GUARANTY HEARING FIXED

December Twelfth Date Set by United States Supreme Court.

HAMER IS WORKING FOR TAYLOR

Kearney Attorney Making Effort to Prove Minder Murderer is Insane — To Present Matter to Governor Shallenberger.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The constitutionality of the Nebraska bank guaranty law will be argued in the supreme court of the United States about December 12. This information was received by Deputy Attorney General Grant Martin in a telegram from W. T. Thompson from Washington, who said the motion to advance the case had been granted.

Final Appeal for Taylor.
Judge Hamer, attorney for Bert M. Taylor, submitted to be hanged tomorrow, has filed a petition in the office of the governor asking for a stay of execution until the question of Taylor's sanity can be passed upon. In his petition Judge Hamer sets out that Taylor is insane and that not only his crime but his conduct after its commission stamps him as an insane man. He argues also that the supreme court should have granted the condemned man a new trial because of the erroneous instructions of the trial judge.

Governor Shallenberger is out making campaign speeches, but he will return to Lincoln to pass upon the petition filed by Judge Hamer, who said he would have acted before this had he known that J. L. McPhesley, who was Taylor's attorney, had dropped out of the case. He knew of this fact, he said, only recently and hastened from Chadron to Lincoln last night in order to permit presentation of the petition.

WATER SUIT AT KEARNEY

Petition for Injunction at Gothenburg, Cozad and Lexington.
KEARNEY, Neb., Oct. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Suit was filed in the district court here today by the Kearney Water and Electric Power company against the water companies of Gothenburg, Cozad and Lexington, requesting an injunction enjoining the defendants from using water out of the Platte river.

The Kearney company own an irrigation ditch constructed in 1882 from Elm creek to this city. This ditch has been dry for months and the Kearney electric power house has been using steam instead of water power as a result.

The plaintiff alleges it has prior right to water in the Platte as the defendant's ditches were constructed at a much later date.

Defendants claim that if the water was not used it would evaporate before reaching Kearney.

The case will be heard in district court in Lexington November 15, having been continued from this court. The Platte at this point has been a streak of sand for five months.

Burkett, Sloan and Hinsaw in the Fourth

Speeches Made to Good Crowds at Stromsburg, Polk, Hampton, Hordville and Aurora.

AURORA, Oct. 27.—(Special.)—The third day's speaking trip of Senator Burkett, congressman Hinsaw and Hon. C. H. Sloan, through the Fourth congressional district closed here last night.

The party left Stromsburg Wednesday morning, stopping at Polk, where a good meeting was held. From there Hordville was the next stop where a good crowd turned out to hear the speakers.

At Hampton, where a meeting was advertised for 5 o'clock, the opera house was in possession of a theatrical company and an automobile garage was pressed into use and was soon filled with a good crowd which at various times was very demonstrative of their appreciation.

In the evening the opera house at Aurora was crowded with a most enthusiastic audience. Before the speaking began the speakers participated in a smoker as the guests of the Aurora Commercial club, and were well entertained for an hour.

When the speakers appeared on the stage they were greeted with a most enthusiastic reception from the large crowd which had gathered and were listened to attentively. The meeting was presided over by County Chairman B. O. Bergeron, who first introduced Congressman Hinsaw, who spoke in most hearty terms of the loyalty which had always been accorded him by Senator Sloan in past years and especially after being defeated by Mr. Hinsaw for the republican nomination a few years ago. He spoke most enthusiastically of the ability of Senator Sloan to ably represent the people of the Fourth district and of the state in congress.

Congressman Hinsaw spoke in most emphatic terms of the work done by Senator Burkett and said that he knew personally that President Roosevelt had called in Mr. Burkett for consultation at times when important measures were before congress. He said that the work of Senator Burkett was along progressive lines and that his assistance would be needed at the coming session of congress.

The addresses of both Senator Burkett and Senator Sloan were listened to most attentively and applauded frequently. They spoke upon national and state issues and covered the questions at issue to the satisfaction of the audience, if the demonstrations of approval count for the feelings of the audience.

The meeting was in great contrast to that of the democrats a few days ago. Mayor Dahman left the city of Aurora after his meeting here with his stock much below what it was before his meeting.

SAYS BOOSTERS HAVE GAINED

S. F. Miller of Northwestern Declares Expansionists Have Improved Since Last Fall.

"The Omaha Booster's have improved so much in their organization since last year that the trip this season is leaving a much better impression on the minds of the people than ever before," is the statement made by S. F. Miller, general freight and passenger agent of the Northwestern lines west of the Missouri river.

"I accompanied the excursion as far as Fremont, when they left the Northwestern lines," continued Mr. Miller, "and everything was going along finely and everybody working hard. The Omaha men not only advertised their goods, but also left an impression of Omaha as a trade town that won't be forgotten.

"It's a great sight to see Dave O'Brien in the middle of the street almost getting the clothes torn off his back by a crowd of children after buttercups and taffy. Other boosters who are advertising themselves by whistles and such nicknames are not forgotten either.

The merchants and the people are just as anxious to welcome the Omaha men as the children. Altogether, I think the trip is the most successful ever held."
