

Among the Women's Clubs

President of General Federation Will Visit Omaha Clubs—State Convention of Women's Christian Temperance Union at Fairbury This Week—Scholarships for Daughters of Club Women—Announcements.

WITH the first meeting of the new directory of the Omaha Women's club the season of that important organization may be considered open. It is, therefore, right and proper to now state that the club year is here. The directory held its first meeting Friday morning.

The approaching visit of the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. J. Moore of St. Louis, was a topic of much interest at this meeting, as preliminary arrangements for her entertainment were made. Mrs. Moore, who comes to Nebraska to attend the State Federation convention at Tecumseh, will be in Omaha October 24. The Omaha Women's club will entertain her at breakfast in her honor, the federated clubs of Omaha and the members of the Alumnae Collegiate association. Mrs. Moore is the national president of the college women's organization.

Consideration and acceptance of the regulations governing the five scholarships for which daughters of the Omaha club women may compete was the chief business of the first session. The scholarships, for which examinations are to be held not later than September 27, are:

First—The University of Nebraska, for which $200 is available to aid the successful candidate in defraying expenses.

Second—University of Omaha, which donates a tuition of $100 for four years.

Third—Mary D. Stoddard, which consists of a loan fund of $50 to be used without interest by an Omaha high school graduate paying tuition in Omaha university.

Fourth—The Van Sant Business college, which gives a full business college training for eight months, together with books and incidentals.

Fifth—Brownell Hall, which gives a loan in expenses for tuition and board.

Applications must be made in writing to the president, Mrs. M. D. Cameron, 307 Spring street.

The annual convention of the Nebraska Woman's Christian union is to be held in Fairbury this week, September 27 to 30. An announcement of officers will be made at the meeting, and it is expected that this will be the largest and best the organization has ever held.

Urging a large attendance the press correspondent, Mrs. Anselma Hood says, "There are many reasons why this convention should be well attended. Great issues are at stake just now. The temperance question is evidently to have first place in the coming campaign and will have a crucial test at the polls this fall. Much depends upon our organization as to the outcome."

Tuesday evening a reception will be given to the general officers and delegates at the home of Mrs. Hatfield. The program for the evening meeting includes an address of welcome by the mayor of Fairbury, C. M. Hurlburt; by Rev. M. E. Gilbert of the Methodist Episcopal church, and Mrs. Olive Jackson of the Fairbury union. Following this, Mrs. Hurlburt will respond. The election of officers is held Thursday morning.

Newton Wesley Gaines, a Nebraska man and a well known educator, is to be the principal speaker. Mrs. Frances B. Heidt, Mrs. Helen Hornby, who recently returned from a trip abroad, will give us glimpses of the world's convention.

Tuesday afternoon there will be a delegate's conference presided over by Mrs. Kate Davis, president of the East Lincoln union. Mrs. Ida M. Baum, Mrs. Rose Gray, Miss Alice Harper, Mrs. Emma Sprague, Mrs. Mary E. Hayes. The regular meetings of the league are held the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

The Omaha chapter of the American Women's league held a special meeting Thursday and elected the following new members: Miss Zedie Dorsey, Mrs. S. J. Hunt, Mrs. Helen B. Liggett, Schmoller & Mueller company, Miss Josephine Craig, Mrs. Jeanette M. White of South Omaha, Mrs. W. B. Howard, Mrs. Ida M. Baum, Mrs. Rose Gray, Miss Alice Harper, Mrs. Emma Sprague, Mrs. Mary E. Hayes. The regular meetings of the league are held the first and third Tuesdays of each month.

The Dundee Woman's club will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. F. Ferguson, 228 California street. James Penmore Cooper will be the subject of study. Mrs. D. C. Dodds is leader.

The people of the Old People's home have important dates for this week. First Tuesday is the monthly donation day, an informal reception day when the board of directors are at the home to receive visitors and also to accept the donations which the callers may bring for the home. At this season of the year canned fruits and vegetables are a gift most acceptable. The woman's club of the Railway Mail service, which last Wednesday afternoon had a program at the home for the entertainment of the old people, also donated to the supply of food-stuffs.

Friday afternoon the Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church will give a luncheon in the church dining room and the people of the Old People's home will be their guests. A regular missionary program and business meeting will follow, which will be given for the entertainment of the old people.

A question box each day will be an interesting and instructive feature. One and many friends here. Mrs. Wood, indeed, was a much-loved belle—Miss Condit-Smith—during a girlhood residence in Washington, while Mrs. Swanson, during her husband's service in the house of representatives, was a prominent and attractive figure in official life.

The former governor of New York will take the oath as associate justice of the supreme court in October, when that tribunal convenes for its winter session.

Some weeks before that date the Hughes family is expected to move into the handsome residence in Massachusetts avenue which they have rented. Justice and Mrs. Hughes will be universally welcomed as genuine acquisitions to Washington society.

The "court" families have their own distinct place, an enviable one, be it said, in the many cliques and sets which go to form Washington's complex society, and in which they are acknowledged leaders. One of the four static receptions at the White House, the second in October, is annually given in honor of the justices of the supreme court and their families, and by an old and honored Washington tradition, Monday is set aside as the "at home" day of the justices' wives. Following the reception in their honor at the White House, there is a dinner at which they are also the guests of honor.

In addition, "court" families are recipients of such official entertaining. Famous foreigners are certain to wish to meet the members of a tribunal which is regarded as the bulwark of the greatest republic in the world.

The position of Mrs. Hughes in this dignified circle will be unique, for she will be the youngest matron in the supreme court circle.

