If contemplating taking part in amateur or school of acting drama, secure for yourself a little character part, low comedy preferred. Then you may be sure of laughter and applause from the audience which does not completely realize how much more difficult a task the players of the straight parts are having. This thought in view of the performance of "The College Widow," at the Brandeis Saturday afternoon by the pupils of Miss Fitch's school of acting. The performances, both afternoon and evening, were a commercial and artistic success. The casting had been done with considerable skill and much promise was shown by Miss Julia Nagel, who plays a quite new "widow," by David Higby and Billy Bolton and George M. Clark as "Stub" Talmage. Mr. Clark in particular gives signs of talent and training. A good bit was done by Edna Fisher Levi as the athletic girl. Miss Fisher is a little more experienced than several of the others of the cast and this showed itself yesterday. Flora Wings is keeping up with the styles, he it known and now wears a hobble skirt drawn almost taut. The young actors as a whole showed that they had received careful and competent coaching and the production was well staged. The cast was as follows: Billy Bolton, a half back..... SCHOOL AND COLLEGE WORK

Featured Activities in Various Educational Institutions. GROWING ARMY OF STUDENTS College Head Investigates Against Splinters Teaching in Girls' Colleges—Educational Notes. LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 9.—The University of Nebraska debating board today selected the members of the intercollegiate debating seminary (Historic 2) for the year 1910-1911. At an open tryout contest, which took three hours and half, a committee of the faculty picked the men from whom later will be selected the members of the two teams that will represent Nebraska in the debates of the Central Debating Board, Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Wisconsin. The tryout was held at Lincoln. Nebraska will meet Wisconsin at Lincoln and Illinois at Urbana, the home team having the affirmative and the team at Urbana the negative of the following proposition: "Resolved, That the movement of organized labor for the closed shop should receive the support of public opinion." The sixteen students, who in the judgment of the committee: Prof. H. W. Caldwell, Prof. E. C. Conant and Prof. G. O. Virtue, did the best debating today on this question and who were awarded places on the seminary or squad as follows: William L. Bates, "B," Lincoln. Clarence L. Clark, "B," Lincoln. Horace C. English, "B," Lincoln. George N. Foster, "B," Sterling. Ralph W. Garrett, "B," Madison. Ralph E. Halstrom, "B," Lincoln. George R. Martin, "B," Ord. Byrnes C. Marcellus, "B," Lincoln. Arthur M. Oberfelder, "B," Sidney. Clifford F. Phillips, "B," Beatrice. Anna R. Raymond, "B," Fairmont. Clifford S. Rein, "B," Lehigh City. Walter A. Vasey, "B," Randolph. Joseph T. Votava, "B," Edinboro. Over 3,000 students entered the University of Wisconsin during the first three registration days. This is an increase of over 10 per cent above the number who had enrolled at the same time last year. The increase in students is about evenly divided between new students and old students who are returning. As the total enrollment at the end of last year reached 4,947, a continuation of this 10 per cent increase in other courses registered later in the year may result in a total attendance for the year approximating 5,500. Sixty-one professors of the University of Wisconsin are named among the prominent men of the country in the new edition of "Who's Who in America." This is an increase of eight over the number mentioned in last year's edition. Four of the new men who have thus won recognition in their professional life are in the English department, while the departments of journalism, education, German and political science claim one each. How paper may be made from new kinds of wood pulp, and how seed products now wasted may be utilized in paper manufacture, will be studied by the University of Wisconsin engineering students this year under the direction of the college of engineering and the staff of the United States Forestry Service laboratory at Madison. A miniature pulp and paper mill, equipped with the latest machinery for grinding, heating and drying, has been installed in one of the features of the forest products laboratory. A paper machine which manufactures a continuous sheet of paper fifteen inches long has also been installed. A total of sixty-five advanced courses in engineering is being offered to graduate students in this year. The new men in engineering, including special problems in hydraulic and sanitary engineering, mining engineering, marine machinery, structural engineering, machine design and chemical engineering. SPINSTERS AS TEACHERS. President of Tufts College Wood Bar Them from Girls' Schools. President Frederick W. Hamilton of Tufts college, Medford, Mass., has come out with the positive assertion that unwedded teachers should be barred from girls' colleges because their influence is harmful. Dr. Hamilton says: "I do not believe that young girls who are just passing into young womanhood are in the proper environment when they are continually brought into close personal touch with elderly unmarried women. The large proportion of women's colleges are in the hands of women teachers, however, and the educational atmosphere of the places is feminine, the peculiar type of femininity developed by highly cultivated middle-aged, unmarried women. Now, while the type may be very fine individually, it is not the proper one to create the atmosphere for girls at the formative period of their lives. Girls just coming into womanhood are receiving their most valuable impressions and the future attitude toward the questions of this time. Their outlook on life, which I believe is the most important near to their hearts, should be broad, and it can not be so unless formed in an environment of breadth. "In the lower grades of the schools, too, and in preparatory schools the influence of the unmarried, middle-aged woman is counteracted by the influence of the presence of the home. I believe that an element of married teachers, widows who were teachers before marriage, perhaps, would be beneficial. The relationship of these schools and their pupils is different, however, because the pupils live at home. "The girls at college live a purely academic life. They are on their resources and they face problems