

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Foreign Cables Higher, but Not Enough to Sustain Advance.

CORN IS SHOWING BETTER TONE

Cash Wheat is Unchanged and Higher Offerings Are Taken by the Elevator Houses—Market Has Weak Undertones.

OMAHA, Nov. 10. Liverpool cables came slightly higher, but were not strong enough to sustain the late advance of yesterday. Large lines of short wheat have been bought, which has somewhat relieved the overcast conditions. Today's market was quiet and uneventful, trading being very light.

Corn is showing better tone because of improved cash demand and a few scattered complaints on husking returns. With receipts light and no material change in the outlook, the market is showing a better tone.

Cash wheat was unchanged. Light offering of elevator receipts was not sufficient to cover early sales. Toward the close the market showed a very weak undertone. The cash corn market ruled dull and inactive. Receipts are very light and no material change in the outlook is expected.

Primary wheat receipts were 77,000 bu. and shipments were 407,000 bu., against receipts last year of 1,057,000 bu. and shipments of 820,000 bu.

Primary corn receipts were 34,900 bu. and shipments were 22,000 bu., against receipts last year of 246,000 bu. and shipments of 280,000 bu.

Cleanings were 14,000 bu. of corn, 5,000 bu. of oats and wheat and flour equal to 25,000 bu.

Norfolk closed 1/2 higher on wheat and 1/4 higher on corn.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Features of the Trading and Closing Prices on Board of Trade.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Severe disappointment in the wheat market largely because of reports that the winter sown acreage in this country is the largest on record. The close was heavy at a net decline of 7/16 to 20¢. Corn closed 1/16 higher at 10¢. Last night and this morning the market was unchanged.

The biggest gain in winter wheat acreage was said to be in Oklahoma. With less increase there, the total acreage would indicate a yield of 2,000,000 bushels, the state promises to be one of the largest producers in the country.

DEALINGS IN U. S. STEEL EXPAND

Statement by Iron Age that Buying of Steel Rails Has Begun.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The speculative rally in the stock market today was characterized by a higher price for steel stocks. The professional grounds for the movement were the steel and copper trade advices.

The dealings in United States Steel expanded to a large volume. In the neighborhood of 100,000 shares were traded. The movement, little business was done and the market closed very dull on the advance.

The principal news from the steel trade contained in the statement of the Iron Age that buying of steel rails by the railroads for bill had begun.

On the side of the copper trade there were reports of some of the principal producers holding for higher prices and of sales to foreign buyers of large amounts for delivery in December and January.

London reported a decline in the price of copper metal today and this had the effect of restraining the movement in copper securities.

The call money market did not show the expected relaxation. The rate holding at 4 per cent or above for the first time since the fall season. The weekly statement of the Federal Reserve bank reflecting the reduction of other securities, reflecting payments by the money market to the Treasury by reason of the sale of the gold, value, $2,125,000, United States bonds were unchanged on call.

SUTTON WORKERS LINING UP

Large Number Volunteer to Work Next Tuesday Without Pay.

KENNEDY TALKS OF MACHINES

Says that He is Surprised that a Judge Rules that He Cannot Pass on the Constitutionality of the Law.

No paid workers will appear at the polls Tuesday in behalf of Judge A. L. Sutton, but instead 100 members of the congressional campaign committee have volunteered, every man of them, to go to the polls and work all day for Judge Sutton.

The meeting following the congressional committee saw the whole body of the Loback scheme, Judge Sutton in his own address to the meeting said: "I have written machines or no machines, and my opponent will find that his scheme will work him little good. I wish to say to you, that I may not recently circulated lies, that not one cent has been contributed to my campaign from any source. No breweries or corporations are putting up money to try to persuade me to congress. That money is on the other side of the ticket."

"Nor has the republican national congressional committee sent a penny to Omaha. It has been declared and declared again that the national committee is pouring in thousands of dollars in my behalf. It is a deliberate falsehood. Judge Sutton then read letters from Congressman McKinley of Illinois, chairman of the national congressional committee, saying that in the apportionment of funds, none was allotted in this district."

Kennedy Denounces Machines.

R. A. Searle, chairman of Judge Sutton's committee, made a rousing speech and his words were followed by a denunciation of the voting machine in politics and a criticism of Judge Troup's decision.

"I was gravely surprised," said Mr. Kennedy, "that a judge of the district court should have formed an opinion upon the constitutionality of a law and I regard the precedent as most dangerous. The voting machine is a dangerous political implement. It permits the weaker man to gain strength from the stronger, and instead of each candidate being judged upon his merits, good men may sometimes slip in, in this way. The voting machine is bad as it is now constituted, and I shall oppose it as long as it makes for bad government."

Following Mr. Kennedy's address the members of the congressional committee volunteered for work election day. That the attendance of the committee was complete to a man at the meeting is regarded as a political fact of unusual importance and a testimonial to the regard in which the committee held Judge Sutton.

Small Fire in the Postoffice

Chicgo Rags Cause Spontaneous Combustion, with Slight Damage to the Building.

Fire was narrowly averted in the federal building Thursday morning when a bunch of rags used by the janitor in wiping floors became ignited. The rags were saturated with a highly inflammable oil used by janitors for polishing woodwork, and after the morning clean-up the rags were laid away in a witness room on the third floor, used at the present time for storage purposes.

It is presumed that the rags ignited from spontaneous combustion—at least there is no other theory in explanation, for no matches had been struck in the room. Attention to the blaze was attracted by a dense volume of smoke which poured out into the corridors and attaches of the building, seeing the smoke, began in investigation, which led to the storage room, where the rags were found.
