GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat Opens Steady at Closing Values, but Eases Off.

CORN SOON BECOMES WEAK

Clear, Cool Weather in the Corn Belt is Considered Excellent for the Curing of the Year's Corn Crop.

OMAHA, Oct. 21, 1910.

Wheat opened steady at closing values, but eased off when Liverpool cables showed no tendency to follow our advance. Shorts covering caused sharp rallies, but ultimately it will take a good export business and a decrease in domestic supplies to permanently advance prices.

Clearing weather over the corn belt was a signal for freer offerings, which soon took the snap out of the market, and prices eased off from the close yesterday.

Opening values in wheat did not hold and bearish feeling on the European situation and lack of export sales, coupled with the favorable Argentina advices, gave the market a weak tone, although cash prices were fairly firm.

After a steady opening on the firmness in the wheat values, corn became decidedly weak under pressure of selling. Clear, cool weather over the belt is considered excellent for the curing of the late corn. Sentiment rules bearish.

Primary wheat receipts were 836,000 bushels and shipments were 378,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 1,747,000 bushels and shipments of 732,000 bushels.

Primary corn receipts were 482,000 bushels and shipments were 296,000 bushels, against receipts last year of 332,000 bushels and shipments of 339,000 bushels.

Clearances were 28,000 bushels of corn, none of oats, and wheat and flour equal to 130,000 bushels.

Liverpool closed ¼d to ⅛d higher, on wheat and ¼d to ⅜d higher on corn.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—With the Argentina harvest ready to begin not three weeks off and with an exportable surplus in that country estimated by one authority this afternoon at 140,000,000 bushels, the wheat market today fell a prey to short sellers. Closing prices were ⅛c to ⅝@¾c lower than last night. Corn finished ⅝c to ⅞@1c down, and oats ⅛@¼c. Provisions also were lower at a net decline from a shade to 15c.

Though not vigorously opposed the shorts in wheat acted with considerable caution and many covered on the weak spots in the market.

Primary receipts were light, but with this exception the bulk of the day's news was depressing. Cash demand was light and reports of large flour sales southwest were denied. In the winter wheat states, where dry weather had interfered with the growing of the plant, rains were affording relief. As for spring wheat Minneapolis reported that stocks there had increased this week ten times as fast as at the corresponding period a year ago. Foreign advices gave the bulls no help.

The close, although steady, was within ¼@⅜c of the low point of the session. December ranged between 93⅛c and 94⅝c, finishing at 93⅝c, a fall of ⅞c under last night's figures.

December corn fluctuated between 46⅛c and 47½c, with last sales at 46½@46⅝c, a net loss of ⅝@1c. The cash market was weak. No. 2 yellow closed at 49@49½c.

Local speculators hammered oats, which varied from 30½c to 31⅛c for December, and in the end was ⅛@¼c off at 30⅝c.

Hog receipts west showed a falling off and provisions followed suit. Latest figures were 10@15c lower for pork, a shade to 7½c for lard and 2½c or less for ribs.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

WEATHER IN THE GRAIN BELT

Slowly Rising Temperature is Predicted for This Vicinity.

OMAHA, Oct. 21, 1910.

A barometric depression has developed over the upper Mississippi valley and upper lake region, causing continued unsettled weather in the valleys and lake region. Rains are general this morning from the Missouri river east over the upper valleys and upper lakes, and are falling down the Mississippi valley as far as Memphis, Tenn. The pressure continues high over the west, and clear weather prevails west of the Missouri river. Another general but slight drop in temperature occurred in the central valleys last night and cooler weather has extended over the eastern and southern states. The south Atlantic storm is moving eastward and is losing force on the coast. Light rain was falling in Chicago at 7 a. m., with a temperature of 52. The weather will continue fair in this vicinity tonight and Saturday, with continued cool tonight, probably followed by slowly rising temperature Saturday.

Temperature and precipitation as compared with the last three years:

NEW YORK STOCKS AND BONDS

Advance in Stocks Results Later in Irregular Tone.

MONEY MARKET INVULNERABLE

Call Loan Rate is Unaffected and Time Money Market Somewhat Easier, but Cash Holdings Are Impaired.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The advance in stocks, which was pushed with vigor during the earlier portion of the day, encountered some obstacles later which resulted in a hesitating and irregular tone. A retrograde movement in the latter part of the day left final prices lower than the previous day's close.

How far the halt in the speculation may have been due to misgivings over the money position did not appear in any action of the money market itself, that medium appearing invulnerable to the developments indicating a depletion of resources. The call loan rate was unaffected and the tone of the time money market itself was called somewhat easier. Estimates of the week's currency movement, however, indicated another substantial impairment of the cash holdings of the banks through the renewed demand from the interior.

The sub-treasury absorption proved smaller than last week, reaching only $1,217,000, but the total decrease with the interior shipments included was much larger, some estimates running to over $5,000,000. The probability thus is that the only way the banks can have avoided an impairment of the surplus is by continuing the policy of transfer of loans to the trust companies. The process serves to keep up the banking position on its face, but the encroachment on available supplies of credit is going on, just the same, even though no actual increase of loans occurs.

