Rogers, dancing party at Sanford hotel for Miss Daisy Rogers and Mr. Charles Olson.

Variety in customs is disclosed by any comparison of the ways of the debutantes of the different cities of the country; variety of time would perhaps be the most exact way of expounding it. The season of the year favored by the young entrants into the social world of her city is by no means the same on the Pacific and Atlantic coast, for example, though it is similar in Omaha and the city which is the capital of these United States.

Both Washington and Omaha debutantes favor the after Thanksgiving and before Christmas season. In New York likewise the latter season is favored. For Philadelphia, however, the present season is favored and the debutantes are even now absorbing the social limelight. Pacific coast bids are also much in evidence at this time. In San Francisco the teas and festivities are already in progress. Though the initial meeting of the bids, in a ceremonious way is not until early in December when the first of the Greenway balls is given. The first Bachelor's ball, which is likewise given early in December, is the social event of the season for the Baltimore debutantes, and in Baltimore this year there are forty-four debutantes. In Minneapolis the first great ball of the winter is given by the "Hostesses" under whose care fourteen debutantes, the largest number ever gathered in this city for an occasion of this kind, are formally launched. There are fifty-one members in the "Hostesses" club, and it is an organization of power in the social world.

The plans for the Omaha debutantes are of exceptional interest. The year for Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy have chosen December 5 as the date of the large reception and dancing party which they will give for their daughter, Miss Helen Cudahy. The hours of the reception, which is to be held at the home hotel, will be from 8 to 11 p. m. after which dancing will begin. December 12, the date of the reception and dance which Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pickens give for their daughter, Miss Elizabeth Pickens. The reception and dance which Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Stevens give for Miss Dorothy Stevens is to be during the holiday of December 27. The home hotel is to be the scene of all these important events.

In the afternoon tea given Saturday by Mrs. Warren M. Rogers for her daughter, Miss Mildred Rogers, was inaugurated a series of teas which will be Miss Rogers' introduction to Omaha society. The cards of invitation for the Saturday afternoon teas of November, indicating that the pleasant continental custom is to be followed. The other debutantes of this season will be present at these afternoons, making them truly "debutantes' teas."

Mrs. Rogers' apartments at The Boston were adorned with flowers sent by the many friends of the young debutante. Those who assisted were Mrs. W. A. Redick, Mrs. Arthur Remington, Mrs. John Redick, Mrs. Charles Kountze, Mrs. O. T. Eastman, Mrs. A. L. Reed, Mrs. Isaac Coles, Mrs. O. C. Redick, Mrs. W. S. Poppleton and the debutantes, Miss Nannie Page, Miss Helen Cudahy, Miss Dorothy Stevens, Miss Louise Dinning and Miss Elizabeth Pickens.

About 400 cards were issued for the four Saturday afternoon teas in November.

An unusually large number of weddings will be celebrated this month.

The wedding of Miss Norma Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Marshall, to Mr. Jay Buckingham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Buckingham, will be the next of the large November weddings. This will be celebrated Wednesday evening at Trinity cathedral, Dean George Beecher officiating. A number of out-of-town people will be present, including Mr. and Mrs. George Buckingham and Miss Buckingham of Chicago, who arrive Monday or Tuesday; Miss Edna Dunn of Salt Lake City, who is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Buckingham, Miss Mary Jenkinson of San Francisco, who will also visit at the same house, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barnard of Muscatine, Ia., who will be guests at the bride's home. Miss Edna Dunn is to be bridesmaid, while Mrs. Wayne Hemphill and Miss Blanche Marshall will be the ushers and maid of honor. Mr. Jay D. Foster will act as best man, and Mr. Guy Puray, Mr. Oliver Eldridge, Mr. Craig Marshall and Mr. J. E. Buckingham, 1st, are to be the ushers. Monday Mr. and Mrs. Marshall will entertain the bridal party at dinner. The wedding at the cathedral will be followed by a small reception at the bride's home.

