A few moments after Major George H. Richmond left yesterday morning to go to the bedside of his mother, Mrs. Grady Richmond, a telegram was received announcing his death. Major Richmond did not reach the bedside until late in the afternoon and arrived many hours too late for the final farewell.

The 10th Pythian club, an organization of enjoying citizens of Omaha, Council Bluffs and South Omaha, will hold its November meeting and dinner at the Grand hotel on Thursday evening. It is expected that a large number will be present. Manager J. J. Kline of the Omaha printing company will be one of the speakers. There will be a number of others from the three cities.

At the Sunday afternoon meeting of the Young Men's Christian association, to be held at the building at 234 this afternoon, Rev. R. Grant, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Methodist church, will speak to the young men on the subject, "The Royal Archer Who Hit the Bull's Eye."

Who hit the bull's eye? It is especially urged that all young men make an unusual effort to hear this address, as it is especially adapted to them.

Frank Osterhaus, 51 years old, fell dead on the street yesterday afternoon in front of the West. Street car. Just as he had finished delivering two barrels of hay. The effort of lifting the barrels caused a weakened heart to stop. The body was found slowly to the earth cushioning, but unable to hold in his nervous fingers the silver dollar that had been given him by Ellen Johnson to whom he made the delivery.

The fire department yesterday had two calls. Fire, that caught in the basement of the home of Mrs. Wm. J. Richmond, 414 Graham avenue, had crept up between the weatherstripping and was breaking out through the roof where the chimney had arrived. It was extinguished after damage to the amount of about $100 was inflicted upon the house. The other call came from the residence of J. W. Kelly, 1012 S. 10th street. The fire was extinguished after damage to the amount of about $100 was inflicted upon the house.

Mrs. O. G. Oldham returned yesterday morning from Chicago and St. Paul, where she went with Mrs. Lucile W. Shaden, president of the Fifth district, to organize branches of the Women's Christian Temperance union at each place. They were very successful in their work. At both towns Women's Christian Temperance union institutes were held in the Methodist church at Glenwood and in the Presbyterian church at St. Paul. Lectures, programs were followed at each of the meetings. Thursday at St. Paul and Friday at St. Paul. Many noted temperance workers were present and took part in the organization work.

A team of frightened horses smashed into the big tent at the exposition grounds used to house the light aqueduct, yesterday afternoon, and for a few minutes led the people who were making a smouldering lane after a real flight through the air. The team came down Oakland avenue at rapid speed and was unable to make the sharp turn down Washington avenue, even if inclined to do so. The animals went straight into the tent and fell. Wrapped up in the mass of tangled canvas that enveloped them the exception of a slight cut and a great fright for the people inside, no damage was done.

The temporary rest rooms fitted up by the workers of the Young Women's Christian association in the new piano building on North First street are proving immensely popular. The building, a handsome structure, two-story and basement, was built by the association and the work of the association, and the temporary rest rooms, which have been made it called almost at the doors of the exposition grounds and afford splendid opportunities for the women of the association to show the value of their work. The bureau of information, giving location of rooms and that has been established has been of great assistance to women coming to the city to attend the exposition. Men have been barred at the cafe daily since the opening on Thursday.

The week from November 12 to November 18, inclusive, is the men's week of prayer all over the world. This week of prayer has heretofore been only at the week of prayer for the Young Men's Christian association of the country, but through action of the brotherhood convention at Chicago last summer, the brotherhood are also joining with the young men. Special mention of the matter will be made in the minute noon prayer. Meetings have been arranged for at the Young Men's Christian association building, beginning at 12:15, to the noon-day prayer meetings, together with the topics for each day, as follows: Monday, brotherhood day; Tuesday, Jesus; Wednesday, Father, Son and Holy Spirit; Thursday, social service day; Friday, the Holy Spirit; Saturday, the Holy Spirit; Sunday, the Holy Spirit. Rev. Henry De Long, leader.

