

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Henry Talbot Severely Wounded by Marshall Purcell.

QUARREL ARISES OVER JEALOUSY

City Officials Return from Toledo, Where They Carried Street Improvement Bonds—New Provision Made in Contract.

Henry Talbot, colored, who lives at 262 South Twelfth street, was stabbed last night seven times by another colored man, Marshall Purcell, at the latter's home at Thirtieth and V streets. The injured man was attended by Dr. Shanahan and although he is in a serious condition from the loss of blood none of the wounds is regarded by the doctor as dangerous.

Both men are employed in the packing houses and when Purcell returned from work after 7 o'clock, he found Talbot sitting in the front room playing the piano. Purcell's ire arose immediately.

"What are you doing here?" he exclaimed, and rushing at Talbot tried to strike him.

"If you don't want me in your house I'll go," was Talbot's reply, and he was on his way out when Purcell hit him with his fist. He struck back and then Purcell pulled out his pocket knife and proceeded to cut up the unfortunate's back.

When he got a slash on the head behind the left ear, Talbot ran, but Purcell followed him and before he was brought back to the house by his wife and another woman named Adie Brana, he had cut Talbot on the left arm and on the back. The injuries on the head and arm are the most serious. Jealousy seems to have been the cause of the quarrel.

Purcell was arrested by Captain Dvorak, who was accompanied to the place by Detective Morton and Officers Todd and Quinn. He was apparently packing to quit the city. He has been regarded as a quiet and inoffensive man up to this.

Secure New Bond Contract.

City Treasurer Gillin and City Attorney Murphy returned to the city yesterday morning from Toledo, O., whether they had traveled to deposit with the purchasers, Spitzer & Co., $300,000 worth of street improvement bonds. They brought back with them $50,000 and a new contract. In the old contract there was a substitution clause which was not regarded as sufficiently protecting the city against valueless bonds being deposited in lieu of the city's securities. The new contract provides that the substituted bonds must be municipal bonds and that the city is to have notification of any substitution. Payment of the rest of the purchase will be made when the bank receives from the city treasurer his check for work done, but the check must be accompanied by a certified estimate from the city engineer. There is now to be no sale of city bonds in the Toledo bank $100,000, which includes interest which has accrued since the sale of the bonds.

Paris Changing For Worse, Says C. F. Manderson

General. Just Back from Europe. Comments on Recklessness of French Chauffeurs.

General Charles F. Manderson, one of Omaha's representatives to the International Law Association meeting in London returned here yesterday. Besides attending the law meeting the general and his wife made a short tour of Europe.

CATARRH OF THE KIDNEYS NOT ALWAYS RECOGNIZED.

A Cold Settled in Kidneys, Causing Serious Trouble. Pe-ru-na Restores Health.

CATARRH of the kidneys is a very much neglected disease. It is not until the disease has a firm hold upon the kidneys that the patient begins to realize that there is some derangement of these organs.

MR. JOHN N. WATKINS.

Among all the greatly advertised medicines for kidney and bladder trouble there is nothing which equals Pe-ru-na. I suffered for several years with this trouble, spent hundreds of dollars on doctors and medicine and all to no purpose, until I took Pe-ru-na.

Mr. W. F. Clow, 428 E. St. Vrain St., Colorado Springs, Colo., a retired real estate man, writes: "I am a man of over seventy years and feel that I owe my present good health entirely to Pe-ru-na. I began using it about a year ago for asthma and kidney trouble, and took several bottles. I have not felt better in years."

BEN BAKER TO HITCHECK

(Continued from First Page.) The men you attack are all you say that does not lessen the charge made against you. You cannot divert attention from your record and transaction with Bartley by crying "thief, thief." There can be no purpose in your villainous attack on me but to divert attention from the serious charges made against you. I am not an issue in this campaign; you are. My record, good or bad, is of no defense to the charges made against you.

No Excuse for Hitchcock.

"What I am or ever have been is no excuse for my transactions with Joe Bartley fifteen years ago. You could not then, as an excuse for your transactions with the state treasurer, have anticipated that some time in the future I would go wrong. You got the money then because you wanted it. Some men get money by robbery, some by burglary, some by embezzlement, some by borrowing it from public treasurers. They are all criminals.

"You are the issue in this campaign, not I. It is for you to meet the issue and you should do it fairly and squarely."

"Hitch" in a fit. "You must feel yourself in a horrible dilemma to so openly the tom-tom and kindle red lights to divert public attention from the inextricable position in which you are now situated."

"So far as my private and public record is concerned it is one that I have made and of it I am content. The public is not now interested in my record. The public is interested in your record. You are asking the people of this state to support you for United States senator. If the charges made against you, as evidenced by the declarations of Judge Howard and the letters written by you to Mr. Bartley are true, you are not a fit person for United States senator from this state. You are asking favors, I am not. You have an issue to meet and a very serious one. It is up to you to meet these issues; that is what the public is now demanding of you."

"The charges made against you are serious enough for you to contemplate without adding thereto the qualifications and disposition of a villifier and an assassin."

"Another thing that impressed me is the growing knowledge of several languages in European countries. The president of the credit company in Karachi, where we stopped for a time, speaks twelve languages and all the waiters in the hotels speak three languages at least. Americans are the only class of travelers who talk but one tongue, all men of other countries, even many South Americans speak several."

General Manderson also spoke of the great changes that are coming over the ocean service since his first crossed the ocean twenty-five years ago.

PAWN SHOP MAN HELD FOR USING GUN ON CUSTOMER

The Kuseman and Julius Stobidinski are prisoners at the police station and Frank Delaney is suffering at the Omaha General hospital as the result of a quarrel between the men about noon Friday. Kuseman is proprietor of a pawnshop at 1311 Douglas street. Delaney was inspecting some of the goods therein, with a view to making a purchase, he reported, when Kuseman struck him with the butt end of a revolver. He suffered two severe scalp wounds.

Robbers Hold Up Suburban Store and Make Escape

Walnut Hill Pharmacy Robbed of Contents of Cash Register with Five Persons in Place.

Two unmasked men entered the Walnut Hill Pharmacy at Fortieth and Cumby streets about 10 o'clock last night, when there were five people in the store, and held up the proprietor, securing about $25. Gus Sandberg, who is in the employ of the Omaha News company, was just leaving the place as the robbers entered. The men forced him to stand in a corner and wait until they were through with their work. They then turned their attention to Dr. F. A. Nelson, who was coming from behind the counter to see what was the matter, thinking it a joke. He was soon relieved of this misapprehension, one of the men pointing a gun at his head and compelling him to throw up his hands.
