Bennett's Make a Very Lavish Display of Glorious Fall Millinery, Tomorrow

The artistic touch in millinery is strikingly reflected in this the finest assemblage of Autumn Hats in town. Thousands of them are shown, yet scarcely two are alike. It affords such scope for satisfactory choosing it's a real pleasure to buy. Whatever the price you care to pay Bennett's will show you the greatest variety at that price. The supremacy of our styles is unquestioned and just as much attention to detail is given to hats at $10.00 as those at $75.00 or $100.00. A particularly impressive showing of magnificent hats for Ak-Sar-Ben days and coronation ball is one of the big features of the week. Don't forget prices are always more moderate here.

CENTURY OF MISSION WORK

Movement as an Organization is Hundred Years Old. ANNIVERSARY JUBILEE IN BOSTON

Mission Hymnal in Process of Revision Eliminates the Time-Honored "From Greenland's Icy Mountains."

BY D. V. FRANCIS. NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—(Special to The Bee.)—The missionary movement as an organization is just 100 years old this year and the centennial of the formation of the American Board of Foreign Missions—the oldest of the American societies—will be duly celebrated at Boston next month in this country the United States has taken the lead of all nations in foreign missionary work.

Contributions of the United States have come to $100,000,000 in a total of $21,000,000 a year. There are 1,177 missionaries who are supported by American gifts, and they employ almost 52,000 native teachers and preachers. There are 700,000 members of Christian churches in heathen lands. The present measure of Christian unity is said to be largely due to the reflex influence of the mission fields. It is noted as remarkable by ministers that foreign missions have always been condemned, and yet have always thrived. Commercial men in the east have almost universally opposed the missionary and his work, and yet it is argued by church pupils that the missionaries and not the advance agents of commerce have brought to America the Oriental trade as she enjoys. Such men as Bishop Brent, the Rev. Dr. John P. Jones, the Rev. Dr. Daniel C. Greene and many others, are credited with having shown to the Orient, American civilization in its best form.

No More the Old Song. The old missionary hymn, "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," has been dropped from a mission hymnal which is to be submitted for approval to the convention of the Episcopal church when it meets in Cincinnati next month. Since the hymn reached the regular church-going public a little while ago there has been some indignation and surprise expressed. Protestants have been sent to church periodicals and in all the delegates and commissioners to the convention of the Episcopal church, when it meets in Cincinnati next month. Since the hymn reached the regular church-going public a little while ago, there has been some indignation and surprise expressed. Bishop Heber's famous old hymn is cast out by the committee of bishops, priests and laymen in charge of the new hymnal it won't be because public opinion has not been expressed. In proposed mission hymnal there are 172 selections, all of which the committee has preferred to the one which, since its com-

DEATHS FROM RARE DISEASE

Census Bureau Reports on Fatalities of Four of Interest. GIVE SOME INTERESTING FIGURES

Infantile Paralysis Harvests Many Babies, but Cities of Over 100,000 Show Few Deaths from This Cause.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—There were 569 deaths from acute anterior poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis, 119 from pellagra, fifty-five from rabies, or hydrophobia, and nine deaths from leprosy in 1909. In the death registration area of continental United States, which comprises over 95 per cent of the total population, according to the census bureau's forthcoming bulletin on mortality statistics for 1909 submitted to Census Director Durand by Dr. Cressy L. Wilbur, chief statistician for vital statistics. It is reported that, of the 569 deaths from infantile paralysis, 323 were of white and only seventeen of colored persons. There was a somewhat greater incidence of disease among males and an increased mortality in August, September and October.

The bulletin states that no statistical segregation of infantile paralysis as a cause of death has been made heretofore, but the increasing importance of the disease and its wide prevalence throughout the country in the form of local epidemics render a statement of the mortality important. Like meningitis, which it somewhat resembles, it is difficult to obtain an exact separation of the deaths from the specific infectious disease, acute anterior poliomyelitis, from other infections of similar nature. Acute anterior poliomyelitis is described by the bulletin as an acute infectious disease chiefly affecting children in the first five years of life, and while not infrequently fatal is of even more serious consequence as the cause of more or less permanent paralysis and atrophy of muscles. Numerous outbreaks have occurred in this country; the most important of which were those in Vermont, in 1894, and in New York and Connecticut, in 1907. The 569 deaths compiled for the registration area for 1909 were widely distributed, and indicate endemic or epidemic prevalence in many parts of the country. It should be remembered, the bulletin points out, that the census data relate only to registration sources, and that for the nonregistration states the deaths are only those returned from the registration cities contained therein. The deaths from acute anterior poliomyelitis in the registration states numbered as follows: California, 12 (1 in San Francisco); Colorado, 6 (1 in Denver); Connecticut, 8 (1 in New Haven); District of Columbia (city of Washington), 1; Indiana, 14; Maine, 5; Maryland, 4 (1 in Baltimore); Massachusetts, 62 (21 in Boston and 1 in Worcester); Michigan, 16 (2 in Detroit);

NEW YORK CAMPAIGN CLOSES

Roosevelt Says His Chances for Victory Are Even Better Than on Day Before. NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The pre-convention fight between the republican "old guard" and the progressive virtually closed today. After a day of conference with politicians from various parts of the state Colonel Roosevelt said that the chances for victory were even better than yesterday, when he predicted that the progressives would have a majority of at least 100 delegates at the Saratoga convention next week. Colonel Roosevelt spent some time today in going over the draft of a platform. A direct primary plank in particular was considered at length, but no one was willing to say how it should be shaped. Tariff and income planks also received careful consideration. Persistent Advertising is the Road to Big Returns.

ROOSEVELT WILL NOT FLY

Former President Declines to Take Trip in an Aeroplane in St. Louis. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 24.—Governor Hadley received a letter today from Theodore Roosevelt, in which the colonel wrote he did not deem it advisable to go up in an aeroplane while in St. Louis, October 11. There is to be an aviation meet in St. Louis on that day. The promoters invited Mr. Roosevelt accompany one of the aviators on a flight. In the letter Mr. Roosevelt hints that for him to make a flight might be regarded as seeking sensation.

DR. RUCKER CASE DISMISSED

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 23.—The case of Catherine Heisterhoff against Health Commissioner Dr. William Cully Rucker of Milwaukee, in which Rucker was charged with committing a statutory offense, was today dismissed in civil court on motion of District Attorney C. A. A. McGee. Considerable matter of a sensational character, including an offer of marriage by Rucker to Miss Heisterhoff, made by his attorney, was read into the record.