MEYERS AND MRS. CROSS WED.

Both Old Enough to Know What They Wanted.

"It's not a runaway match. We're both old enough to know what we want and what we are doing, and we want a marriage license and a Methodist minister to marry us," said John Meyers, 32 years old, of Benton, Neb. He was accompanied by Mrs. Mary Jane Cross, aged 38, smiling and blushing happily despite numerous wrinkles in her kindly face. "We left our homes—well, it doesn't matter when, and it's nobody's business where we go by what we do, as long as we do nothing but what is right, and we are doing the right kind of a thing just now," continued the happy groom.

Rev. J. W. Williams, pastor of the First Methodist church, chanced to be in the county office at the opportune time, and a marriage service was performed by the clergyman in the private office of Clerk Brown. The aged couple went away to face the good and evil fortune yet in store for them, each strengthened by the presence and helpfulness of the other.

CROWDS AT THE EXPOSITION

Farmers Take a Day Off and Come to See the Sights.

KIDS SWARM THROUGH GATES

Judges Begin Making Their Rounds, Awarding the Prizes in the Vegetable Section.

The National Horticultural exposition was the objective point yesterday for thousands of people from southwestern Iowa and eastern Nebraska, who came to the city to see the sights.

It was Pottawattamie county day at the exposition and the farmers broke away from their corn gathering and came to the city by thousands. The whole family and the hired man came along. It was also children's day and hordes of youngsters swarmed through the gates, admitted free. They lingered around the brilliant mosaics of color made by the apple exhibits and looked longingly, but with hands thrust deep into their pockets or held resolutely behind them, until as nearly satisfied as it or they were thrust along by the eager pressing crowds behind.

As if by common impulse they drifted toward the corn show sections, and wedged their way between the dense throng of corn growers who filled the aisles.

The 11th flying machine in the big tent at the eastern end of the grounds was another object of intense interest to the youngsters. In fact they found the chief centers of interest so quickly and naturally that crowds of adults soon learned to follow, and were thus led to see many things that would have escaped their notice otherwise.

The moving pictures, where the wonders are depicted with life-like fidelity, was another source of inspiration to the crowds led by the children.

The educational features of the day were full of interest and the Colorado men were the chief instructors. Prof. Lyman spent several hours explaining, expounding and delighting all who could get near him.

The work of making the awards is well under way and the judges will have to devote every moment to their work in order to comply with the extraordinary demands that will be made upon them by the increased size and number of the exhibits.

It is an honor to one who has not been trained experts could accomplish.

Prof. S. L. Thomas Resigns as Principal

Head of High School Goes to Sheldon to Take Position Made Vacant by Removal.

Prof. S. L. Thomas has submitted to the Board of Education his resignation as principal of the high school, conditioned to take effect at once if possible, but agreeing to remain in his position until a successor can be secured.

The resignation was due to the election of Prof. Thomas to the position of superintendent of the public schools at Sheldon, Ia., a place made vacant a few days ago by the arrest of the superintendent upon charges of immorality that created a sensation and greatly shocked the community. The man was exonerated to the satisfaction of the law, but was removed by the school board.

Prof. Thomas has been teaching in Council Bluffs for sixteen years. Fourteen years of the time he was in the high school and two years in the Western Iowa Business college, in charge of the normal department. He was science teacher in the high school for eight years, and was principal four years. Some time ago he resigned the principalship and resumed his science work, but at the last meeting of the board was again forced back into the position of principal. His reputation as a successful man is thoroughly established, and his resignation is felt to be a serious loss.

The school board has offered to make any ordinary extra inducement to keep him there, but he has accepted the Sheldon position and refuses to relinquish it, although it requires his removal from the pleasant home he has built here and the breaking of strong ties of friendship.

INDICATIONS POINT TO MURDER

More Developments Connected With Finding of Wendt's Body.

