

Sixty Years Happy

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wichmann - Grand Island

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wichmann, of Farwell, Neb., recently celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary. Mr. Wichmann is still hale and hearty at 64 years of age and his wife is ten years his junior. An interesting feature of the case is that Mrs. Wichmann is the second wife of Mr. Wichmann, his first wife having died a few years after their marriage.

Mrs. Wichmann was Miss Sophie Dehan when she wedded Joseph, in Hanover, Germany, where both were born and reared. The wedding took place October 20, 1850. After remaining in Hanover a few years they came to this country on a sailing vessel. Voyages across the ocean meant more at that time, than they do now—at least seventeen weeks more. For it took their eighteenth weeks before they landed at Baltimore. Mr. Wichmann went to New York, where, for some years, he followed his trade, that of a stone mason. Later he moved to Dane county, Wisconsin, locating near Madison. In the spring of 1873 he took out a homestead in Howard county, Nebraska, and located thereon.

Following the occupation of farmer and retaining the homestead ever since, though in the last few years he has moved to Farwell to live a more retired life.

To the union five children were born. Ernest, the oldest, is a resident of Glenwood Springs, Colo.; William is at Lone Beach, Wis.; Joseph Wichmann is at Farwell. Mrs. Gus Sievers is a resident of Grand Island and August, the youngest, is at Farwell, associated with Joseph in the banking and general merchandise business.

Mr. Wichmann is still able to read without glasses, though he uses them at times, and sometimes spends the entire day in reading. He is as strong mentally as ever. In the summer time, despite his four-score and fourteen he works about the garden and with his poultry, still longing for something to do. He has been a moderate drinker—after the custom of the Germans—all his life, though never an excessive user. His wife is also a bonon companion. Mrs. Wichmann shares good health and mental vigor. They have twenty grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

KING MANUEL NEEDS NO PITY

Exiled Monarch of Portugal Lives in Royal State.

HANDSOME INCOME IS SECURE

With His Mother and Consort He Passes His Days in Ease and Luxury as the Guest of the Duc d'Orleans.

BY LADY MARY MANWARING.
LONDON, Nov. 12.—(Special to The Bee).—Of course there is a good deal of sentimental pity for the dethroned king of Portugal, who is now comfortably settled at the home of the Duc d'Orleans at Wood Norton, but I hardly think there is need for much pity. In fact, I have little doubt that his Portuguese majesty is much more comfortable and will be happier at Wood Norton than he ever has been at Lisbon.

The exiled royal family are comfortably well provided with this world's goods. Ex-Queen Amelia has a very handsome income, which is derived from sources which are absolutely secure. Manuel, despite his youth and frivolous disposition, had sufficient sense to arrange quite early in his brief reign for the deposit in banks outside Portugal of the bulk of his fortune. He was advised in this matter by a famous English financier, with whom he was brought in contact through the good nature of the late King Edward. He may have to scrape along on the strength of having a couple of millions to his name.

Then at Wood Norton he will find an atmosphere which will differ little from that of the royal palace at Lisbon. The Duc d'Orleans maintains there a royal state, and there at least he is king of France. His household is exclusively French, and much of the pomp and ceremony of the old court of Versailles is still observed.

Or two ago, three of these flags were hoisted—those of France and two of his principal visitors, King Alfonso of Spain and the late Don Carlos of Portugal.

Winner of Women's Prize.

Tall and graceful with a personality essentially feminine and attractive, Miss Juliet S. Points of Omaha was the guest of honor at a gathering of the American circle of the Lyceum club recently. She has the distinction of being the first woman to win the scholarship which has been endowed by the Federation of Women's clubs of America with the object of giving to American women the same opportunity of studying English life as the Rhodes scholarships offer to men.

Only one scholarship is yet available, but the scheme has met with support and encouragement from the Rhodes trustees, and a sub-committee has been formed under the League of Emperors, with Sir John Cockburn as chairman, to watch over its development on this side of the Atlantic.

"This scholarship, which is of the same value as those given under the Rhodes' Trust, $1,500 a year enables me to take a two years' post-graduate course at either Oxford, Cambridge or London universities," said Miss Points. "I have chosen London because of its social and economic life famous throughout the world. Another reason is that London is the center of English life, and therefore must be the best place to study English personality and the English point of view."

Ready Engaged for London.

Unsightly Eruptions are Needless Afflictions

Those who suffer from pimples, blackheads and other disfiguring facial eruptions; red, rough hands, itching, burning palms and shapeless nails; dry, thin and falling hair, with itching, scaly scalps—all should make trial at once of Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. No other emollients cost so little and do so much. No others so pure, so sweet, so speedily effective not only for their minor afflictions of the skin, scalp and hair, but for torturing, disfiguring eczemas, rashes, irritations, scalds and crustings of infants, children and adults.