that are quite new to them. They are to be trained to become competent and important parts of life, we hope. They need a large outlook and a broad viewpoint. The elements which go to give these must be brought into their lives at the psychological time, and all elements tending toward narrowness should be eliminated." NEW YORK SCHOOLS. Problem of Cost and Providing for Accommodations. The New York school department asks for an appropriation of $2,000,000 for the coming year. This is $7,000,000 in excess of the sum set aside for 1910. It hardly carries out the expectation that municipal expenses were to be decreased. The board of education explains that the yearly increase has been made necessary by the need of a larger seating capacity. Yet this enormous expense does not seem to provide the rising generation of New York with all the needed educational essentials. The bureau of municipal research is inclined to ask why over 100,000 of the public school pupils failed of promotion in January and another 100,000 in June. The explanation of the school authorities is that while some of the non-promoted are defective mentally, "others are of average ability but have not been properly instructed owing either to the frequent absence of the teacher or his inefficiency." This moves the citizens to ask whether the school authorities blame these "ab-

The Normal Athletic association met Tuesday evening in Music and Expression hall and the following officers were elected for the coming year. President, Glen Stoddard, Boston; vice-president, M. P. Benfro of Peru; secretary, Yelma King of Western; treasurer, H. A. Shaver of Bruning; A. B. Gelwick of Ulysses and Reulah Harris of Fairbury were elected as student members of the athletic board. After the election of officers, Coach Stoddard made a few well-chosen remarks on the outlook for football. The association has the largest membership in its history and is doing a great deal to promote all the athletic interests of the school. Interest and enthusiasm, which has been manifested in senior class politics this year terminated Thursday evening, when the class met and elected its officers for the coming year. The two candidates for the presidency were Ira Crook of Salem and G. H. Laanpere of Oshawa. The election resulted in a majority of forty-two for Crook. Mr. Crook has always been a loyal Peruvian and is held in high esteem by both the students and faculty. Last year he represented the school in debate against the Warrensburg Normal of Missouri, being the only junior member of the team, and the rest being seniors. The other officers elected were as follows: Vice-president, Ruth Brownell of Lincoln; secretary, Helen Tay of Blue Hill; treasurer, E. H. Kock of Seward. Following the election a short address was given by Prof. Gregg, the class advisor, who said everything indicated a harmonious and prosperous year for the class. EDUCATIONAL NOTES. The University of Chicago has 6,577 alumni. Columbia, with an enrollment of over 7,000 students, presents a fairly good record for seekers after knowledge. Miss Helen Gould has received the degree of doctor of laws from the American College for Girls in Constantinople. Dr. Mary Patrick is the president of this college and Miss Gould has for a number of years given liberally to its support and enlargement. The freshmen class at Wellesley college this year is the largest in its history and the student body is 1,111 girls. Dean Pendleton is acting president, and while there is a movement to elect a man president, it is possible that Miss Pendleton will be appointed in the place of President Hazard, who resigned in June. Total gifts to both income and principal of the university finances, amounting to $2,208,291, are shown in the first annual report of the new treasurer of Yale university, George Parley Day, made public, as compared with $1,500,532 for the previous year. Additions to the university funds show a net increase of $1,206,448, as against $1,294,000 for the previous year. The most important additions to income are from the Carnegie foundation, $24,251 from the Carver foundation. Financially it has been the best year for Yale in her history. CADETS MUST TOE MARK OR TAKE PUNISHMENT New Rule Adopted for High School Regiment Expected to Get Results. At a meeting of the cadet captains and staff of the high school regiment, held by Assistant Principal Bernstein Friday afternoon, it was decided to conduct a "punishment squad" in confirmation with the new rules adopted by the cadets for this year. The "punishment squad" is to be in charge of either a captain or a staff officer. It will be conducted on a scale much less severe than that of West Point, but will have as much bearing on drill. The adoption of this rule, providing for extra drilling of the delinquents is not because of any growing disorder among the cadets, but is established as a means of preserving order among the companies. TOSSED FROM CROWDED CAR Hyman Strauber Loses Hold and Sustains Some Rather Painful Injuries. When a northbound Florence car, carrying a crowd of passengers to Fort Omaha to witness the army maneuvers suddenly stopped at Sixteenth and Clark streets, Hyman Strauber of 952 North Twenty-fifth street, who was riding on the step, was catapulted to the pavement. When picked up unconscious a few seconds later it was found that his right ankle had been sprained and that he had sustained severe bruises about the head and face. Dr. Bishop, police surgeon, was called and after working with the man for several minutes, he was brought to. His injuries, although severe, are not considered dangerous. He was sent to his home. Peroxide Cream For Particular People Particular people who value their appearance take a great deal of pains to keep the skin soft, clean and healthy. It not only reflects one's physical condition, but is a key to one's character. A pimple on the end of the nose would make a beautiful woman appear grotesque, while a soft, clear skin lends attractiveness to a plain looking person and generally denotes cleanliness. You know Southern women usually have fine complexions, and I suppose I would be telling secrets to say that these exquisite complexions in Mobile are due in a great many cases solely to the use of A. "It has a large sale here, and is universally liked by both women and men." "To keep the skin at its best all the time—to keep it clear, flexible, smooth and to give it the glow of health—it has been demonstrated that the best preparation for that purpose is A. D. S.