Additional interest was given yesterday to the finding of the body of William Wendt, in a cornfield, by the recovery of another grip at a point on the opposite side of the Union Pacific tracks in a direct line south from the place the body had been since last August. The grip was found by a man, Baker, employed at the L. H. Smith nursery. He found the grip about August 28, but did not report it to the police until yesterday morning. It contained a large number of family photographs, many of them taken years ago, and all made by photographers at Fort Dodge, Humboldt, and Webster City, Ia. When found the grip contained a large number of letters and other papers, but these had been cast aside and destroyed. In the grip was a medicine bottle containing the remains of a prescription that had been written for L. H. Hunt by Dr. Allen, Fort Dodge, and filled at the store of the Olsson Drug company of that place. The photographs, and addresses given, all correspond with localities named in the papers found in the grip. Wendt had been at the Union depot in Omaha. The inference is that the men were together here. That Hunt is also missing is indicated by a letter received yesterday by Undertaker Cutler from Mrs. H. R. Hunt of Fort Dodge, asking for a full description of the dead man.

The belief that robbery and murder are connected with Wendt's death is becoming quite strong, and developments are expected within the next few days.

Dual Debate.

CEDAR FALLS, Ia., Nov. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—In debate Friday night the State Teachers' college debating team scored three points to nothing for Ames. In Ames the State Teachers' college scored one point.

The state railroad commission today completed the taking of testimony in regard to express rates in Iowa. They had before them for evidence J. E. Cronin of the Adams, J. D. Ladlow of the Wells-Fargo, and E. E. Best of the American, all of whom gave testimony indicating that the business done by the companies in Iowa is on a losing basis. Attorney General Hyatt conducted the examination on behalf of the shippers of the state.

Aldermen Tell About Their Votes

Younkerman and Harding Say Council Resolution Extends Too Many Privileges.

Aldermen Oscar Younkerman and G. J. Harding, who voted against the resolution granting the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company added franchise rights in the city, have issued a lengthy statement of their position, in the course of which they say:

We believe that a franchise for thirty-seven years is altogether too long for the slight changes offered by this resolution. If the company is willing to say that it does not grant it a complete franchise to all of the streets now occupied by it we cannot understand why it was not willing to write it in the resolution in accordance with the amendment which we offered.

We also believe that if the remainder of the councilmen had stood out for it the company would have given us the terms and a larger number of extensions. When the resolution was first presented there were not so many extensions promised as in the resolution presented last year, it being the evident intention of the company to grant more than at first proposed.

We believe that this franchise should not be recognized without its being contested in court, unless greater rights to the people and to the city could have been secured by providing for a settlement in the future of rare between Council Bluffs and Omaha and between Council Bluffs, the School for the Deaf and Lake Manawa. This company charges only 1 cent in Omaha for going a much greater distance than it charges double the price for in going to Manawa and to the School for the Deaf.

If the franchise in ordinance No. 154 is made to apply for a period of thirty-seven years we will see how the company can be forced to compromise on the question of fare, and, as we said before, if it does not give a franchise for thirty-seven years there would have been no way to have it so stipulated in the resolution.

PORT DODGE—The last meeting of the Dooliver Memorial association resulted in the decision that contributions would not be limited in size, except that they must not be less than $1. It is also decided that certificate of membership in the association will be issued to everyone contributing to the monument fund. The campaign has started in earnest and circular letters containing subscription blanks are being mailed out by the secretary, Colonel W. T. Chantland. The campaign will be limited to sixty days and it is hoped to raise $25,000.

NEWSPAPER MAN GETS JOB

City Editor Adanson of Brooklyn Eagle Auditor of Accounts of New York at $5,000 Per Year.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Comptroller Prendergast announced the appointment today of Tilden Adanson, brother of Robert Adanson, Mayor Gaynor's secretary, as auditor of accounts at a salary of $5,000 per annum.

