DENIES TALK ABOUT SPEECH

Bryan's Remarks Sorely Disappointing to Shallenberger Men.

SHOUT AFTER HORSE IS STOLEN

Condemns Convention Managers Who Named Dahlman, Yet Stands for Other Candidate Proved Party in Treasurers Shortage.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Opinions differ as to what effect the Bryan speech last night will have on the campaign, and many persons who were present are discussing it.

Some democrats who were lukewarm toward Mayor Dahlman, though opposing county option, were outspoken this morning in favor of the mayor and against Mr. Bryan.

Many republicans believe the effect of the speech will be to line up the dry vote in Lancaster county more effectively than it would have been possible for the committee to have done it.

Shallenberger democrats feel rather put out at the speech and their objection to it is that it should have been delivered in Lincoln before the primary. They say had Mr. Bryan made that speech and denounced Dahlman before the August election then Governor Shallenberger would have been the democratic nominee. Feeling that way toward Mr. Bryan, they seem to feel more kindly toward Dahlman.

Dry republicans appreciate the help the speech will do Senator Aldrich, but they are not pleased with Mr. Bryan's discussion of national issues nor his endorsement of the partner of a defaulting state treasurer for United States senator, simply because he is a democrat.

Bryan's Inconsistency. Mr. Bryan's inconsistency has also been a generous topic of conversation during the day. He urged the point that the democratic party was closer to the people than the republican party and that it has more confidence in the people than has the republican party, and for that reason he said the democratic party had urged for years the popular election of United States senators, and the Nebraska democratic legislature enacted the Oregon law of electing senators.

"The primary election law," said a democrat in discussing that portion of his speech, "brought the selection of nominees close to the people—as close as it could be brought. Under that law, advocated by Mr. Bryan to bring elections closer to the people, Mayor Dahlman was nominated by the democratic party. The people selected Mr. Dahlman. If Mr. Bryan believes in the people why does he not the nominee of his party?"

The immense crowd which heard Mr. Bryan discuss the "issues of the day" expected to hear him defend county option and in this his hearers were disappointed and many have so expressed themselves today.

Praises His Enemies.

Mr. Bryan said the Grand Island democratic convention was managed by a gang of brewers and their agents and then he endorsed Mr. Hitchcock. The senatorial nominee was the man who proposed the resolution which named the republican candidate at the convention. If the brewers managed the convention these democrats are saying they certainly operated through Mr. Hitchcock.

Democrats are also pointing out that when Mr. Bryan said the convention had voted down a motion to denounce county option by such an overwhelming majority he is telling only half the truth, for by practically the same vote he motioned to endorse county option was defeated.

While the republicans were not well pleased with Mr. Bryan's talk on national issues and his endorsement of Hitchcock, they felt very kindly for his repudiation of Dahlman. They believe the speech will line up the populists and the dry vote throughout the state in favor of Senator Aldrich, and they doubt that his endorsement of Hitchcock will have much, if any, effect, for they believe that the people will not stand for a man who borrowed state money and refused to pay it back because Barley permitted the debt to outlive while he was in the penitentiary.

BRYAN TALKS AT BROKEN BOW

Scores Dahlman and Roasts Brewery Interests.

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—W. H. Bryan, two addresses here today, one before the schools in the forenoon along educational lines and the other this afternoon before an audience that crowded the opera house to the doors.

Mr. Bryan started out by paying a tribute to Curt in its county option tendencies. He said the democrats were now learning what they should have learned last summer—that it does not pay to cater to the liquor interests. He favored six democratic congressmen, extolled the merits of Mr. Taylor and condemned Congressman Kinkaid's methods. Mr. Hitchcock was highly praised and endorsed by Mr. Bryan for senator. He said if certain democrats would get out the party would be stronger, although smaller in numbers, and explained the difference between a democrat and an aristocrat.

The free silver issue of fourteen years ago was mentioned and he explained that high prices were caused by a corresponding increase in gold. The election of senators by direct vote also came in for a share of attention, as did the tariff, but county option and the liquor question were paramount. He said he would neither vote nor speak for Dahlman and that if Dahlman was one thousand times bigger than he is could not stand against the environment. Mr. Bryan closed a two-hour talk by declaring he would not allow his party to develop a case of delirium tremens if he could possibly prevent it. After the address Mr. Bryan, accompanied by Judge Dean, Marshall Eddy, Ross Moore and others, departed for Merma by automobile.

METCALFE TO AURORA VOTERS

Lincoln Man Makes Address in Favor of Aldrich.

AURORA, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—To an audience which completely filled the opera house, Richard W. Metcalfe of Lincoln, spoke in favor of county option and against the election of Dahlman, here last night.

Answering Dahlman's statement that county option is not democratic, Mr. Metcalfe declared that it is democratic in that it is in direct line with the domestic doctrine, "let the people rule."

Mr. Metcalfe appealed to the democrats to save the reputation of the democratic party by defeating the personal liberty candidate for governor.

Attention to the fact that the democratic party should not assume the responsibility of electing a man who declares openly and in advance of election that he will veto a measure which if passed will be the will of the people as expressed by their vote upon legislative candidates.

Nebraska

When Governor Boyd vetoed the maximum freight rate bill, he said, the democratic party woke up dead the next morning and remained a corpse for twenty years. It will be the same, he declared, if Dahlman is elected and vetoes a county option bill.

Speaking of Dahlman's oft-repeated statement that "Bryan and Met got badly trimmed at the democratic state convention," Mr. Metcalfe said that they did not get badly trimmed in Grand Island, but he entertained serious doubts about the trimming being administered by a democratic convention. "It looked to me," he said, "more like a bartender's reunion."

