

Base Ball Meets to Decide Status of Minor Leagues Draws Attention of Fans

WILL PLAY HIGHLAND PARK

Belleuve Eleven Meets Iowa Team Saturday Afternoon.

DES MOINES TEAM VERY STRONG

Belleuve Players Are in Rather Bad Condition and Expect the Fight to Be a Close Battle.

The Belleuve eleven will go to Des Moines Friday night to meet the Highland Park team Saturday. No prediction can be made upon the outcome of the game by comparative scores, since different teams have been played by the two eleven. Neither team will have any decided advantage in weight of the line, though the Belleuve backs will be light. Should Belleuve win, a low score is practically certain, for its scoring machine is badly crippled. Jim Clabaugh, whose shoulder was smashed in the Hastings game, is unable to play, leaving the left halfback position in the hands of Donnie Robinson. Both of whom are very deficient in weight, though fast and good on the defensive. Joe Clabaugh, right half, appeared in a suit last night for the first time since his illness. He has lost much weight and is considerably weakened and cannot last the game, if he is permitted to start.

Although no definite announcement has been made, Coach McCoy has indicated that he may start an entire substitute backfield against Highland Park, giving the regulars a chance to get in shape for the Doane game the following Saturday. No scrimmage work took place Monday and Tuesday, but practice and the development of some new formations being the order. Holmes, Douden, Jones, Altschuler and Stookey are being used in the backfield, with Fowler as substitute fullback and Maxwell as substitute quarter.

Iowa and Drake Sending Out Bear Stories

Two Varsity Players Are Crippled and Des Moines Team Makes Poor Showing at Practice.

FORWARD BASES ON THE part of the varsity team after the four touchdowns for the team in scrimmage with the team from the Iowa city high school. The back and endgame working the forward pass to great advantage and reports from Drake university tell of improvement in the throwing art there, all of which points to the possibility that the forward pass will have a great factor in ground gaining in the game next Saturday.

Captain Hyland was seen in uniform for the first time since his injury at Ames today. He entered scrimmage for a brief spell with the high school team. The latest development in the suffering of Alexander, the big colored tackle, from a weak back, which has been bothering him more or less throughout the season. A crippled knee continues to keep Thomas from his position at left half, but it is believed that he will start the game with Drake Saturday night.

COACHES expressed themselves as much displeased with the practice of the team tonight.

DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 10.—(Special.)—Bear stories are beginning to issue from Drake stadium. The latest report is to the effect that the first day men today will upon themselves this afternoon to rouse the varsity squad to the tune of four touchdowns. The Drake men fully realize that they are going up against the best individual team in the state next Saturday, and their taste for the Simpson team members, which include the second best individual men, has given them a lot of defiance for the men from the state university. They remember how close Captain Hyland came to whipping them single handed on Bear and they are now praying that the fighting leader of the Hawkeyes may forget some of his ability when he meets them next Saturday.

PERU FEARS PRESBYTERIANS

Normal Team Has Little Hopes of Winning from Hastings.

PERU, Neb., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—There but little joy in the city of Peru tonight as the Peru team that the Technicians will win the Hastings game here Saturday night. The Hastings team is a much stronger than Belleuve and Peru's defeat by last team has completely destroyed any hopes of winning from Hastings. The team will go into the game without having had a game for two weeks and this will make the Hastings team a very fighting team in which they should be for the coach. Coach Cummings claims only a slight chance of winning with the Presbyterians. The men are not running the plays as well as they should. The Hastings team has a little knowledge is shown of the new game. Old style foot ball will be resorted to. However, the Hastings team, all of Lincoln, will officiate in the game.

Foot Ball Player Killed.

HALLIFAX, N. S., Nov. 10.—(Special.)—A football player, Robert A. McLaughlin, in a foot ball game on October 29, sustained a fatal injury to his head.

BYRON REED BUILDING SOLD

B. Handler Buys Building Used for Half Century by Real Estate Company.

The former home of the Byron Reed company, 312 South Fourteenth street, has been sold by the company for a consideration of something like $12,000. The Byron Reed company moved two months ago to the Brandeis theater building, after having occupied the Fourteenth street site for about half a century.

Money Stolen from Home.

