NO TIME FOR PRIMARY

Republicans Reject Democratic Senatorial Plan in Iowa.

GOVERNOR WILL NOT APPOINT

Carroll Today Will Issue Proclamation Leaving Selection of Governor's Successor to Incoming Legislature.

DES MOINES, Oct. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—The Iowa republican state committee will reject the proposal of the democrats for an informal primary on the senatorship to be held at the time of the general election, as was done two years ago.

The reason will be that the time is too short. The legislature fixed upon thirty days as the minimum for any campaign and recognized that even that would be too short except in an emergency. The chairman of the republican state committee has indicated that he will not accept the proposal of the democrats of the democratic state committee.

Governor Carroll will tomorrow make an announcement that he will not make any appointment of a senator, but will leave it to the legislature. This will prevent the senatorial matter getting into the campaign to any great extent.

Better Hotels and Depots. Improved conditions for the traveling man is the keynote of a meeting held today, at which every traveling men's association in the state, a number of railroad companies, the State Railroad Commission, State Board of Health, the State Hotel Men's association and the Iowa Telephone company were represented.

The occasion is the annual meeting of the Iowa Commercial congress. W. L. Eaton of the State Railroad Commission delivered the principal address this morning, speaking on "Railroad Rates." Mr. Eaton urged an equalization of both freight and passenger rates. He said that he was not in favor of any material decrease in the present freight rates, but would rather see more money go into improvements and the upkeep of railroad systems. J. C. Davis, general attorney for the Northwestern, spoke along the same lines. Dr. Sumner of the State Board of Health spoke on sanitary conditions and said that the traveling man of all others should be interested in the best possible sanitary conditions for trains, hotels and depots. M. M. Reno of the Burlington system spoke on the depot question and J. A. Gunn spoke for the legislative committee of the association. President John H. Locke of Waterloo presided.

Young Corbett Whipped. NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Young Corbett, once the first of lightweights, proved again tonight when he met Willie Berchor at the Longacre Athletic club that he was another of the champions who cannot come back. The bout was stopped by the referee in the middle of the fourth round after he had been knocked down twice and was reeling blindly around the ring a target for whippersnappers and hooks to the face.

ABOUT READY FOR THE JURY

and the crown has attempted to prove it corresponds with a wound made by a surgeon's knife on the body of Belle Elmore twelve years ago. Crippen said Ethel Clare Leneve slept in his home on the night of the day following the date of his wife's disappearance.

Tobin Reviews Evidence. Addressing the jury, Mr. Tobin reviewed the evidence at length, contending that in view of the conflicting testimony of medical experts, it was impossible for the jury to find a verdict of guilty. He said it was inconceivable that if Crippen murdered his wife and mutilated her body, he would invite Miss Leneve to sleep in the house on the following day. Crippen had had only the night of February 1 in which to dissect the body, bury the flesh and get rid of the head and limbs. He must have known the risks of such a visit as Miss Leneve made.

Regarding the non-appearance in court of the quartermaster of the steamer Montrose, counsel said the man would be rendered liable to a charge of impeding the police if he corroborated the testimony of Crippen that the quartermaster and he had arranged for the pretended suicide of the doctor.

When Mr. Muir closed the court was adjourned.

had endorsed suffrage and they were inclined to let well enough alone, and preferred the suffrage movement should be handled exclusively by the suffrage association, rather than being taken up also by the federation. Whether this feeling had anything to do with the defeat of the resolution is not known.

Features of the closing twenty-four hours of the convention were an address by President George W. Nash of the Northern Normal and Industrial school, on "Sunny Italy"; a lecture by Dr. E. O. Aylesworth of Denver on "Judge Lindsey"; a lecture by Dr. Aylesworth on woman suffrage in Colorado; an address by Mrs. Mary Craigie of Brooklyn, N. Y., favoring woman suffrage; and a number of committee reports.

GOVERNMENT FILES A BRIEF

Issues Jointed in So-Called Panama Libel Suit.

ARGUES IN SUPPORT OF POSITION

Attorney General Wickersham Contends that the Indictment Should Not Have Been Quashed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The government's brief in the so-called Panama libel suit of the United States against the Press Publishing company of New York was filed today in the supreme court of the United States. It was argued by Attorney General Wickersham, James C. M. Reynolds and Stuart McNamara. It not only contained a statement of facts, but an argument in support of its position that the indictment against the Press Publishing company should not have been quashed.

