decline in values naturally had a stimulating influence on the demand, and so far this week the supply has fallen far short of requirement. The general tone to the trade is strong.

96 ... 7.95 SHEEP—Despite the fact that the supply of sheep and lambs today was moderate, the tone to trade was none too active. The big end of efferings came from western ranges and feeders made up the bulk, but the demand for this class of stock is at low ebb and it required more or less peddling and sorting to find an outlet. In point of prices the feeder market was about as erratic and slow as yesterday's trade. Strings of common and inferior quality had to sell on a catch-as-catch-can basis, while the fleshler grades that attract some little competition from packers also while the fleshief grades that attract some little competition from packers also looked cheap. Good, fleshy feeder lambs sold around $1.0086.55, while $2.60 is about the highest figure quotable. Good feeder swes moved around $2.55, with the right kind of feeder yearlings at and above $4.00.

Trade in fat sliesp opened in better form owing to relatively light offerings of good dressers. Little change developed in the list of prices, but the demand was ample and movement reasonably active. Fed wethers of long finish brought as much as $4.00, but best fat grassers would do well to sell at $3.55. Fat ewes, both grain and grass finish, are moving around $3.1509.40.

Lambs and yearlings suitable for killing held in generally steady notches, the former class of stock going to the scales at a spread of $6.0096.35, indicating an extreme quotation of $6.35. Fat yearlings were scarce as usual and had to sell at narrow margins over the better grades of fat wethers.

Quotations on grass stock: Good to choice lambs, $6.0096.35; feeling wethers.

Quotations on grass stock: Good to choice lambs, $6.0096.00; feeding lambs, $3.3096.20; feeding wethers, $1.5096.50; fair to good wethers, $3.5096.50; feeding wethers, $3.5096.50; fair to good wethers, $3.5093.50; feeding ewes, $2.5094.50; fair to good wethers, $3.5095.50; fair to good wethers, $3.5094.50; fair