ALDRICH NAILS SOME LIES

At Havelock Outlines Attitude to Railroad Men.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—At a large republican rally held at Havelock tonight G. H. Aldrich answered a few of the statements that have been set afloat against him by his opponents.

It is being circulated around the state that Mr. Aldrich had said the railroads say that if freight rates are reduced then the wages of the railway employees must be reduced. Mr. Aldrich is quoted as saying that "it is all right, the railway employees are paid too much in comparison with other labor."

Mr. Aldrich denied that story as being absolutely untrue and circulated to injure him with the railroad employees. He denounced as malicious and untrue the statement attributed to him that he is opposed to employes of railroads receiving passes unless they have worked for three years and then the employes only should get passes.

Another story being circulated was that Senator Aldrich had said when he wanted to railroad people he would talk to the officials and not the employes; that he cared nothing for the employes. This statement, like the others, he denounced as being absolutely false.

Senator Burkett and Will Hayward were the other speakers and local candidates occupied seats upon the platform. The meeting was well attended and the members of the Union Veterans' Republican club went out on a special car in a body.

DAHLMAN TALKS IN HOWARD

He and W. H. Thompson Make Addresses at 800 Paul.

ST. PAUL, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Mayor "Jim" Dahlman campaigned in Howard county yesterday and closed the day with a big meeting at the court house last night. A big crowd was composed both of partisans on the liquor question and of curiosity seekers.

Mr. Dahlman took the position that there is no issue and no platform in this campaign except liquor, and he asserted that county option is a prohibition and prohibition is a failure. The leading subject of his talk was the excellence of his own official record, how he had held office after office, and in every instance surrendered back to the people his commission "without a spot of stain."

He appealed to the Shallenberger democrats present to come over and vote for him, but said nothing to the populists, who are the big disgruntled element in this county.

W. H. Thompson of Grand Island closed the meeting with a brief but eloquent address.

MARTIN SPEAKS AT SIDNEY

Deputy Attorney General Makes Address to Large Audience—Bushee Speaks Also.

SIDNEY, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special Telegram.)—Grant Martin, deputy attorney general, spoke to a large audience here last night at the court house. He defined his position on county option and said he favored the plank in the republican platform, as it represented the personal liberty of the people of Nebraska and seeking also referred to the duties of the attorney general and details of the office. He claimed that under republican rule Nebraska has been one of the most prosperous states in the union and urged his hearers to support the entire state ticket.

B. K. Bushee, candidate for state representative, also delivered an address upon the issue of the day and his remarks elicited frequent outbursts of applause. Dr. Lincoln O. Simon presided.

MULLEN AND JUNKIN CLASH

Letter Says Mortensen's Name Shall Go on Ballot.

MAILS LETTER TO COUNTY CLERKS

Junkin Declares Former Attorney General Declared Candidate's Name Could Properly Go on the Ticket.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Secretary of State Junkin and Arthur Mullen, brand-new attorney general, have had their first clash, and it came over the first opinion of the new attorney general. He said the name of Mr. Mortensen should not go on the ballot as a candidate for railway commissioner to fill vacancy. Mr. Junkin says the name shall go on the ballot. So today he sent the following letter to the county clerks:

I have been informed that Mr. Arthur Mullen, the recently appointed attorney general, has given his decision to a county attorney, who, in turn, was asked by a county clerk, as to whether he should place the name of Peter J. Mullen on the ballot, as a candidate for railway commissioner, to fill vacancy, on the general election ballot, and in this matter I have been informed before Mr. Mullen became the head, and in an unwritten opinion was informed that it would be perfectly legal to have Mr. Mortensen's name appear upon the ticket, as the law on this matter is somewhat ambiguous, and that the proper objections raised it could be tested out in the courts and settled, not only in this matter but in any similar case that might arise in the future.

I still think that Mr. Mortensen's name shall be placed on the general election ballot as a candidate for railway commissioner to fill vacancy by petition, and it is not necessary either Mr. Mullen is right or I am right, but a matter for the courts to decide.

By the appointment of Arthur Mullen as attorney general, Governor Shallenberger secures control of two state boards, the board of health and the board of irrigation, and thus he has the power to provide jobs for more jobs in cooperation. The state board of health, which is composed of the governor, attorney general and state superintendent, has the power to name the state health inspector, a place now held by Dr. W. H. Wilson, a republican.

This office also has a stenographer. The board of irrigation is composed of the attorney general, the governor and the land commissioner. The secretary to this board, however, is a democrat. There is no intimation, however, that the new attorney general will insist upon making any changes in any of these places under the control of these two boards.

There were fifteen cases of scarlet fever, which is about the normal number.

Blodgett won out the women racers and won by a spectacular finish.

DAHLMAN SUED ON OLD NOTE

Execution is Levied Tuesday Against the Property of the Mayor to Satisfy Judgment.

Execution against the property of James C. Dahlman, mayor of Omaha and democratic candidate for governor of Nebraska, was issued in district court Tuesday to satisfy a judgment for $1,984.97 in favor of J. G. Rempel.

The original suit was on a note for $1,978.50, given by H. P. Simmons and Dahlman to the Floto Commission company of South Omaha, December 31, 1902. Rempel sued to collect the note, which he said he had purchased. Dahlman made no resistance on the ground that in the first place the note had been given for no value consideration. A jury found for the plaintiff and judgment was entered against Dahlman in the amount fixed by the verdict.