The many Washington friends of Mrs. Kenneth G. Castleman, who is ill at Newport, are rejoiced to hear that her condition shows much improvement. Mrs. Castleman was formerly the beautiful Miss Jessie St. John Norton of Louisville and one of the leading belles of the city when she was married seven years ago to Lieutenant Castleman of the navy. She is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Augustus Hone of Kentucky, who was greatly admired in New York about five years ago, when, as Miss Alice Castleman, famous for her beauty in the southland, she attended a number of smart functions.

One of the first of the autumn brides at Washington will be Miss Katherine Leach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick Leach, and Lieutenant Thurston Hughes, United States army. Like most military weddings, the date hinges somewhat upon the bridegroom's ability to get leave at a given time. It was understood, however, before the summer exodus began that Miss Leach's wedding probably would be the first coming together of smart circles in the autumn, and that a date in early October had been selected.

pastor of Trinity Methodist church, of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Weaver announce the marriage of their daughter, Marguerite, to Mr. Walter Jerome Wortham. The wedding took place, the Rev. H. S. France, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Wortham left after the ceremony for Portland, Ore., where they will make their home.

Mrs. Elizabeth F. Cropley has left Washington for Des Moines, Ia., to visit her brother. From there she goes to Wichita, Kan., to visit her sister, Mrs. Edwin Spaulding, formerly Miss Rosa Hilton of this city.

Miss Nye, daughter of Representative Frank M. Nye of Minneapolis, Minn., is now at her home in the far west. According to gossip among her friends in the city, her engagement is shortly to be announced to a Minneapolis man. Miss Nye, who was in Washington during the last congressional session, was much admired.

Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh is still at her home at Bar Harbor, Me., she deciding to remain there for some weeks following the leaving of her son-in-law and daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beale McLean, who are now on their way to Europe.

Miss Theodore Mendel of Denver, Colo., who has been the guest of her uncle, Mr. Charles Mendel of Brookland, was given a farewell party by the many friends she made during her visit previous to her departure for her western home.

Goetz and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt are devoted to their father, and since he has become an invalid, at least one of them is always near him. Mrs. Vanderbilt now is cruising in foreign waters with Mr. Vanderbilt on board his yacht, the North Star.

Newport, as usual, has opened the season of fashionable weddings and from now on until the dawn of dehaute's day in late November, the interest of small circles will center in their brides and bridegrooms.

The marriage of Miss Irene Sherman and Mr. Lawrence L. Gillespie at the Newport home of the bride's parents last Thursday, was to have been followed this Thursday by the marriage of Miss Edith Deacon, one of a group of sisters no less noted as belles than the Sherman sisters have been, to Mr. George L. Peabody, Miss Deacon's wedding, like that of Miss Sherman, was to have been a home ceremony, taking place at the residence of her grandmother, Mrs. Charles H. Baldwin.

Owing to Mr. Peabody's recent illness, however, resulting from a sunstroke in July, the postponement of this wedding until January has just been announced. Both Miss Deacon and the bridegroom are of distinguished families and all outdoor accomplishments that are essential to the belle of today as are the graces of the drawing room and ball room, that it seemed especially fitting their wedding should take place there.

WOMEN'S CLUBS IN FEDERATION

Practical Things Done by an Organization with Membership of 800,000 Women.

Some of the practical things done by the General Federation of Women's clubs and its influence in a moving century are described in the October number of the Bulletin of the Federation. The writer says in part:

The development of the woman's club in scope, modernity, activity and efficiency is a truly amazing thing. It is a case of spiritual evolution, during which a small personal motive has become transmuted into a great and altruistic force. The wisdom of the ages has often proved that it is only what you give away that you can ever possess, and the woman's clubs have proved it again. The woman who belongs to a Browning club for the sake of the personal culture to be achieved doubtless gets a return that is not to be spoken of lightly. But the woman who joins a civic club, and is the means of bringing cleanliness and order out of the dirt and confusion of her town, or of replacing graft by honesty, or of establishing free baths and reading-rooms, or of saving some natural beauty or historic landmark from destruction, such woman actually, in a sense, a security, a knowledge of her own capabilities and limitations that go to strengthen the very fiber of her life, and must become a valuable asset to the race.

It was impossible for anyone who attended the tenth biennial of the General Federation at Cincinnati this year not to be deeply impressed with two facts. One of these was the directness, the business-like methods and the willingness to work displayed by the major part of the women assembled, and the other, and the more important, was the really extraordinary democracy of the movement. This democracy was the distinguished characteristic of that great gathering of women from every state and almost every social environment comprised in the union; it was a welding of woman into woman, and it is difficult to overestimate the meaning of such a development.

An interesting recognition of the power of the federation to get things done is one of the signs of the times. Men with a plan for constructive or preventative legislation like to get the woman's clubs behind them. It was the New Jersey federation that saved the Palisades. It was the effort of the general federation that passed a pure food bill.

A part of the influence of the federation lies, doubtless, in its immense power of publicity. Composed of some 12,000 clubs, with a membership of 800,000 women, it can reach the entire country, and when it votes to push a certain measure it is able to exert a personal and local power in every part of the country. When Henry Turner Bailey lectured on art at the last biennial, he voiced a plan for the mountain-lair in the national flower, adding a numerous array of excellent reasons for its selection, and assuring the women that their support was the one needed factor.

The insistence on the civic work of the federation may seem excessive but it is only necessary to glance over the programs of the various clubs and state federations to see how strong is the trend in that direction. The clubs that, to quote Mrs. Decker, have come to believe in "Doing rather than Daring" find in civic labor a field close at hand, and one that tries to be filled. Nevertheless, there is a vast amount of work in other directions that is occupying the federation, whose departments include, besides civic, art, civil service reform, education, food sanitation, forestry, health, household economics, industrial and child labor conditions, legislation, literature and library extension. These departments have at their head women of proved efficiency, who are assisted by capable and carefully chosen co-workers.
