Commercialism in Oberammergau. WIRETAPLAND, Wyo., Oct. 6.—To the Editor of The Bee: Passing through Omaha this morning I obtained a copy of The Bee and was much interested in Frank L. Haller's impression of Oberammergau...

As for the play itself, very few come away with Mr. Haller's impression of it. That he failed utterly to enter into the spirit of it—the spirit which pervades it from beginning to end—is evident in his shallow comparison of Cook & Son to the two thieves...

I went there half cynical, half curious, expecting commercialism, the cheap and the tawdry. But I found none of these things. The performance impressed me as few plays have done. And it seemed to impress just as deeply the vast majority of the audience, an audience made up of matter-of-fact Germans, American tourists of all sorts, soldiers, peasants and millionaires...

We escaped the disillusionment of the next day, if there was any, by going back to Omaha the same night. Frank Lang was reluctant to let us off because "everybody stayed," but she did. As to the rumor that the play will be given every five years in future, I have yet to see it substantiated. A. D. SNIVELY.

Mrs. N. C. Houston Dies of Injuries Woman Whose Automobile Struck Mail Car Passes Away at Her Home.

Mrs. N. C. Houston died at her home at 2112 South Thirty-second avenue at about 11 o'clock this morning, death resulting from injuries received in the automobile accident of Wednesday morning, when she collided with a mail car at Woolworth and Park avenue. Although there was some slight injury to the brain, according to Dr. W. O. Henry, who attended her, death was probably caused by some internal hemorrhage. Mrs. Houston was about 35 years of age. She is survived by her husband, who is a live stock broker at South Omaha. Funeral arrangements have not been made as yet.

Holdup Men Rob Victim

Confronted by two blue steel revolvers, R. C. Wiblhouse, 2707 Corby street, was robbed by a pair of highwaymen at Twenty-sixth and Lake streets Wednesday night. The holdup men wore black masks over their eyes, and appeared to be about five feet six inches tall each. Wiblhouse was forced to give up $20, which constituted all the money he had in his possession at that time.

Frank Rogers, a retired druggist, who has temporarily been making his home at the Vincent for some months past, was taken suddenly ill Tuesday evening and was removed to the Clarkson hospital Wednesday forenoon in an inconspicuous condition. Drs. Van Camp and Bridger were in attendance during the day. He had not regained consciousness at a late hour last night and his condition is considered to be extremely grave.

SENIORS ARRESTED AND FINED. MITCHELL, S. D., Oct. 6.—Game Warden Slater is making the violation of the law in this county very unpopular. He came unexpectedly upon two fellows by the name of Davis and Christopher, sitting on the bank of the river. He hid in a clump of bushes for three or four minutes and efforts were rewarded by seeing them draw a seine from the river and land some fish. He placed the two men under arrest and today they were brought before the justice of the peace, who fined Christopher $20, if he being the minimum sum under the law and $10 was his first offense. Davis was given a fine of $25 for a second offense.

The accident happened on the Iowa side of the bridge at the turn out, and for some twenty minutes the service was interrupted.

Hoke Smith Elected Georgia's Governor Brown Defeated on Independent Ticket by Landslide—Constitutional Amendment Carries.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 6.—Hoke Smith was today elected to serve a second term as governor of Georgia. Incomplete returns indicate Governor Joseph M. Brown, who defeated Smith two years ago and who was defeated for the gubernatorial nomination in the August democratic primary, whose name was today placed before the voters as an independent candidate, did not receive a majority of the vote cast in any one of the 14 counties of the state. All of the regular democratic nominees for state and county offices were elected, the vote for the socialist ticket being inconsequential.

BAXTER SUES COAL COMPANY Alleges C. B. Havens & Co. Used Wrong Method of Collecting.

Choice of an alleged wrong method to collect a $25 coal bill from Clarence E. Baxter will cost C. B. Havens & Co. $100, if Baxter wins a suit against the company commenced in district court Thursday. In his petition Baxter declares that through both the coal concern are residents of Omaha his creditor went to the justice court of E. C. Caldwell, South Omaha, four miles away, and sued on the account, garnishing his wages in the hands of the Nebraska Telephone company; he declared that as he was a married man his salary and all the property he had in the world were exempt from seizure and the justice release his wages; this the justice refused to do after a conference with C. B. Havens Co.; Baxter then asked the coal concern to release his wages, but it refused to do so. He therefore asks judgment in the sum of $100 for the money garnished and as damages sustained by reason of the Havens concern's action in the matter.

