

SOCIETY GOES TO THE BALL

October Weddings Will Now Take the Time of Many.

MUSICAL SEASON IS STARTING

Busy Week is Over, During Which Time the Military Tonney and Other Activities Have Kept Society Busy.

A Lesson From the French. One truth is very clearly seen. Repeating it still over: I'd rather eat a nut-crumb instead of vintz pauvre--Life.

An Exposition of Art in Dress

To be well dressed is to be becomingly dressed and to be becomingly dressed demands that clothes be especially adapted to the requirements of the individual. In the busy life of the American woman there is but little time to devote to the study of dress. Our constant study and experience directed towards development of artistic outfitting have made us experts in this line...

Washington Social Gossip

Cabinet Meetings and Supreme Court Appointments Fill the Early Days of the Season--Mexican Attache and His Wife Are Among the Popular Newcomers--Secretary McVeagh to Entertain in New Home. WASHINGTON, Oct. 8--(Special to The Bee)--Social Washington was deeply interested in the recent cabinet meetings at the White House, at least in that part of them which had to do with the filling of the vacancies on the supreme court bench. For it is understood that the supreme court set out a big figure in the social life of the capital, ranking above the senate set in position. It is generally accepted that Justice Hughes of New York will become chief justice and Senator Sutherland of Utah will get a place on the bench. This leaves still two places to be filled, and there is much speculation as to what women will be added to the highest official social set through these appointments...

Washington Social Gossip

too, it was remembered that the senora was of a state which the former Ambassador Enrique Creel rejoices in claiming. Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Huntington Wilson have gone for a two months' European sojourn. Mrs. Wilson was the acting secretary of state during the summer and Mrs. Wilson remained in the city with him, acting as the ranking official hostess on a number of important occasions. Much of the burden of official entertaining required of the wife of the secretary of state, has, however, devolved upon Mrs. Wilson in the last year on account of a period of mourning which Mrs. Knox, wife of the secretary, has been observing for her brother. Mrs. Wilson, who is one of the youngest official hostesses in the city, has acquitted herself with remarkable poise and dignity. Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, Countess von Bernstorff, and their daughter, Countess Louise Alexandra von Bernstorff, who have been abroad all summer, are not expected at the embassy until the latter part of October. The charge d'affaires, Count von Wedel, and Countess von Wedel and the other members of the embassy staff, who have been at Manchester-by-the-Sea for the summer, have returned to Washington. Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh will do a good deal of entertaining this season. He is having built a palatial home on Sixteenth street near Columbus Road. The house is being erected along the lines of generous proportions, and it will have about thirty rooms, some of them large enough for the entertainment of large evening and dinner parties. The cost of the house is estimated at about $200,000. Justice Harlan with Mrs. Harlan and the Misses Ruth and Laura Harlan; Justice McKenna and Mrs. McKenna and Justice Lurton and Mrs. Lurton have all returned to Washington for the season. Mrs. John A. Logan and her daughter, Mrs. Tucker, have returned to their Washington home from their summer outing. Much of their time was spent at Hot Springs, Va. Washington society learns with satisfaction that Captain Carlo Pflizer of the Italian royal navy, formerly naval attaché at the embassy here, is soon to return on a special mission for his government. Captain Pflizer married a popular American girl, Miss Laughlin, whose grace and charm obtained her a prominent place in Roman society. Mme. Pflizer will accompany her husband to America. When Mr. Roosevelt in April, 1908, was on his way to Africa, he had the German steamer on which he travelled stop at Messina to see the ruins of the earthquake. King Victor, who had preceded him there, asked the former president to visit him on board the battleship Re Umberto, and chose Captain Pflizer to carry the invitation. The moment the former president saw the coked hat and naval cloak of the officer rise above the gangway he recognized him, and giving him one of his ponderous handshakes, exclaimed: "My dear Pflizer, you make me feel for a moment as though we were back in the White House."
