ROY-GREEN DIGS WAY OUT

Hotel Thief Finds Council Bluffs Jail Easy Picking.

PHONES POLICE AFTER ESCAPE

Wrenches Pipe from Radiator and Cuts Hole Through Sixteen-Inch Brick Wall and Easily Crawls Through.

Roy Green yesterday added one more brilliant stunt to the many achievements that have made him for many years an object of extreme police solicitude. He dug a hole through the sixteen-inch wall in the city jail and escaped.

Green was to have been taken to Atlantic on Wednesday evening to answer the charge of stealing $200 from the room of Landlord Daly of the Pullman hotel after he was fully identified as the man caught prowling through the upper corridors by Mrs. Daly and her daughter.

Green was to have been taken away on an evening Buick Island train, but the Cass county sheriff changed his mind and consulted the county attorney. During the night Green was locked up in one of the steel cells on the lower floor of the jail, but yesterday morning after all of the prisoners had been put through the police court mill, Green was left alone, the only man in that part of the building. He was not locked in a cell but given the liberty of the small corridor. There is no day hall on duty and the jailer's office in the front part of the building is deserted through the day except when a prisoner is admitted.

Hole Through Wall. Some time about the noon hour Green reached through the steel bars on the west side of the cells and wrenched off a short steel half-inch waste pipe from the

THREE DAY DRINK CURE THE NEAL WAY

The Neal Three-Day Drink Habit Cure is Located in Omaha. An Average of Forty Patients Cured Per Month.

Prominent among Omaha institutions for public good and betterment is the Neal Institute at 1502 South Tenth street, Omaha, Neb., where the Neal three-day drink habit cure is administered under a guaranteed bond and contract to effect a perfect cure in three days or refund the fee. With the co-operation and endorsements of such men as: Mayor Dahlgren, Dean Boecher and many of the Catholic clergy and other people of all classes, this institute has been able to reclaim over three-hundred men from the drink habit since its establishment last February. In addition to the Omaha institute there are over forty Neal institutes in successful operation over all America, including those at Des Moines, Davenport and Sioux City, Ia., and Grand Island, Neb. For complete information, testimonials and endorsements address the Neal Institute O. B., 1402 South Tenth street, Omaha, Neb.

steel radiator. Using this as a tool, he cut the unprotected brick wall on the east side of the corridor separating it from the jail office. The brick were soft and easily pried out and in a short time Green had a hole in the wall large enough to crawl through. Once in the jail office only the street door, guarded by an inside spring lock was between him and liberty, but he pried off a grating from one of the rear windows and escaped.

His absence was not noted until about 3 o'clock. The Omaha police department was called up and notified of the escape and a few minutes later Detective Savage called Desk Sergeant Nicol and told him that some man, probably Green himself, had called the Omaha station from a telephone located at Fifth and Lehigh streets, East Omaha, asking if Green was wanted. The detective replied that Green was wanted in Omaha, but was in jail at Council Bluffs, and the answer came back, "If you want him come out and get him; he's here now." This was about 1:30 o'clock.

The local police think Green had planted the money he stole from the Atlantic hotel man at some place in East Omaha and went directly there for the purpose of getting it, and are inclined to believe that it was Green himself who used the phone as a final act of dashing bravado.

Green's escape makes the second time men have gone through the sort brick wall on the east side of the jail corridor. Four years ago a man wanted thief dug his way to liberty in the same manner. It was then decided to bolt a steel plate over the wall that would make the corridor as secure as the cells, but the work was never done. All other parts of the corridor walls are thus protected.

Triple Trick Interests Many

Clever Invention of Miss Phelps Proving Wonder in Actual Cookery Demonstration.

The demonstration of the "Triple Trick Roaster," which has been under way at the office of the Citizens' Gas and Electric Light company since Tuesday, has aroused a tremendous lot of interest among the women of Council Bluffs. Miss Phelps, who is the inventor of the device, has been surrounded by crowds of interested women every moment she has been at work, and many of them have come the second time for further explanations. A number of women have also returned with their cooks, whom they desired to have instructed in the use of the roaster.

The club women have also become much interested in its operation and have been giving demonstrations to others interested in kitchen economics. They have been trying to discover some other useful purposes which Miss Phelps has not shown and some of them have succeeded in accomplishing acts of cookery that add still further to its comforting possibilities.

The fact that the roaster is given away free to subscribers of The Bee is not the least interesting feature of the demonstrations.

Judge Smith's Labor Record Fully Given

Chairman Henry C. Peterson of Ninth District Congressional Committee Makes Statement.

In his speeches throughout the Ninth congressional district W. F. Cleveland, democratic candidate for congress, has made some misstatements concerning the attitude of Congressman Walter I. Smith, based on information given him by the Des Moines democratic campaign headquarters. Henry C. Peterson, chairman of the Ninth district congressional committee, yesterday afternoon issued the following statement concerning Judge Smith's record in relation to legislation affecting the interests of labor:

To the Editor of The Bee: My attention has been directed to some statements which have been made by some of the friends of Mr. Cleveland with reference to the record of Congressman Walter I. Smith in matters affecting the interests of labor and labor organizations. I imagine that with most of the laboring people here in Council Bluffs, personally acquainted with Judge Smith, as nearly all of them are, this effort to show him in a false light will beget deep resentment and a quickened determination to go to the polls and vote for his opponent.

The record of Judge Smith is against those who have made the statements here referred to, for so far from being hostile to labor in the slightest degree Judge Smith has been an active friend of the laboring man and of the cause of labor and labor organizations on all occasions during his service in congress. He has been instrumental in advancing much legislation which has been important and of the highest interest to labor.

Among the measures enacted wholly or in part for the benefit of labor while Judge Smith has been in congress and for which he worked and voted may be enumerated the following:

- Employers' liability act of June 11, 1906.
- Enactment of Department of Commerce and Labor, February 14, 1908.
- Act authorizing the secretary of commerce and labor to investigate and report on social, moral, educational and physical conditions of women and child workers in the United States, January 1907.
- Act establishing the foundation for the promotion of industrial peace, March 2, 1907.
- Act limiting service of railway employees to sixteen hours, March 4, 1907.
- Model act regarding employment of child labor in District of Columbia, May 23, 1908.
- Act to promote safety of railway employees, May 2, 1908.
- Act to promote security of travel in interstate commerce and to encourage the saving of life.
- The saltpan bill for the protection of men when compelled to go under locomotives.

He has been chiefly instrumental in securing simple appropriations to execute the Enman act for the enforcement of voluntary arbitration of labor disputes; he has opposed compulsory arbitration as a violation of the constitution, which is the duty of every citizen. Many other special measures having a direct beneficial effect on labor have been introduced and passed by the United States congress, and it is in no small measure due to work done by Judge Smith that the railroad men are rapidly substituting steel mill cars for the old wooden ones and thereby cutting down the number of men in the coal and iron mines. Judge Smith secured the passage of a law providing for an inspection of mail cars without cost to the government by a corps of inspectors already examining cars as to safety appliances under interlocking switchboard conditions. He made a personal investigation of the matter and as a result started an agitation which brought relief in the shape of an ample appropriation for a new building which will afford ideal conditions of employment. In grateful appreciation of Judge Smith's work in this connection the Steel and Copper Plate Printers' union presented to him a beautifully and artistically