There is the question, also, how far the bar to borrowing in London raised by the increase in the Bank of England discount rate may have thrown back demands on the New York lending institutions. The London discount market was strong today and the effect was to carry foreign exchange rates here another degree nearer the level of profit on gold exports. This combination of circumstances bearing on the money market position seemed to arouse the solicitude of the speculative element.

A change in speculative sentiment was traceable partly to a suspicion that new forces had taken up the market leadership whose powers and resources are not so much relied on as the banking interests credited with the initiative in the present upward movement. Pronounced pressure which developed against the copper industrials gave color to a supposition of cleavage in market sentiment between great financial groups. The decline in the coppers were in sympathy with the sharp advance in the London price of the metal, which was accompanied by a corresponding advance in the price of copper securities in that market. Reports of labor troubles on the Missouri Pacific hurt that stock.

Bonds were firm. Total sales, par value, $3,519,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CATTLE—Receipts of cattle were very fair for a Friday, but still the run was small as usual so near the end of the week. The total for the five days foots up 34,843, as against 40,482 head last week and 37,944 head for the same week a year ago. The quality of the cattle coming, as well as the reports from the western range, all tend to give an impression that the flood of western cattle is on the wane for this year. As a matter of course large receipts are to be expected on some days, but it is anticipated that the general tendency from now on will be toward light runs.

There were a few western beef steers on the market this morning and what few there were met with very ready sale at good steady to strong prices. There were not enough cornfeds to talk about, but everything in the way of killers changed hands just about as fast as buyers could get at them.

Cows and heifers were steady this morning and buyers snapped up everything in short order at good strong prices.

There were only a very few stockers and feeders, but what there were sold readily, and they, too, were strong. The country demand has been so good this week that pretty much everything in the yards has been cleaned up and the prospects are that not a steer will be carried over until next week.

No one ever saw a better cattle trade on a Friday than was experienced today and prices on all kinds of killers and feeders are safely 15@25c higher than the close of last week, with some cattle showing considerably more advance than that.

Quotations on native cattle: Good to choice beef steers, $6.50@7.50; fair to good beef steers, $5.50@6.50; common to fair beef steers, $4.50@5.50; good to choice cows and heifers, $4.25@6.25; fair to good cows and heifers, $3.40@4.25; common to fair cows and heifers, $2.50@3.40; good to choice stockers and feeders, $4.40@5.85; fair to good stockers and feeders, $4.00@4.40; common to fair stockers and feeders, $3.25@4.75; stock heifers, $3.00@4.25; veal calves, $3.50@7.00; bulls, stags, etc., $3.00@5.00.

HOGS—Bulk of business in the hog yards this morning was transacted at prices right around a nickel lower than those of yesterday. The market was uneven, however, and the decline noted does not apply to every individual sale. Some loads moved at steady to weak figures, while others went to the scales at reductions of 5@10c.

Supplies were moderate and demand was fairly active from all quarters, so that a very good clearance was made during early hours. Heavy hogs were more plentiful than other weights and the general condition of trade was largely reflected by sales of this class of stock. Most of the heavies moved at a range of $8.20@8.35, but rough and extreme heavies had to sell around $8.15. Light and mixed loads were none too frequent and commanded the usual premiums over hard weight offerings. Best lights brought $8.65, a nickel less than yesterday's high price.

While the trade this week opened higher, all of the early advance was lost on yesterday's market and current sales are fully 15c lower than those of a week ago. Receipts for the five days are a few thousand head heavier than supplies for the same period last year.

SHEEP—Only one or two consignments of sheep and lambs were received this morning, not enough stuff to make a test of the market. Yesterday's clearance was practically complete, trade closing at figures unevenly higher than those at midweek on all classes of stock. Since last Saturday daily receipts give a total of fully 162,500 head, the big end of offerings consisting of feeders.

During the first three days the proportion of feeder lambs appeared a little too heavy for active movement and bulk of sales showed declines of a quarter and more. Prices were very uneven, of course, and it was largely a "luck" market. Since midweek a lighter supply has resulted in more buoyancy and quite a little reaction, today's sales indicating a generally steady trade as compared with last week's close. Fleshy feeder lambs are moving around $5.50 and good medium weights are selling around $5.25.

Good feeder sheep have at no time suffered very much, values in this branch of the trade holding firm from start to finish. More or less competition from killers has been one of the sustaining influences. Toppy feeder wethers are quotable around $4.00, while good ewes have been going around $3.00@3.15.

Fat sheep and lambs have been in active demand from the opening and the relatively small percentage of good dressers has given little chance for reductions in prices. Good kinds of fat lambs are closing steady, with good, fat sheep, if anything, a little higher than they were a week ago. Fat wethers are quotable up to $4.25, while best-fat lambs would probably bring $6.65@6.75.

Quotations on grass stock: Good to choice lambs, $6.35@6.60; fair to good lambs, $6.15@6.35; feeding lambs, $4.00@5.75; handy weight yearlings, $4.85@5.25; heavy yearlings, $4.40@4.85; feeder yearlings, $4.50@5.00; good to choice wethers, $3.85@4.25; fair to good wethers, $3.40@3.85; feeding wethers, $3.25@4.00; breeding ewes, $4.00@5.00; fat ewes, $3.25@3.85; feeding ewes, $2.25@3.15; canners, $1.50@2.00.
