Twenty-fourth street, here.

The woman is at Wesley hospital suffering from a bullet wound in the abdomen and another in the right leg. Her condition is serious, but the doctors said they believed she would recover. The bullet which entered the abdomen was located near the spine and was removed by the physicians. Immediately after the shooting Gooble fled and the police failed to trace him.

Gooble married the woman ten years ago.

Statue to the Father of South Dakota's Schools

The clay model of General W. H. H. Beadle, who is generally known throughout the state as the "father of the educational system of South Dakota," has been completed by H. Daniel Webster, a noted sculptor, who has been at work upon the model in Sioux Falls for several weeks.

From the clay model a fine, statue of General Beadle will be carved by Mr. Webster. The statue will be made from Tennessee marble, which has been ordered shipped from the quarries in Tennessee direct to the sculptor's studio at Westport, Conn. The statue will be life-sized and when completed will be placed in the handsome new state capitol building at Pierre.

Money for the making of the statue was contributed by the school children of South Dakota. The fund is in the care of state officials and other prominent residents of the state, who, after careful investigation of various sculptors, selected Mr. Webster to do the work. The marble statue will be finished in about one year, when it will be shipped to South Dakota and placed in the new capitol building. Suitable exercises will attend the placing of the statue in the capitol building.

H. Daniel Webster, to whom was assigned the important task of making the statue, spent his boyhood in Sioux Falls and is a graduate of the Sioux Falls high school. His mother yet resides in Sioux Falls. He has produced a number of noted works of art and gained fame in the east for the excellence of work done for the Tiffany's. Hundreds of people have inspected the clay model shown in the accompanying illustration and all unite in pronouncing it a most excellent representation of General Beadle, who posed a few hours each day for a period of twenty-four days for the forming of the clay model.

He was unable to provide for her as she desired and after a quarrel they separated. He went to South Dakota and prospered. He purchased a ranch and his fortune increased. He returned to Chicago and sought his wife, but found she had filed a suit for divorce, which had been granted. Despite this, he offered to do his share toward reconciliation, but she declined. His fortune dwindled, and becoming discouraged, the police say, he shot the woman in desperation.

Coming to Chicago unexpectedly, Gooble concealed himself in a rear doorway of his wife's home and when she appeared, it is said, he shot her.

Governor Harman Opens Campaign

CANTON, O., Sept. 24.—The democratic state campaign opened here today with Governor Judson Harman of Ohio, candidate for re-election and the choice of Ohio democrats for the presidential nomination in 1912, as the chief feature on the program. The republican campaign opened a week ago today at Kenton.

In his keynote speech today Governor Harman scored the present national administration and told his hearers the only hope for the people lay in the success of a national democratic ticket.

The speaker declared that wasteful expenditures had led the republican party to overtax the nation to the extent of $500,000,000, and called the Payne-Aldrich tariff revision legislation opposed to the interests of the consumers, who were not benefited by fair talk in attempts to defend it. He declared the republican party had not kept its campaign promises.

Governor Harman said:

"Congress is now appropriating a billion dollars at each session, every cent of which is levied on the people of the country by taxation in some form. It is confessed that extravagance and mismanagement cause a waste of not less than three hundred million dollars each year in the ordinary conduct of the government, which is more than the combined expenditures of all the states in the union. It is surely time the people should bestir themselves, for every one of them is compelled to pay federal taxes on almost everything he buys for consumption, or other use, whether he owns property or not.

"And every one is not only compelled to contribute to this enormous outlay of the federal government, but is also made to pay a much greater amount in the form of increased prices on goods made in this country, because of a tariff law framed

Receiver is Asked for Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad

Bill Charges Fraud in Filing Recent Mortgage and Asks Cancellation of Action.
 LOGANSPORT, Ind., Sept. 24.—Suit was filed in the Cass county circuit court here today asking that a receiver be appointed for the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad and that the charter of the company be revoked and the corporation be dissolved. Fraud is charged in filing of a recent mortgage.

The suit asks that a receiver be appointed. The immediate cause of the suit was the filing on September 5 by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad company of Indiana of a mortgage for $400,000 in favor of the Mercantile Trust company of New York, covering all of the property alleged to be held by the company, but which is held by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad company of Virginia, a foreign corporation. It is averred on the complaint that the Indiana company was forced to take over the old Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville railroad property, which was sold recently by James P. Goodrich, receiver, on the order of the United States circuit court for Indiana district.

