Small Towns Have Edge Upon Dwellers in Holy City—Sayer Case Put Over by Supreme Court.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—An irate citizen was objecting very vigorously today at the charge of $1.50 a ton, delivered, for anthracite coal. This citizen said he had looked into the matter and found the same coal was delivered at Greenwood for $1.25 a ton and at Tecumseh for the same price. As the rates to these towns and Lincoln, he said, are the same, he could see no reason why the citizens of Lincoln were forced to pay the extra dollar a ton.

Odd Fellows Depart. The exodus of members of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows from Lincoln to their homes over the state, following the close of the 1910 session here, was nearly complete at noon Friday.

More than 600 members of the various branches of the order, including the Rebekeah and the Patriarcha Militant, left Lincoln late Thursday evening or Friday morning after having spent four days in Lincoln in almost continuous assemblage. After the election of officers and the selection of Lincoln as the next place for holding the annual meeting next fall, late Thursday afternoon the grand lodge session was adjourned.

The disposal of reports of minor committees working on matters of importance to members of the organization were quickly considered and adjusted. The case brought by George Sayer to force Secretary of State Junkin to place his name on the ballot as a candidate for senator in the Ninth senatorial district had been postponed by the supreme court until tomorrow afternoon. Sayer is the democratic nominee. The populists had no candidate, so the name of a party was written in on one ballot but the party voted for failure to qualify. The populist committee then filed the name of Sayer to fill the vacancy. Mr. Junkin held there was no vacancy because there had been no candidate nominated, so he refused to put the name of Sayer on the ticket. Proceedings for mandamus to compel him to do so were then filed in the supreme court and the case was set originally for this afternoon.

Not Good for Cold Weather. The improvised and new fangled pay-as-you-enter street cars of Lincoln proved rather severe the first cold snap and the conductors took up fares on the inside of the cars. The pay-as-you-enter cars are different in Lincoln than in most cities as is natural, being a development from the old cars with no extra space on the back platform. The conductor is compelled to stand in the cold unprotected except by the roof of the car.

ROSE COUNTY PEOPLE LOSE

Anti Receive Better of Contest in Fight on Petition Before County Board.

HINKEN BOW, Neb., Oct. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—After a week of strenuous and exciting work by divisionists and opponents, basing on the petitions of the proposed counties of Corn and Rose, the anti received the better of it today when R. E. Brega, division representative, went before the county board of supervisors and stated that the divisionists were unable to show a majority of signers of the Rose county petition and would accordingly give up the fight. This refers to Rose county only.

The petition for Corn county was granted yesterday afternoon. On the Rose county petition it was found sixty people had signed twice, one man's name appearing four times. A number of people whose names appeared, stated they had never signed the petition. Mr. Brega says the petitions for Albany, Adair and Corn counties will not be withdrawn. The anti-divisionists will appeal to district court on the Corn county petition.

ALDRICH AT SOUTH AUBURN

Republican Candidate for Governor Discusses Political Issues.

SOUTH AUBURN, Neb., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—Chester A. Aldrich of David City, the republican candidate for governor spoke at the district court room. He was at his best and gave a convincing non-partisan speech. He stated that of the 125 democratic newspapers in the state, ninety-six had repudiated Dahlgrenism, and also said that the saloons of the state were headquarters for the liquor party and Dahlgrenism in the present campaign. He emphasized the impropriety of corporations being allowed to make the laws inasmuch as they invariably made them for their own ends, disregarding the rights of the people. The liquor trust, said he, defeated George Sheldon and then when they found that Sheldonberger would not do their entire bidding defeated him for renomination. He outlined fully the benefits which had accrued to the state from the passage of the freight law, of which he was the author and also showed the way in which the railroad commission had proved an equalizing force and a medium between the corporations and the people. He presented clearly that the only personal liberty which accords with right thinking and the general welfare is that which takes knowledge of law and makes obedience to it the highest ideal. He discussed at some length the question of county option and in every particular clearly and convincingly enunciated his principles, that he won friends to his candidacy and votes to his total.

KEARNEY BOY HAS BAD FALL

Young Son of H. C. Holt Falls from Silo and is Not Expected to Live.

KEARNEY, Neb., Oct. 21.—(Special Telegram.)—Jesse Holt, 1-year-old son of H. C. Holt, a prominent stockman, restaurateur and business man of Kearney, lies at the point of death and for twenty-four hours has been unconscious at the hospital from a newly built silo on the Holt ranch, one mile south of here. The boy was found Thursday evening by a subcommittee on the ground near the silo, which is fifty feet high, bleeding at the ears and nose, and unconscious. Little hope for recovery is held by the physicians. Nobody saw the accident, but it is believed the lad fell from the top of the silo to the ground.

"White Frost" at Harvard. HARVARD, Neb., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The first "white frost" of the season to do special harm came last night when water frosts about one-half of an inch. As all corn is out of the way of frost, farmers have been wishing for a frost to help the gathering. This is nearly one month later than the first heavy frost came last year, and this delay will give a large yield of corn throughout the county and this part of Nebraska, making one of the most successful crop-raising years ever experienced for all kinds of crops which, with the good prices, gives an unusually successful year.

PEOPLE OF FAITH LOSE FAITH

Claim the Milwaukee Road Has Not Kept the Promises Made.

