

BUCKETSHOPS KNOCKED OUT

Judge Munger Renders Injunction Against Returns.

BARS H. E. GOOCH COMPANY

Plea from Chicago Board of Trade Results in Order Restraining the Bucketshops from Getting Reports.

Bucketshopping in Omaha and Lincoln received a quietus Tuesday afternoon when Judge Munger handed down an injunction against the use of the Chicago Board of Trade returns.

The result of this writ was that no grain quotations were chalked up Wednesday in the Gooch offices in Omaha, either in the Board of Trade building or the Brandeis building.

The prosecution was not of their initiation, but the plaintiff for the writ was the Chicago Board of Trade, which filed suit some weeks ago.

The Gooch bucketshop circuit is the only large one operating in this section and so far as known has the only bucketshops recently running in Omaha.

The Grain exchange election today promises to be as quiet an affair as has already been forecasted.

Idaho Man Says Twin Falls Will Be Metropolis

Many Idaho Boosters Found at Local Hotels Every Day in the Week.

"The people of Twin Falls, Idaho, must have plenty of money for railroad fare," remarked Joe Keenan, manager of the Henshaw hotel, "for there is scarcely a day that somebody from Twin Falls does not register here and, of course, some of the Twin Falls fellows must go to other Omaha hotels, thus swelling the representation from that bustling Idaho burg.

John T. Brown, a Twin Falls booster, has been at the Henshaw several days. He is not only a Twin Falls booster, but an all-around Idaho booster, as well, and it is never too late nor too early for him to sing the praises of his state.

"We look upon Omaha as our gateway," said Mr. Brown, "and I am always glad to come here on a visit. We of Idaho can help Omaha and Omaha can help us."

Mr. Brown expressed himself as being thoroughly in accord with the land show proposition initiated by The Omaha Bee and Twentieth Century Farmer, and he predicts that it will be of vast benefit to the west as a means of inducing new settlers to investigate.

"Investment in all that is needed," Mr. Brown vouchsafed, "for if the people of the east and middle west could only know the opportunities Idaho offers, there would be a general westward exodus. Idaho is not exclusively a mineral state, as many uninformed persons assume, but on the other hand it is a most fertile agricultural and horticultural section. Of course, everybody knows of our prominence in sheep raising. All other kinds of live stock do equally well. True, we are strong on mineral, but mineral is not all, by a big majority."

P. W. Walls is another enthusiastic Twin Falls booster, registered at the Loyal. Several other Idahoans are also registered at various Omaha hotels.
