AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAH

No Likelihood of Slump in Market

Following certain rumors and certain apparent efforts to force down the prices of cattle and sheep, come statements from the various packing house managers in probably be no lasting decline in the price of beef and mutton nor in the live stock cattle longer than in other seasons. The packers say that when the farmers feed corn where the cattle have formerly been fattened on grass there is little chance for the prices to go down. Local conditions have brought about a slight bearish condi-