Another November wedding to be celebrated this week will be that of Miss Hazel Smith and Mr. Oliver Eldridge, which will take place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. G. F. Epeneter. Miss Hazel Loveland of Topeka, Kan., formerly of this city, will topk "All for You," by Guy D'Hardlot. Miss Adelle Thomas will play the wedding march and Miss Mildred Finkhouser will be maid of honor. Mr. Ray Eldridge, brother of the groom, will be best man. Wednesday afternoon, November 10, is the date chosen for the wedding of Miss Eunice Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Howell, to Mr. Harry Pollard. The wedding will take place very quietly at the bride's home at 138 North Forty-first street. No invitations will be issued and only near relatives will be present. The marriage of Miss Daisy Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Rogers, to Mr. Charles Olson of Grand Island will be celebrated Saturday evening, November 26 at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents. Miss May Conrad of Grand Island will be maid of honor and the bride's only attendant, Mr. Bryant Rogers will be best man. The Metropolitan club will be the scene of the wedding of Miss Minnie Hillier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hillier, and Mr. Lester Kirschbraun of Chicago, which will be celebrated Saturday evening, November 26 at 8:30 o'clock, Rabbi Frederick Cohn officiating. Miss Florence Hillier will be maid of honor and the bridesmaids will be Misses Sadie Kirschbraun and Miss Irma Hillier of Chicago. Herbert Heavener of Detroit will be best man and the ushers will be Messrs. Clarence Silver of Chicago, Eugene Hillier and Louis Hillier. After the wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Kirschbraun will reside in Chicago.

Yellow chrysanthemums and place cards to match were used at the luncheon, which was served at the Delft Tea rooms. After luncheon they attended the Orpheum matinee. Those present were: Mesdames—Thomas Braden, Jesse Rogers, Edward Slater, Lester Drifhus, Rose Smyth, Josephine Murphy, Katherine Perrin, Mildred Finkhouser, Misses—Hardin Bean, Arthur Rogers, George Later, Frank Burchmore, Marion Finkhouser, Marene Burchmore, Anne Brown, Violet Burchmore. Among the large affairs of Saturday was the bridge party given by Mrs. John McDonald in honor of Miss Daisy Rogers. These guests included Mesdames E. J. Boyer, Frank Engler, Albert Egbert, Rodney Bliss, F. S. Whitman, Scott, Frank Fahn, Guy Baker, Helmer, Guy French, Hicks, Montgomery Harris, Roberts, N. P. Hartman, Penfold, F. W. Harwood, Horton, W. L. Unicker, Frank Crawford, L. G. Horton, E. W. Moody, Arthur Rogers, Wayne Hemphill, Frank Vette, R. W. Christie, Lynn Kemper, A. H. Petters, Harry Jenison of Chicago, Ralph Shepard, Misses Edna Dunn and Jenkinson of Salt Lake City, Daisy Rogers, Lucille Dimmick, Snell, Marshall, Mabel Hicks and Fan Howland.

Wedding Bells

A pretty wedding Wednesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock was that of Miss Violet Mary Nuree to Mr. W. Dean Burton, which was celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Nuree, 218 North Twenty-ninth street. The marriage lines were read by the Rev. T. J. Collar of the Church of the Good Shepherd. The bride was given away by her father. She wore a beautiful gown of white marquisette and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bride's only attendant was Miss Ruth Sherwood, who was gowned in a dainty white lingerie gown over pink silk, and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. Mr. Leon Burton, brother of the groom, served as best man. The bridal party entered the room to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Heulah Davis. The rooms were decorated with palms and pink and white flowers. Following the ceremony, a buffet luncheon was served. Those assisting were Mrs. C. H. Petch, Mrs. F. Willis Mosher, Miss Catherine Petch and Miss Minnie Nurse. Mr. and Mrs. Burton will be at home to their friends at 115 Wirt street after December 15.

Pleasures Past

Miss Anna Purdy entertained informally at her home Friday evening. Mrs. E. B. Manchester gave an annual dinner Saturday evening to her employes. Mr. Hughes of St. Louis was to entertain and covers were placed for twenty-six.

Complimentary to Mrs. Luffkin of Buffalo, N. Y., guest of Mrs. Francis A. Brogan, Mrs. E. H. Sprague entertained at luncheon Saturday. Covers were placed for twelve. An interesting musicale was given last evening by Mrs. David Stone and Mrs. L. P. Crofoot at the home of Mrs. Stone's sister, Mrs. J. E. Summers and Dr. Summers. Mrs. Stone gave a short program of songs accompanied by Mrs. Crofoot at the piano. Mrs. Crofoot also gave several piano selections. About thirty guests were present.

The M. L. club met at the home of Miss Verda Oldfield Friday afternoon. Misses Letha Hetherington, Dora Sams and Hazel Ochiltree were guests of the club. The next meeting will be with Miss Marie Hampton, two weeks from Friday. Seligman of Columbia university at Hotel Astor, New York City, November 12, to commemorate his twenty-five years of public service as scholar, teacher and citizen. The committee in charge is made up of a number of noted men, including Dr. Felix Adler, President Nicholas Murray Butler, Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and Frederick R. Coudert, Jr. Dr. Rosewater as a student specialized in economics and finance at Columbia under the direction of Prof. Seligman, but has been obliged to send his regrets to the committee.

Shoe Notes

The newest shoe tips are straight in front, with a single cut in the center; perforated tips are almost out. Evening shoes are to be lower in the heels and richer in fabrics than for many seasons. The high arch is the distinguishing feature of the most fashionable shoes.

Newest Letter Paper

Some of the prettiest note paper has a very narrow border of blue, pink, gray, lavender or red, and one initial at the top, set in a ring of color the exact shade of the border. Correspondence cards also are thus bordered and are very pretty.

Bachelors at the National Capital to Be Hunted as Fair Game During the Coming Season—Some Names that Are on the List—White House List is to Be Revised—Bits of Personal Gossip from Nation's Capital.

BY CONSTANCE CAIRNTHURP. WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Special to The Bee.—Bachelor staking will be a popular game in Washington society during the season just beginning. Not that this sport is not always in season here or elsewhere, but some particularly fine specimens of the genus have been discovered in the city and there is every prospect of fine hunting. Anxious mothers and debutantes are loath to dislodge the pompous and the pompous in Washington society. A record of dinners and merry dancers are the weapons to be used against them. Never in the capital's social history have there been so many bachelors. A recitation of their names would be a roll call of the social register and the congressional directory.

The Beau Brummel of these is without doubt Captain "Archie" Butt, "first aid" to the president. Dainty custom asserts that he leaves an understanding exists between the captain and Miss Yvonne Townsend, a Washington belle. The captain stoutly maintains he is heart and fancy free. Even the raincoat contributes a touch in the Postmaster Hitchcock. In the diplomatic corps in Washington the belle is a splendid field to pick out and choose from. First in point of interest, probably is the special attaché of the British embassy, Lord Easton, Campbell Percy, heir of the Percy family, so distinguished in English history. Russia contributes a real prince in Prince Nicholas Koudachoff, commander of the embassy. Certainly no eligible bachelor list would be complete without Herr Martin, charge d'affaires of the Swiss legation; Baron von Hardenbrock of the German embassy, and a real Oriental in Yousouf Zia Pacha, the new Turkish ambassador.

There is fear and trembling in the ranks of the "nearly" ones. It comes from the announcement that the White House lists are to be ruthlessly pruned and as a result many who have heretofore been favored with invitations for White House functions are to be left out in the cold, so far as the more classical entertainments, those which really mean something are concerned. Of course, in the state receptions there is little or no choosing. Practically anybody who has any social standing at all will be welcomed at the White House on these occasions. That's a part of the duty of the president, but the number of those who have edged in on the White House lists has become so great that the pruning process has become imperative. The improvement in Mrs. Taft's health during the last few months, an improvement which, it is believed, the sea trip to the Isthmus will further augment, will enable her to put into effect even a fuller program of hospitality than she carried out at the White House last winter, while the presence there of Miss Taft and her participation in the gayeties of the season is a matter of superlative interest to the prospective debutantes of the winter.

Though many hostesses, with plans of their own in making hope for the announcement of the dates for the state functions of the winter before the President and Mrs. Taft start on their southern trip, it is not probable that arrangements for the more personal hospitalities of the president and Mrs. Taft, which have been such a delightful feature of their residence in the White House, and which doubtless will include a Christmas dance, will be perfected after their return. An interesting engagement just announced was that of Miss Pansy Beale Bloomer, daughter of Mrs. Lawrence Hoop, to Mr. Johnson Wood of Philadelphia. Miss Bloomer is one of the most charming and popular young women in exclusive resident circles and since her debut has graced the bridal train of several of her friends. She was among the attendants at the marriage of Miss Shelby Converse and Mr. Huntington Jackson and was maid of honor last April at the wedding of Miss Katherine Clabaugh and Mr. Beale Bloomer, her brother. The October brides will have made room for the debutantes, to whom custom has given the latter half of November and the months of December. There will be a Thanksgiving day fest, as usual, and in the ensuing weeks a score of young women will be socially launched at Washington. Among the most interesting will be Miss Gertrude Greely, youngest daughter of General and Mrs. Greely, who will have her coming party in the famous old house in G street in which she was born.