JOHN ROCKE, S. D., Nov. 9.—(Special.)—John Rocke, a prominent farmer living north of Sioux Falls, in the past has had faith in banks, but he has just had an experience which demonstrates that banks are the only safe place to keep surplus money. While Rocke and members of his family were absent some unknown thief broke into their home and secured five $20 bills which Rocke believed he had hidden in a place where they never would be found. The thief left not the slightest clue to his identity.

CREIGHTON RESTS FOR WEEK

Reserves Will Play Denison Normal College Saturday.

KYLE BACK IN THE GAME

Captain Lee Has Also Returned—Miller is Improving the Time by Teaching the Squad Some New Plays.

Foot ball activities for the blue and white squad have been somewhat quiet during the last week. From now on, however, brisk practices will be resumed and the men run through the regular formations to be used against St. Thomas' college on week end from Saturday. The northern team is reckoned as one of the best college eleven in Minnesota and up to the present time has defeated all rival teams.

In a practice game with the University of Minnesota early in the season the Gophers were unable to score on their stronger opponents, and as a result of their excellent showing against superior opposition they have risen rapidly into football performance in the northwest. St. Thomas boasts of a fast-working aggregation of mokeskin artists and Creighton expects a hard struggle to bring victory to the local colors.

The salutary effect of the open date tomorrow has been shown by the men during the week, as most of them were suffering from injuries and the rest has proven most beneficial. Kyle's shoulder is rapidly rounding into shape again and the linemen will be in first-class condition for the encounter next week. The team was out in uniform last evening after nearly ten days' absence from the lineup on account of a deep gash over the left eye. For a time it was doubtful if the sturdy tackle would be back in the game this season, but the wound has healed sufficiently to allow him to return to his old position. Hoye is out of the game the rest of the season as a result of his injuries in the Kansas game, and Halier will be used at end until the season closes.

The result of the Highland Park game last Saturday was not satisfactory to most of the spectators who witnessed the contest. Creighton outplayed the visitors in every stage of the game, but seemed unwilling to defeat the Des Moines team by as large a score as it seemed possible. Costly fumbles proved the undoing of the local warriors who witnessed a constantly coaching the players to overcome this glaring defect. The Creighton team was not greatly pleased with the playing of the youngsters last week, and will direct his attention to developing combinations that should outwit the military men next Saturday.

CURTAILING SALOON SCOPE

Sale of Liquor Limited to Specified Space—No Uptakes; No Down Stairs.

There are to be no more basement saloons. Neither are there to be any wine-rooms occupying space on the upper floors of buildings. This question, which has been a matter for much argument and contention among applicants for saloon licenses and the members of the Board of Fire and Police commissioners has settled it once for all.

BANK TO KEEP OPEN HOUSE

Both City National Bank and Building Trust to Have a Reception.

The prompt payment of city taxes and the additional revenues from the occupation tax will give some relief from the stringent condition of the Omaha city finances, and although nothing can be done for the health and police departments, the street cleaning department will be helped out with about $6,000.

The street cleaning and repairing funds are provided for out of the $1,000,000 general fund of the city and the new tax is allowed to draw upon only 50 per cent of the $6,000 or more that is levied for them. After having spent several thousand dollars for cutting weeds, an expenditure which was not necessary in his department, the commissioner of the street cleaning department reported the result of the year.

The office of the city comptroller has been able to figure out a way by which the $1,000,000 city levy will all be available this year to the city. The city has been the prompness with the city taxes have been paid and the additional amounts that have been obtained from the occupation taxes.

This will mean that the funds of each department will be increased by 50 per cent to the full amount of the levy and in the street cleaning department the money will be needed.

The police and health departments cannot be helped in this way, however, because they draw upon 100 per cent of their respective levies. The health department all the time getting that expense paid.

"The street commissioner's department will be allowed now to draw warrants upon all the money that was levied for it and will be able to finish out the year with almost enough money, as the additional 50 per cent will be used for cutting weeds," said Councilman Sheldon, who is chairman of the finance committee. "A report to that effect will be made by my committee to the city council and the situation will be relieved."

Styptic of the Diamond.

We regret, in passing, to notice that the parenthetical break in composition is being made and used by the writers on base ball themes. Perhaps you had noticed the innovation. The way they do it is to start off at a tangent, and then please accept thanks.

A. Waggener, house physician of the Home hotel.

MINOR LEAGUES IN CONVENTION

Western May Be Reduced in Class and Membership Changed.