"In effect," says the government's brief, "the published articles charge that Charles H. Taft, Douglas Robinson and William Nelson Cromwell, with J. P. Morgan and others, acting through an American syndicate, obtained control of the securities of the French company which owned the Panama canal route and its properties, for the approximate sum of $3,000,000. Aided by the intimacy which they enjoyed with Theodore Roosevelt, then president of the United States and brother-in-law of Douglas Robinson, and William H. Taft, then secretary of war and brother of Charles H. Taft, and by the co-operation of these officials with them, they were enabled to effect the sale of the Panama canal to the United States for $40,000,000, which was divided as charged, among government favorites in the world of politics and finance."

CLAIM OF THE GOVERNMENT.

The substantial question, which the government claims is before the court, is set out in the brief as being whether or not the United States courts have jurisdiction to punish a corporation which printed in the city of New York a newspaper containing a libel, criminal under the laws of the state of New York and circulated copies of the same within the federal territory of West Point.

The government's claim is based on an act of congress of 1888, which the government urges, "operates to transfer the state law to federal territory, for the purpose of punishing acts committed there, which, if performed outside and in the jurisdiction of the state would be amenable to its laws."

ENTITLED TO PROTECTION.

"Because one may be punished for issuing a libel in New York is no reason," says the government, "for allowing him to go free of all punishment for circulating it at West Point. The people in the latter place are entitled to protection."

The inconvenience to accused, of being subjected to prosecutions in sundry places where the alleged libel is circulated was not with the argument that "the convenience which may be suffered by criminals has not general been regarded as adequate reason for permitting them to operate without restraint."

The suggestion that the offense charged could be punished in New York state courts and therefore was not intended to be included in the act of 1888, brought forth the argument from the government that "the state of New York cannot punish an offense committed at West Point against the United States."

TWO DIE IN RAILROAD WRECK

Trains on Hocking Valley Road Ditched and Many Persons Are Injured.

COLEMBUS, O., Oct. 20.—Hocking Valley passenger train No. 32, northbound, was derailed one mile south of Harpster, O., at 10:30 a. m. today and two passengers were killed and twenty-five persons were injured. The dead: MRS. MARY ANN COOK, aged 81, Bluffton, O. UNKNOWN WOMAN, thought to be Toledo nurse, aged about 35. Fatally injured: David Thompson, Lewis, Kan., back severely injured and two ribs fractured. Mrs. Thompson, his wife, back broken, legs paralyzed.

The railway officials are puzzled to account for the wreck. The same train was derailed near Lenoxy, O., September 12. At that time, as today, it was traveling fast and was drawn by a new type of heavy locomotive. In the first wreck the engine left the rails and turned over. Today the tender and coaches were ditched, but the locomotive held its place. The dead and injured were taken to Marion, O.

NOVEL REAL ESTATE DEALS

Second-Hand Burial Plots Are Now Being Bought and Sold in Brooklyn.

Because social standing reaches to the grave, new business, which has the merit of novelty, has been developed in Brooklyn, N. Y. A six months' trial has proved that it fills a long felt want, and reports of the success which has awarded the efforts of its originators, a firm of undertakers, are likely to spread throughout the neighborhoods in which they dwell, and they want to make sure that when they passed away all the ideals of their material life would be reflected in the selection of their last abode.

Among these inquirers the one great trouble that confronted them seemed to be a doubt as to what certain cemeteries would be transferred into before it came their time to pass into another world. Among many there was an insuperable aversion to buying plots in the newer section of burying grounds, as a result of the reasoning that one never can tell who one's next door neighbors are to be, and whether the social position in life will be such as to induce them to make provision whereby their graves will be adorned with imposing tombstones or kept up in a manner which betokens a full realization of the niceties of worldly existence.

Rather than take chances of being buried in the new sections, the most popular policy only held forth a possibility of being developed up to the desired standard, many persons expressed their wishes for plots which might have been in use for generations, but which for divers reasons the owners were willing to sell. Such graves were in demand if the most desirable were of a character which betokened prosperity and social worth once held by those buried in neighboring plots.

So great seemed this inclination to acquire graves which might be termed second hand, if they were in a portion of the cemetery which appealed to the eye of an aesthetic person that the Brooklyn undertakers converted the idea into a business proposition and established a "cemetery bureau." Acting on the truism that it pays to advertise when one has anything of merit to sell or buy, the Brooklyn undertakers advertised their readiness to purchase cemetery lots that the holders wished to dispose of. It was necessary to acquire cemetery lots from present owners before a market could be established for the sale of lots or plots to those who were particular about where all that was mortal of them would repose after death.