Birth of Mary's.

The marchioness of Hute has traced an invitation to all women and girls who are natives of, or resident in the islands of Hute Hute and Canabara, and bear the name of Mary, to forward their names and addresses to her. Her object is a secret, but say American Mary's of Hute or Canabara will see to communicate with the marchioness.

Queen's Visit to Law Suit.

A remarkable eighteenth century story is recalled in the Sydenham v. Michel documents in the House of Lords. (Vol. 5.), which have just been issued. William Sydenham of Winford Eagle, Dorset, appeared against a decision of the Lord Keeper that the estate of Winford Eagle should be sold, in order to pay D'Oyly Michel and his wife, the defendants, the sum of £12,000. Sydenham, in order to sell his estate, had put it into a lottery, for which there were 20,000 tickets at 5s each. The ticket which eventually proved to be the winner of the first prize of £200 a year in land, or £1,000 in money, had been given by Sydenham's daughter to one of their servants, and the day after the lottery had been drawn, married D'Oyly Michel, Sydenham's agent.

It was generally supposed that the Sydenham ticket should fall to a confidant in the family, who might be prevailed upon to return the estate upon a small consideration. Sydenham tried to prove that his daughter had, without his knowledge, made a bargain with the servant, and given the ticket to her upon condition that, if she won the chief prize, she should receive £200 in lieu of the prize. The daughter's evidence was not allowed, however, and the decision against Sydenham was upheld by the House of Lords.

George Cass, William street, Scarborough, who is in his ninetieth year, has occupied the same house for the last fifty-seven years. A keen cricket enthusiast, he was formerly much in demand as umpire. He has fifty grandchildren, 307 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

Helps American Artists.

Mrs. Whitney Hoff of Detroit is an American woman in Paris who has done a great deal for the artists from America who congregate in that city. There is the Students' hotel and the British-American Young Women's Christian association, in both of which she is very much interested. There is a certain rivalry between her club and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid's American Girls

CALLING BACK THE WAYWARD

Standpat Turks Battle Against the Progressive Spirit of Women.

The difficulties in the path of progress of the modern Turkish woman are many and varied, for not every Turk is a young Turk. The majority of the Turks are really Old Turks who do not care to oppose the new form of political government so long as it does not endanger the old faith of the "true believers." They have taken advantage of political liberties by forming a society named Jemiyet Islamive, the aims of which are, as its title indicates, for the protection of Islam. The society published on the eve of the great Ramadan religious festival an appeal to the women of Turkey exhorting them to hold fast to the precepts of the prophet.

you wish to be true to Islam," says the appeal, "you must not show your naked face to the believers and unbelievers while you walk through the streets, as you in the shame and sorrow of all true believers do now; nor ought you to continue to show your naked arms up to the elbow as you do now. It is generally observed that when you enter a shop you carry there for a very long time enjoying yourselves among the many colored textiles as if you were in a garden full of flowers.

"What is still worse; you chat with the shopkeepers as if they were your relations, except from them many a filian (cup without handle) of coffee, rahat-lookum (Turkish delight), shekerbarmeh (bon bon) and even small glasses of different sorts of liquor. We call on you to give up such delectable habits and to return to the modesty and simplicity of the women of the true faith."—New York Sun.

SAVE 20% ON FURNITURE

It's easy to sell merchandise when one can give the phenomenal values offered at our store. Really, they are great. Fully 20 per cent, or more, under prices charged by the high-rent stores of Omaha. It's very reasonable that we should charge less than Omaha stores, because our operating expenses are so very much lower; away down here in South Omaha they ought to be lower, too.

Now, all that amount is saved by you, but, in spite of that, we make just as much profit on our sales as the Omaha houses. They are not charging you more than they must to make their legitimate profit. The whole story is just one of the difference in operating expenses between conducting a store in South Omaha, where rents are low, and running a business in Omaha, where rents are high. You profit greatly by the extra car ride to South Omaha.

Stoves Sold on Payments

If you will compare castings, Nickel work, the fittings of all the joints, doors, register, etc., in our line of stoves and ranges with other makes of stoves and ranges, you will appreciate their superior quality. They have many features in their construction that are not made in other stoves and ranges.

This range is of rich, plain design, free from carving. This is a superior range, and could not be improved in any detail of its design and construction. The oven is arched. It is guaranteed to bake evenly top and bottom. We have not room to fully describe it, because there is over fifty years of practical experience in range-making built into it.