Dr. and Mrs. William J. Pettine and their daughter, Miss Charlotte Pettine, who spent the summer and early autumn in Europe, are at their suburban home at Chevy Chase. They will come in town the middle of November and will spend the winter at their home in Connecticut avenue. After traveling on the continent during the summer Dr. and Mrs. and Miss Pettine were guests for a fortnight of the Misses Kay-Shuttleworth, daughters of Baron Shuttleworth. Miss Ivyette will be a debutante this winter and will be presented the first week in December. Captain John F. Parker, a nephew-in-law of former President Harrison and who was the first naval aid to a president, has been for several years military governor of Samoa. He was relieved of that duty on November 1 and will return, with Mrs. Parker, to this country by way of Europe. Mrs. Parker is a sister of the widow of former President Harrison, both being daughters of the first Mrs. Harrison's sister, Mrs. Lord, who died early in the Harrison administration. Mrs. Harrison and her only daughter, Elizabeth, will meet Captain and Mrs. Parker in Europe and return home with them. Captain and Mrs. Parker were interesting factors in Washington for some years before and during the Harrison administration. Previous to that Captain Parker was stationed at the Naval Academy for four years.

The Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Ballinger will spend the winter at Stoneleigh Court, where the secretary has taken an apartment. Mrs. Ballinger will join her husband on December 7. They have formerly lived at the Shoreham while in the city. Mrs. Chapman, wife of Senator George B. Chapman of Portland, Ore., and her two young daughters have returned to their home 179 Q street. After having spent the summer at Capon Springs, Senator Chapman will join his family when Congress convenes having spent the summer and fall months at his home in the west. Miss Esther Uenny, who is now visiting in Pittsburg, will be joined in a few days by her mother, who has spent the autumn as usual, at Bedford Springs, Pa., and proceed to San Francisco to join the former's husband, Lieutenant Colonel Frank L. Denny, U. S. M. C., recently transferred there from duty in Washington.

Mrs. Sutherland, wife of Senator George Sutherland of Utah, who spent the summer in Europe, is now in Utah. She will return to Washington shortly and open her apartment in the Highlands for the season.

Up in the Air the Only Sport for the Smart Folks of New York Now—Illness of Margaret Rutherford Starts Talk of Her and Kermit Roosevelt Again—Miss Shotts to the Front Once More—Social Small Talk.

BY MARGARET WATTS DE PUYSTER. NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Special to The Bee.—Society is up in the air, or at least it will be literally before many months have gone into history. That the aeroplane will take the place of the automobile with the sport-loving element among the best people is about as certain as anything can be. The recent meet at Belmont Park has opened the eyes of society to the tremendous possibilities for thrills to be found in the flying machines, and has also demonstrated that there is little if any more skill and nerve required in manipulating the machines than in running a high-powered auto at illegal speed. The Belmont Park meet was a real social function. Practically everybody who is anybody watched the mar-hubs and it is safe to predict that the builders of bi-planes and monoplane will have all they can do to meet the demand on them for machines. Society is literally air crazy.

The illness of Miss Margaret Rutherford, daughter of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, has given her many friends real concern. Miss Rutherford is a most charming girl and had intended to take an active part in the social life of the city during the coming season. She is of particular interest to the public at large from the fact that Kermit Roosevelt, second son of the strenuous president, is said to have been appearing her devoted attention. Miss Rutherford came back from France by way of England recently. Except for her appearance at a dance at Mrs. Steel's at Waterbury, on last Thanksgiving eve, a year ago, Miss Rutherford has participated in scarcely any of American social affairs since she was bridesmaid in Paris at the wedding of her cousin, Muriel White, to Count Hermann Scherr-Thoes.
