REPUBLICANS SEE VICTORY
Chairman Husebitter Makes Prediction Upon Election.

WHOLE TICKET WILL GO THROUGH
Republican Committee Head Sees Clean Sweep of State, with Majority of 25,000 for Aldrich for Governor.

From a Staff Correspondent. LINCOLN, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—The following statement was issued from the republican state headquarters this evening: "It is certain the defeat of Dahlgren will be overwhelming. Aldrich's majority will exceed 25,000 and the victory will include all the republican candidates on both state and congressional tickets, including United States senator. The county option fight has no altered party alignment on the governorship that no accurate estimate can be made. The nature of the fight has made public of individual votes unrelatable on account of the changes from one side to the other. Nevertheless there are definite reports and facts from all over the state which make success of the republicans certain and sweeping. It is definitely known that a majority of voters which can be calculated with reasonable certainty, will be solidly for Aldrich. The prohibitionists are thoroughly aroused, and by increased numbers, which have formerly been opponents of the republican party, are practically a unit for Aldrich. A careful inventory of the past year's vote shows that the number of democrats who are following Bryan to Aldrich exceed in number all expectations. Bryan's influence among democrats has increased every day since Shallenberger was turned down and Bryan humiliated at the Grand Island convention. "The effective work done by church and kindred organizations for Aldrich in all parties was never before so effective or far-reaching." A large part of the democratic press has abandoned Dahlgren. The republican press has generally been loyal to the party and has been a power in the campaign. The republican organization has been faithful and active and the democrats are thoroughly disorganized. Able speakers, some of national repute, have defined the issues in all the counties. Dahlgren relies to a great extent on German votes, but is sure to be disappointed in them. A class they are honest and love law and order. They hoped to find in Dahlgren a real champion of liberty. Instead, they have found a bogus leader. They have become disgusted with his course and vulgar language and with his unsavory record, both in private life and in public office. "It is certain that in large numbers they are refusing to be classed with the vicious elements to whom Dahlgren is appealing without any sense of remorse or shame. The best influences in the state are at work all the time for Aldrich and their efforts will only close with the polls on November 8. "The effect of all the work of the campaign has been to hold the wavering republican voters in line and the result will be a clean sweep for the entire republican ticket from top to bottom with big majorities. Viewing from a taxpayer's standpoint, the two candidates for the high office of governor are honest and able. Mr. Aldrich has the distinguished honor of being the author of some of the most important legislation ever passed by a Nebraska legislature in the interest of the people, while Mr. Dahlgren's chief claim to the distinguished honor he is seeking lies in the fact that he pretentiously stated in all of his speeches that he would veto any county option law passed by the legislature, thereby disregarding the wishes of a majority of the people, and has many times stated that he would sign a bill repealing the 8 o'clock closing law which was unanimously adopted by the late democratic convention." Not So Many Failures as Same Period of 1909

LIABILITIES HEAVY, HOWEVER
Figures from R. G. Dun & Co. Showing the Record of Failures for Three Years Ending with October, 1910.

The October record of business failures as reported to R. G. Dun & Co. shows the largest total of liabilities of any month of this year since February, and the largest October total since 1908, with the exception of 1907. In number of defaults, however, the record is not so unfavorable. The number of failures during October was 1,121, comparing with 1,164 last year, 1,137 in 1908 and 1,139 in 1907. The total liabilities was $18,977,036 as compared with $18,329,963 in 1909, $15,928,968 in 1908, $27,114,909 in 1907, $24,714 in 1906 and $20,929 in 1905. The liabilities, however, were only slightly greater than in 1908, when they totaled $18,287,657. This result was mainly due to the large number of defaults—thirty-one for more than $100,000. Of the total liabilities of the month of $18,977,036, these large failures represented $3,349,483 as compared with $5,095,935 in 1909, $7,354,322 in 1908, $10,016,000 in 1907, $5,277,658 in 1906 and $1,973,500 in 1905. There were 1,091 failures for less than $100,000, totaling $15,627,553 as compared with $7,443,477 in 1909, $8,744,944 in 1908, $19,888,402 in 1907, $23,950,624 in 1906 and $18,956 in 1905. The average liabilities per firm of these small defaults amounted to $5,130, which was exceeded only in 1907, 1908 and 1909. The manufacturing failures numbered 522, the largest since 1906 with the exception of 1907. The total manufacturing liabilities in October were $13,139,000, as compared with $12,709,819 in 1909, $7,142,581 in 1908, $12,709,819 in 1907, $5,394,563 in 1906 and $4,444,815 in 1905. There were fifteen large manufacturing defaults as compared with four in last year and twenty in 1907. The liabilities of these fifteen large manufacturing failures were $3,817,673 as compared with $2,961,068 in 1909, $4,265,949 in 1908 and $3,977,417 in 1907. The manufacturing defaults for less than $100,000 each were 307—the largest number for the month since 1906—but the total of their liabilities, $3,515,624, has been exceeded in 1907, 1908 and 1909, and the total compares with $2,668,581 in 1906. The average of the small manufacturing defaults was $11,600 as compared with $8,227 in 1909, $10,200 in 1908, $15,124 in 1907, $9,965 in 1906 and $8,688 in 1905. Trading failures numbered 758, and liabilities in amount to $2,048,469 as compared with $2,545,520 in 1909, $4,190,153 in 1908, $4,210,739 in 1907, $3,281,816 in 1906 and $3,056,631 in 1905. The trading failures were, in fact, larger than in any other October since 1906. There were eleven trading failures with liabilities of over $100,000 each, totaling $1,523,319 as compared with $1,790,317 in 1909. This total was also the largest since 1906. There were 732 trading failures for less than $100,000, but this compared favorably with the preceding three years, and the total of such small failures was $478,294 as compared with $4,756,209 in 1909, $4,241,045 in 1908, $1,975,197 in 1907 and $2,218,131 in 1906. The average liabilities per firm of the small trading defaults were $6,380 as compared with $6,738 last year, $4,400 in 1909, $4,700 in 1907, $4,700 in 1906 and $4,777 in 1905. There were thirty-seven defaults among brokers as compared with twenty-nine in 1909, fifty-five in 1908, forty-eight in 1907 and twenty-eight in 1906. The total liabilities in this class during October were $3,798,886 as compared with $488,418 in 1909, $2,566,125 in 1908, $4,438,123 in 1907, and $1,757,246 in 1906. In the following table the comparison is made of the number of commercial failures in the United States, covering three years, by leading classes of trade, and the liabilities reported in each class for October, this year:
