coordser, which has been a mouth important among twelve months as viewed by society, has only one more day to add to its laurels, but there is every prospect that this one day will be filled with activity. In truth there has been, and bi an unusual interest in the old festival "Haliougies." Several Hallowe'en entertalumonts were given Saturday and even earlfer in the last week, and many are planned for tomorrow evening.

The most interesting of those announced for Monday is the dancing party to be Jones, Morton Engleman, Clyde Murphy, given by the new Cotillion club, the Juni- Edward, Callahan, Harry Marsh, Roy ors. STYLES JUST FROM PARIS The Very Latest Models for the Winter Season Are Here Dinner and Evening Gowns, Tailored Costumes, Suits

Our Mr. J. L. Orkin just returned from New York City, after purchasing some surpassingly beautiful creations. We emphasize JUST RETURNED because this trip was made for a special purpose.

Dresses, Coats, Capes, Furs

Early in the summer the French designers bring out models specially for the American manufacturers to copy-these are the styles that are seen everywhere in the large department stores, but before the season is half over. Their choicest models-those for the Parisians and a few favored American designers, who bring over models for the high class exclusive shops-they hold in reserve till late in the season. These are the fashions that will remain distinctive all winter and do not become generally popular before next spring. For this reason our Mr. J. L. Orkin, made a special trip to New York City, bringing back the exact new models just from Paris.

Gowns, Capes and Evening Coats AT $50, $59.50, $65, $75, $85 up to $125

The very latest styles from Paris, no two alike, and the correct thing for every fashionable function, be it afternoon or evening.

Paris Models in Tailored Costumes AT $55, $65, $69.50, $75, $79.50 up to $115

These beautiful new tailored costumes come in silk velvets, corduroi, imported broadcloths and foreign rough suitings, no two alike.

FINE FURS One doesn't buy a fur garment off-hand, but usually only after a good deal of consideroughly reliable business record we have come to be regarded a dependable place for furs, and you can be assured that the "Orkin" mark on furs means as much as "sterling" on an article of jewelry.

Coats at $19.50. $25.00, $29.75, $35.00 and $45.00

Stylish, practical broadcloth Coats, lined and unlined, seal plush coats, with long shawl collars and enffs turned black that look like real seal, caracul coats that resemble the fur garments, and any number of designs in the new soft, rough materials, which will be so popular this winter.

Tailored Suits at $25.00 $29.75, $35, $39 50 and $45

An almost bewildering variety of smart styles from the genteel severely tailored suits to the more elaborate designs that take their style from Paris modes. They are made on straight or semi-fitted lines, slender hip effects, in all shades of broadcloth and in a great variety of new foreign rough materials.