Man persons who held title to desirable lots were found willing to dispose of them. Various reasons were assigned for the willingness to sell. The most frequent was that survivors of families who had once lived in Brooklyn or Manhattan had moved to distant parts, and purchased burial plots in their new home cities and had had the bodies of their departed relatives removed to new resting places.—New York Herald.

official after reading. "The World-Herald wanted to get closer to Bartley. It must have been pretty close all the time when Hitchcock could touch him as he did. It wants the public to get all the facts concerning the state treasurer's shortage, and now when it gets the facts about the share that Hitchcock neglected to put back it squeals like a stuck pig. It reminds us that the World-Herald commended the Bartley parole, but forgets to say that the commendation was paid for in advance, in cash out of the state treasury. It refers to his friends and beneficiaries deserting him in his hour of adversity, but neglects to say that Hitchcock is one of those deserters. It pictures a chasm yawning for the republican party because of the prospect that Bartley's secrets would be revealed, and now, when he reveals enough to show Hitchcock's part of the loot, it wants the people to forget it. Isn't it rich?"

Bartley's Offer to Byrnes.

DENVER, Oct. 21.—Joseph S. Bartley, former state treasurer of Nebraska, has sent the following telegram to Chairman Byrnes of the Nebraska state democratic committee:

"You say my defense, I have any to make, should be pleaded before the public and not before the committee. I will do as you request. Let your candidates for United States senator say that my statement is untrue and I will produce the evidence. Calling those in humble life liars and blackmalters does not help your candidate with the people. I will make you this proposition. I notice Judge Oldham's speech in Hitchcock's paper. I know Judge Oldham to be an honorable gentleman. I am willing to submit my evidence to him. You ask your candidate to do the same and if Judge Oldham shall say that I am a blackmaltier then I will doff my hat and run up the white flag."

"JOSEPH S. BARTLEY."

HITCHCOCK POOR DRAWING CARD

Home of Charles Pool Cares Little for Discredited Candidate.

SPECIAL. NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Congressman G. M. Hitchcock of Omaha, democratic candidate for United States senator, spoke to fifty-six persons at the court house here yesterday afternoon. The meeting had been extensively advertised for two weeks. Mr. Hitchcock devoted his time to national issues, aligned the republican party for the present high tariff on many things, and told how this tariff would be reduced by a democratic congress. He did not refer to the charges Edgar Howard of Columbus has made against him, or of his refusal to meet Joe Bartley's charges in any manner. Local democrats were disappointed with the small turnout and by the lack of enthusiasm.

THREE BALLOONS ARE MISSING

Members of Aero Club Alarmed Over Long Silence of Aviators from St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—Alarmed at the prolonged silence of three balloon pilots and their aides, who left here Monday in the international race, the Aero Club of St. Louis today asked the Canadian government to begin a hunt for them. It is believed that the balloons landed Wednesday night and that the six occupants of the three baskets are in distress in the forests of Canada.

Three balloons are as yet unreported. They are America III, Aurora, a Swiss entry, and Dusseldorf II, a German entry. The Germana landed yesterday fifty miles from Halleyburg, Ont., according to today's message. Colonel Theo. Schoeck, in the Helvetia, landed Wednesday evening at the same place the Germana is reported to have come to earth.

NEW RECORDS FOR BALLOONS

Gas Bags Sent Up from St. Louis Fly Far Away into the North-Western Wilds.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 21.—Three balloons, the America III, Aurora and Dusseldorf II, contestants for the international balloon cup and prize, remain to be reported. It is believed at the Aero club that the aero states have landed in the wilds of Canada. The Germana, according to a telegram from Halleyburg, Ont., was seen yesterday, going northwest into the forest of northern Quebec. The Germana is covered with aluminum dust and it is easily identified.

The America II, the only American entry unreported, carried thirty bags of ballast. Aeronauts here do not believe that it could remain in the air eighty-two hours, the time from when it left here Monday until 3 o'clock this morning.

The last balloon to land was the Helvetia, piloted by Colonel Schoeck, winner of the race from Berlin in 1908. He landed in Pontiac county, Quebec, 800 miles from
