

JOHN F. COAD LAID AT REST

Last Rites Said Over the Body of the Dead Banker.

CEREMONY IS MOST SIMPLE

Some Are the Active Pallbearers While Honorary Pallbearers Are Some of Omaha's Leading Citizens.

The funeral of the late John F. Coad was held Monday morning at St. Cecilia's church beginning at 10 o'clock.

The service was simple and impressive. At the wish of the family no eulogy was pronounced and with respect to floral tributes, many of which were sent to the home, there was a complete lack of ostentation.

The casket was borne into the church by Mr. Coad's eight sons through a line formed by the honorary pallbearers who represented the bench and bar, leading fiduciary institutions and city officials.

Honorary Pallbearers.

The honorary pallbearers were: J. H. Millard, F. J. Davis, Luther Drake, Jesse Congdon, W. W. Trumbull, C. J. Smith, Milton Barlow, C. J. Smith, H. C. Bostwick, Frank Hanson, Fred Clarke, Louis Fynn, Joseph Hayden, E. W. Simmerl, Henry F. Allen, W. A. Redick.

The requiem mass was impressively read by Rev. D. B. Harrington, pastor of St. Cecilia's. The absolution was solemnly pronounced by Bishop Scannell, clad in his pontifical robes.

At the end of the service in the church, a solemn cortege moved toward the outer doors, headed by the ushers, Charles D. Beaton, John Mullen, Frank McCaffery and Prof. A. Crowley.

Fur Exhibit Tells of Winter

Magnificent Display of Costly Felts and Made-Up Garments Ready for Inspection.

In the splendid exhibition of fine furs which is being held this week at the La-Book & Post jewelry store a very pretty compliment to the good taste of the women and men of Omaha and vicinity, for the display is not only double in monetary value to that held a year ago, but is more than double in beauty of furs displayed.

The skins which are the fur workers' material are a fascinating part of the year's show and they have been used by the decorator to good effect.

In making up the furs this season more than in previous years that quality which distinguishes expensive fur from the cheaper qualities is much emphasized, that is its soft luxuriant quality, its pliability. The employment of satin or silk in making up the fur skins shows this quality.

MOTHER TELLS PITIFUL TALE

Mrs. Molly Stevens Asks Judge Sutton for Aid—Says Son is Shot and Dying.

Declaring her 17-year-old son was shot and probably dying in a hospital at Lockwood, Mo., near Kansas City, Mrs. Molly Stevens, almost insane with grief, begged Judge Sutton for aid in juvenile court Monday, but the judge could do nothing for her.

Some months ago the young man, Leoman Stevens, was sent to the State Industrial school at Kearney. He was paroled, returned to Omaha, and shortly was in trouble again. Sent back to Kearney by the police, he broke away and went to Lockwood, Mo. He has not heard of until a report came to Omaha that the town marshal of Lockwood shot him when he was trying to break into a freight car.

Since the lad is out of the state there is nothing that the officers or courts here can do. Mrs. Stevens said her boy is in a terrible condition. She said she has been to Lockwood to see him and knows he cannot live. "He is paralyzed from the waist down," she said, "and the hospital won't care for him. He is so bad because he is paralyzed that a private hospital won't take him, though I am willing to pay."

Mrs. Hiler of the Detention Home comforted Mrs. Stevens and will take such steps as are necessary to aid her.

VIADUCT FOR SHEELY TOWN

Question of Thirtieth Street Bridge to Be Again Taken Up.

OTHERS VIADUCTS IN THE AIR

Foot Bridge for Eighteenth Street is Now Awaiting the Action of the Great Western—Dodge Street Bridge in Court.

A resolution determining the necessity of the viaduct which is proposed for Thirtieth street in the Sheely district will be introduced into the city council this evening and will be followed by an ordinance ordering the specifications accepted and executed by the three railroad companies, the Union Pacific, Burlington and the Mason City & Fort Dodge.

A foot bridge viaduct ordered for Eighteenth street between Leavenworth and Marcy is awaiting the action of the Great Western. The railroad has been given its official notice to build the bridge and plans have been made, but no further move has been made by it to begin construction.

The Nicholas street viaduct is being delayed by the council which is planning to widen Nicholas street, and when that is accomplished the work will go on. The Dodge street viaduct is still in litigation in the federal court.

The fate of the old Eleventh street bridge which is being disowned by both railroads and city is not yet settled, but it is the general opinion of those concerned that it will be completely rebuilt.