Mayor Nathan Replies to Pope

Says Pontiff Made Contrast Between Past and Present More Evident Than He Did.
 ROME, Sept. 24.—Mayor Nathan, whose recent speech criticizing the papacy called forth a rebuke from the pope, today issued a reply to his holiness.

The mayor says the pope makes more evident than did the pope's speech the contrast between the Rome of the past and the Rome of the present.

The mayor continues, saying that as the supreme pontiff, from the highest chair in St. Peter's says his duty is to tell the truth as it appears to him, so the mayor has an equal duty to his fellow citizens to delineate the new political and civil era. The offense taken by the pope did not come from his words, says the mayor, but from the fact that advancing fatally with sure steps, even as the dawning day, the new Italy is lighting the road for anxious travelers. The influences guiding the people are ruled by laws that govern the universe. They are above the pontiff and the mayor. Mr. Nathan concludes:

"These forces move, evolve and broaden. Men raise their eyes, seeking a faith illumined by knowledge, if I have offended the duty of my office, the citizens must judge me. If I have offended religion my tranquil conscience without any intermediary will answer before God."

Quiet Day at Sagamore Hill

Thick of Fight on the Old Guard is Now Moved to Saratoga.
 OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Sept. 24.—The thick of the fight between the republican progressives and the "old guard" moved today from Sagamore Hill to Saratoga with the departure of Colonel Roosevelt's lieutenants for the state convention. Colonel Roosevelt said he was expecting no visitors today, although there might be some this afternoon. He will remain at Sagamore Hill until Monday morning, when he will leave for Saratoga. In the meantime he will keep closely in touch with the situation.

 Small College Plays Entire Game with But Eleven Men—Time Out Once for Injuries—Burden on Offense.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—New foot ball had its first test here today in the game between Pennsylvania and Ursinus, the latter winning 8 to 5. There was no fumble to the victory. Ursinus clearly outplayed Pennsylvania in three of the four periods. Whether it was forward passing, end running, or line plunging the visitors were superior to the Pennsylvanians.

In the first quarter Ursinus scored a goal from placement and in the third made a touchdown after a forty-yard run that was started with a forward pass. Pennsylvania did not rally until the final period, when Ramsdell, the sprinter, entered the game and scored the only touchdown for Pennsylvania.

After the game Dr. Carl Williams, who helped draft the new rules, declared his belief that they have imposed too great a burden on the offense and that two teams evenly matched and conditioned would have great difficulty in scoring. He advised that the distance to be gained in three three downs be reduced from ten yards to five yards, or that a runner be allowed to receive assistance from at least one of his interceptors.

The game was surprisingly clean. Only four penalties were inflicted for assisting the runner, three against Ursinus and one against Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania made eight substitutions, two men taking parts twice. Ursinus played the entire game with but eleven men. Only once was time taken out for an injured player.

After the game both sides criticized the division of time into four periods, declaring that it slowed up the game and was not necessary to save the players from exhaustion. The lineup:

John A. Fox Advocates More Money on River

Special Director of Rivers and Harbors Congress Makes Address to Citizens of Pierre.
 PIERRE, S. D., Sept. 23.—(Special.)—John A. Fox, special director of the National Rivers and Harbors congress, with headquarters at Washington, is making a tour of the northwest in the interest of river improvement, and made a talk here this evening, his subject being the "Missouri river," which is being discussed as one of the proper subjects of government attention.

The manner of government improvement of rivers was one of the topics of discussion by Mr. Fox, who showed, as is well known to those who live along the stream that it is largely wasted so far as aid to navigation is concerned, the only place where the money has ever benefited anyone being where the banks of the stream have been protected from erosion.

The government has since 1858, expended on the improvement of the Missouri river from the mouth to Fort Benton, $1,600,000, and it would be hard to show what has been accomplished by the expenditure of the larger part of this money. The demand of the river congress is that the work shall be in line of benefit for navigation. The plan, as outlined by Mr. Fox, is for an appropriation of $80,000,000 on the Missouri. Of this, $20,000,000 would be placed on the stream from its mouth to Kansas City; $20,000,000 between Kansas City and St. Louis; and $40,000,000 above St. Louis. This would be at the rate of approximately $60,000 a mile from the mouth of the stream to the western border of North Dakota.