PIERRE, S. D., Oct. 20.—(Special.)—The people of the town of Faith are beginning to lose faith in the promise of the Milwaukee road that it would be operating its line into that town this fall. The rails have been laid as far out as Eagle Butte, about twenty miles east of Dupree, and fifty miles from Faith. The work was completed to that point October 11, and nothing further has been done west of Eagle Butte except to haul out and locate bridge material. While the western part of Faulk county was in the "dry" belt this year, at least one farmer in that section has no great complaint to make. Last spring he purchased a quarter section for $1,800 and broke 100 acres which he sowed to flax. His crop this fall was only ten bushels to the acre, but he sold the 1,000 bushels at $2.50 a bushel, leaving him his quarter section clear and a nice little sum besides.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY IS BUSY

Many South Dakota Residents Are Charged with Violation of the Law.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 21.—(Special.)—The United States grand jury has returned indictments against a number of residents of Bon Homme county on the charge of having sold liquor to Indians. There are seven of these defendants, James Oberker, James Auiera, Frank Stenick, August Zolnowsky, Ben Lott, John Herlinger and Frank Blasek. All have engaged attorneys and will make a hard fight against conviction. Henry L. Thompson of Stanley county was indicted for a similar offense and when arraigned entered a plea of not guilty. The grand jury returned an indictment against John H. Conway of Belle Fourche and P. J. Welsh of Minneapolis on the charge of entering into a conspiracy to

HALF-MINUTE STORE TALK

A street car conductor bought a pair of our matchless $2.50 shoes the other day. He said he was on his way to buy a pair of extensively advertised two-fifty shoes in another store, having been led to believe he could save a lot of money. He happened to notice those in window No. 4. He decided that the loudly touted $2.50 shoes would have to go some to beat ours. To make a long story short—the shoes he started to buy "improved" better than they looked and before leaving our store the actually thanked us for making the display mentioned. He'll think us more when his feet get real well acquainted with our shoes.

Suit Prices Start at $10 and End at $40

No other Omaha store is so well organized for value-giving. We are our own makers. We pay no tribute in advanced prices for the use of any self-styled "best" maker's name. We sell our suits strictly on their merits. We have confidence enough in our ability as Clothiers, to properly exploit our product without aid from outside advertisers. When you buy one of our suits you are dealing with us. Should anything prove unsatisfactory you make your complaint to us, and it is settled immediately instead of corresponding with some distant manufacturer and waiting months for him to tell you he can do nothing for you.

Here is where the best popular priced suits for men and young men are sold

This is a broad assertion, but easily proven when we guarantee a saving of $5.00 to $10.00. We are using the suits of our competitors as the basis of comparison. Our assortment is several times that of other stores, and what is of vital importance to every fellow, our's are all new for this season. No "old timers" to greet you here.

Princess Sayrane

By Edith Ogden Harrison

OVER the love story of the beautiful Princess there flashes the oriental splendor of ancient Egypt—a splendor that has never been equaled in the world. It reads like some stately old poem—or the "Song of Songs" itself.

This is Mrs. Harrison's first novel, after several very successful books for children. It has been brought out in splendid style, with illustrations in full color by Harold Betts.

GEBHARDT GUILTY OF MURDER

Jury Finds Anna Luther Was Lured Into the Woods and Then Shot.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., Oct. 21.—Fredrick Gebhardt, Astoria, L. I., was today found guilty of the murder in April last year, of Anna Luther, a young woman, whom he had duped into marrying him to get her money. Having lured her to some woods near his place, Gebhardt told her he was a married man with a family. The girl implored him not to desert her, but Gebhardt whipped out a revolver and shot her dead.

EPISCOPAL CONVENTION ENDS

Bishops and Delegates Grateful Over the Work that Has Been Accomplished.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 21.—With only minor business to be acted on, the delegates to the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal church, which closed today, resolved to clear the state of this matter and then adjourn sine die. Both the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies were scheduled to hold a session to finish their labors. Bishops and other delegates expressed themselves as gratified at the work done on, while other subjects were considered by the convention in its three week's session. Much important legislation was acted and passed to the next convention to be held in New York City in 1912.

AFTERMATH OF GULF STORM

Passengers from the Louisiana Are Rescued and Boats Again Begun to Move.

HAVANA, Oct. 21.—The United States cutter Forward returned here today bringing the rest of the passengers from the French trans-Atlantic steamer Louisiana, which went ashore on Sombbrero reef during the hurricane of Monday. About half of the 54 passengers reached here yesterday.

The captain of the Louisiana reports it will be impossible to save his ship until the cargo has been relieved. He is still awaiting orders from the owners. The captain of the Norwegian steamer For, fast in the quicksand of Maracaibo has arrived at Tortugas and reports his vessel in good condition. He will return to her today to discharge her cargo. The bark Hugo was towed into port last night by the tug Astoria.

The ballast steamer Miami will depart today for Jacksonville with the mails. The steamer Maxson is expected from Jacksonville with mails during the day. Persistent Advertising is the Road to Big Returns.

CONGREGATIONAL MEET ENDS

National Council Closes Most Important Conference in History of Church at Boston.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—The national council of Congregational churches, in taking final adjournment of its fourteenth triennial convention tonight, closed what the leaders of the denomination say has been the most important conference in its history. Tonight's session concluded a series of meetings which has lasted more than ten days. Two decisions in particular, in the opinion of the leading clerical delegates to the council, stamped the Boston meeting of the council as epoch making so far as Congregationalism is concerned—the vote to centralize the source of denominational activity and authority and the unusual number of affiliated Congregational societies six sticks of dynamite, found yesterday, is a cherry tree on the grounds of Charles K. Henry, a local capitalist. The workman said his business took him in a direction opposite to that of the destination of the dynamite and he had placed it in the tree pending a time for carrying it to the grading camp. The discovery of the explosive led to a report that an attempt was planned to blow up the home of Mr. Henry, who has been active in advocating an "open shop."
