offs through a broken field, and it is in these fundamentals that Coach Hollenbeck is drilling his men hardest in preparation for the hard Ames game next Saturday. The linemen are also deficient in their work, as they charge too high and use their hands more than their bodies in throwing off opponents. This is poor form, and Dr. Gibson, assistant coach, had the Th heavy men off to themselves for over an hour this evening showing them the most effective way to charge. If these weaknesses can be overcome by Saturday Missourians will entertain more hope for a Tiger victory, but scrimmage practice the last two days has been of the raggedest

Not How Many But How Good

The foremost automobile dealer in New York City said a few days ago that he could easily sell 600 or 700 Chalmers "Forty's" in a year, if he could get them.

"Forty's" as its entire output for the country this year! The Chalmers policy is not how many, but how good. This dealer's statement that he could sell 700 a year in New York gives the "Forty" the indorsement of New York buyers, who are known as the most critical, as they are the most experienced, in the country. We have not advertised this car before this season, because we were not ready to take additional orders for early delivery. The orders placed before the first 1911 car was sent out of the factory more than used up our early shipments on this car. The "Forty" needs little advertising. It is only necessary to call it to the attention of automobile buyers. It is a car with five years of consistent performance to its credit. It is sold principally by its good friends-the owners.

If you expect to pay from $2,000 to $6,000 for a motor car, you should, by all means, examine the Chalmers "Forty." We are sure that no one puts so much into a car for the same or less money than the Chalmers Company puts into the "Forty." And we believe it will be hard for any one to show you where you can get enough added value for any greater price to justify you in paying a greater price.

This Paragraph Will Benefit Only Those Who Read It

There was once a man who never left his business thru fear that he might lose some money. Before he died, he was offering a million for a new stomach. Not one was for sale. How much is an afternoon spent in the open air, on the open road, far from the grind of your business worth to you in dollars and cents? Don't you know?

Well, you might have asked that man who never took a vacation in his life, if he hadn't died the other day.

Everybody was out of town last Saturday. I went in an automobile and here is one thing I saw :... I saw a little girl in a blue gingham, with sunburnt legs and dirty face, sitting on a roadside stone, eating the tops of the white clover, which grew abundantly at her feet. She threw a kiss to me and I took off my hat,

That was worth ten dollars. How much money would you pay for an afternoon in the open air if it was denied to you?

Most of us never appreciate the things that are free until some one puts a premium on them .- E. S. Jerdan.