ATTACK ON PROHIBITION LAW CAUSES CONTEMPT CHARGE Ex-Mayor Head of Nashville Cited to Appear Before Tennessee Supreme Court.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 6.—The supreme court of Tennessee today made a ruling against James M. Head, ex-governor of Nashville, citing him to appear before the tribunal on October 17 at Knoxville to answer the charge of contempt and to show cause why he should not be discharged. Ex-Mayor Head in a newspaper interview recently was quoted as saying that a combination exists in the state among the republicans, corporate interests, and manufacturers, and the extreme prohibition laws; that the law prohibiting the manufacture and sale of liquor in the state would be "declared unconstitutional by the recently elected supreme court, and with this consent of the brewers and manufacturers of liquor will be satisfied for the present."

ALLEGES BONDING COMPANY EXTORTED SUM BY THREAT Columbus J. Scott Sues Massachusetts Company for Bond of His Son.

EXTORTION AND obtaining money by false representations are charged against the Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance company and Martin L. Kimmel, its attorney, by Columbus J. Scott in a district court action begun Thursday. Scott says the company and the lawyer induced him to reimburse them for money paid on a bond furnished by them for Scott's son, Walter F. Scott, a former Omaha contractor. The younger Scott recently left Omaha, leaving undone several building contracts. To guarantee his completion of one of these he had given a bond, furnished by the Massachusetts company. The company was forced to settle with the owner of the property in the sum of $55. According to the allegations of Columbus Scott's petition Kimmel called upon him to reimburse the company for the loss and the expense it incurred in sending a man from his head office to Omaha to investigate the matter. When Scott refused to pay threats were made that detectives would be put on the son's trail and he would be arrested and sent to the penitentiary for from one to five years, recited the petition. At last Scott, fearing imprisonment of his son, gave the company $250 in cash and a note for $400, he says. He asks the court to invalidate the note and order the return of the $250.

JURORS WOULD SEE PARADE Give All Sorts of Answers in Their Efforts to Get Out of Jury Service.

Ignorant of the fact that the jury in the case of Frederick Stokes was to be excused Thursday afternoon, the jurors might see the military parade, the veniremen made all sorts of foolish answers to the questions of attorneys examining them for jury service, their object being to show unfitness and secure removal from the panel. The result was that a jury was not secured until noon. Several times Judge Estelle felt called upon to mildly censure the veniremen for their attitude. Stokes, a negro, is to be tried on a charge of breaking and entering. He is said to have burglarized a Union Pacific freight car on the night of June 28. What asked if they could give the defendant a fair and impartial hearing the jurors gave such answers as "I might," "I would try, but I don't know whether I could," "I would if my mind would let me," and "I couldn't if I thought he had been around the box car." One would have thought the man was on trial for murder. Thirty jurors were challenged before an acceptable jury was secured.

SOX BEAT TIGERS CHICAGO, Oct. 6.—Chicago virtually clinched sixth place today by taking the first game of the series from Detroit, 11 to 2. Manager Jennings tried a left-hander, Gossard, who was rapped early in the second and fifth innings. League, who relieved White in the fourth, drove in four runs for Chicago. Cobb got a double, a single and a pass in five times at bat. Score: CHICAGO, DETROIT.

WOMAN BURNED WHILE COOKING Leaning over a cook stove, Miss Myrtle McLaughlin of 2523 Farnam street, became caught in a blaze and was seriously burned about the back about noon Thursday.

Mrs. Ella Carr and Mrs. Jennie Flint were with Miss McLaughlin at the time of the accident, and used high presence of mind in saving the woman's life. Upon discovering herself in flames, Miss McLaughlin pushed from the kitchen into a hallway. The other women threw bed clothing over her and snuffed out the fire. The injured woman was taken to the Omaha General hospital. She will recover, it is reported.

Malt Extract A delicious liquid food and tonic Endorsed by 800 physicians Sold by all leading druggists STORZ MALT EXTRACT DEPT. OMAHA, NEB.

Nebraska Her Great Crops and Wealth Send these figures to your friends in the East. They will interest them. The first railroad to build in Nebraska was the Union Pacific; that was in 1863. Today the Union Pacific covers 3,411 miles of splendid roadbed, safeguarded by an automatic electric system of signals. More than 26,000 freight and passenger cars and 1,000 monster locomotives are required to meet the public demands. An army of men receives millions per year in wages. Such activities are important factors in the building up of a State, and Nebraska needs prosperous railroads as the Union Pacific needs the support of the people of Nebraska. We have a book on Nebraska and its resources which will be mailed to some friend in the East for the asking. Please send us his address. Every Union Pacific ticket office is a bureau of railroad information. Make your wants known there, or write to me. GERRIT FORT Passenger Traffic Manager OMAHA, NEB.