W. A. Rourke, president of the Omaha Base Ball club, and Bill Schipke, his manager, have tonight for Chicago where they will attend the big meeting of the minor leagues on November 13, and also the meeting of the Western league officials, starting Saturday morning with President Tip O'Neil at the helm.

Several of the biggest things that have been done in minor league base ball for some years are expected to come off at the meeting of all the clubs starting the fifteenth. Among these things will be the reclassification of the leagues, which may place the Western league, coming as it does near the center of classes "A" and "B". Many people, taking into consideration the present state of the cities and conditions of base ball in the Western league contend that its place should be class "B", but when the point that all the Western leagues toward are growing in population and live base ball cities it would be unfair to make them accept the drawbacks of a second class league. The owners and those interested in Western league prospects declare that it will stay in class "A" where it should be.

The Western league meeting to be held November 13, the big question is the one whether Tokpeka stays in the organization or other Colorado Springs or Oklahoma City substituted for it.

"I prefer to keep Tokpeka in the league, myself," stated Pat Rourke, Thursday. "The Commercial club of that city is anxious to keep in the base ball team there and will help out in all ways possible and it is also one of the logical towns for the league to have on its list. Properly managed it could be made into a good base ball town and I think the best year will show this. As to the other two cities, Oklahoma City could and would undoubtedly make a fine base ball town, but it is very far away from here and for that reason some Colorado city is to be preferred."

"It is impossible to say at present what other things will come up besides the reorganizing of the teams for 1911, but I am expecting several big surprises when I get to Chicago and the meetings open."

CITY FINDS IT HAS MONEY

Prompt Payment of Taxes Replenishes the Funds—Money for Street Cleaning.

The City National Bank Building company as well as the City National bank will keep open houses Saturday from 3 to 10 p. m., the general public being invited to inspect the whole building including the new quarters of the bank on the first floor and basement.

Officers of the building company have asked tenants to have their offices open during the hours named and visitors may view the whole sixteen stories. But they may not go upon the roof. This prohibition comes because it would be dangerous to permit many people to go aloft.

The building has been in use for some time, but no formal opening has taken place and the opening of the bank part to public inspection affords good opportunity for the other opening.

Holburn & Roche, the architects, are sending here to the general manager of the building, the general manager of their office, P. J. Thibault. Building and bank company officials will be on hand and many guides will be supplied.

The bank has sent out many invitations in the form of a booklet, but there is no intention to confine the admission to those to whom these booklets have been sent.

SCANDAL SHOCKS THE ZOO

Elephant Husband Takes His Trunk and Elopes with a Young Chatterer.

Not since the afternoon that Humbard, the gigantic elk of the Bronx zoo, tried to kill his fourth wife, that he might back unhindered in the light of another's glance, have the social circles of the park been so scandalized as yesterday. Even the stork was stirred. And of course it "was all the woman's fault."

The principals in the latest disgraceful situation are Khartoum, the little Indian elephant, and Alice, formerly of Luna park. Sultana, Khartoum's spouse, was a witness to his shameful abandonment of his home and her, but she was too proud to utter a word of reproach. Only a select few suspected Khartoum's attachment for Alice. Though the elephants have occupied adjoining pens, a big steel-barred fence separated Alice from the family she has disrupted. Khartoum seemed to take only a fatherly interest in her at first, but she, it seems, had more than a platonic affection for old Khartoum.

Alice just couldn't "make her eyes behave" when she glanced at him. He seemed to ignore her at first, but by and by it was seen he was making "goo-goo" eyes, too. Sultana reproved the old sinner once or twice, but she saw that he was infatuated, and so took refuge in silence. Khartoum made no effort to disguise his feelings to his wife. Alice, the vampire, gloated over her victory and kept taunting her admirer with her caressing glances. The crash came yesterday afternoon. Khartoum sneaked away from his wife's side and while no one was looking but Sultana, he skillfully unhooked the catch of the gate in the fence between his cage and Alice's. She met him halfway and twined her trunk around his, the whole looking triumphantly at Sultana, who regarded the home wrecker defiantly for a moment, then turned away in silent contempt.

The rattle of the steel gate which Khartoum had swung open violently when flying to his tryst was heard by "Dick" Richards, the elephant keeper. He scolded Alice, but she ignored him for the first time in her life. Then Dick with soft words tried to persuade the wife deserter to return to his own freeds, but it was futile. So