Mr. Adanson is a well known newspaper man. To accept the position in the finance department he resigned as city editor of the Brooklyn Eagle, upon which paper he has been employed in various capacities for ten years. The new auditor of accounts is a member of a representative southern family. Before coming to Brooklyn he held editorial positions on the Atlanta Constitution. In politics Mr. Adanson is an independent democrat.

Des Moines Workers Rapidly Reaching Point of Deadlock.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Nov. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—The prospects of a street car strike in Des Moines became almost certain this afternoon when all negotiations between the company and the officers of the men's union were broken off. The trouble arose over the discharge some time ago of Ralph Cohes, a motorman, who had given testimony in court in a damage suit brought by Miss Fannie Parker, his sweetheart, who had been injured in an accident. The company insisted that the giving of the testimony violated a rule of the company and has refused to consider reinstatement or arbitration. Officers of the national association have been sent here to come here to take charge of the situation.

Federal officials held a consultation today with a view to bringing suit on the bond of E. R. Mason, who was for more than thirty years clerk of the United States district court here, and who resigned some time ago. It is alleged that he never made full accounting of all fees, but that the books were so badly kept that there was no way to effect a settlement.

That the women of Iowa are making gains in the matter of success at the polls is shown by the results at county superintendents. The number of women elected superintendents in Iowa last week was forty-five as against thirty-two now holding office. This is by far the largest number of women county superintendents in the state. There are thirty-four new superintendents in office.

Governor Carroll today appointed George H. Castle of Shenandoah to be judge of the superior court in Shenandoah in place of Judge Ferguson, lately deceased.

Only one of the thirty-two persons who took the examination for pharmacy certificates in October succeeded. This was J. J. McDermott of Cleveland. The explanation of such failure on the part of so many is that it was a class of very young men.

State Superintendent John F. Riggs will go next week to Salt Lake City to attend a national meeting of the superintendents of public instruction, with the head of the national department of education to consider the matter of the unification of laws so that diplomas or high grade certificates may be recognized alike in all states. This and other matters of uniform legislation will be considered and a report be made for the benefit of the various legislatures.

Iowa News Notes.

EWART—When a horse kicked Orestor Rankin, of this place, in the face a week ago, injuries of such a serious nature were inflicted that Rankin died last night from the effects of them.

LEGARD—William R. Frankl, aged 19, of this place, a brakeman employed by the Northwestern, was run over and instantly killed at the Northwestern yards at Clinton this morning. He leaves his parents and six brothers and sisters.

ESTHERVILLE—The Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway must pay Mrs. Ursula R. Yeager $12,000 for the death of her husband. He was killed in the Rock Island yards on February 6, 1907, and the case has been in litigation ever since, and a trial in the lower court and one in the supreme.

RINGGOLD—Infantile paralysis is getting pretty well rooted here. Alfred Renshaw, aged 15 years, has died with the disease; Chris Hanson's son is seriously ill, and a daughter of Mr. Mortenson has just been taken down with the disease. The disease seems to be spreading, and that since the cold weather set in.

CLARKSON—W. F. Peacock, a Great Western freight brakeman, whose home is in Big Rapids, Minn., where his family lives, while attempting to make a coupling last night fell and had one of his legs so badly crushed by the car wheels that it had to be amputated above the knee. It is expected that he will recover.

PORT DODGE—Boy scouts are to be organized in Port Dodge in the near future. Will McLean, a veteran of three wars, being directly interested in the movement, and the boys of the city who are eligible are taking up the scheme enthusiastically.

Mr. McLean fought for England in South Africa, India and China. Dr. P. F. Peacock, rector of Saint Mark's church, who is greatly interested in the work for boys, will cooperate with Mr. McLean.

Everybody in This City Is Now Going to Have A Royal Treat

Such a treat as you have not had in years. The rarest fruits in all California ready for your table. Rich, sun-mellowed, tree ripened peaches with the juices so close to the surface they melt on your tongue; Apricots that leave a pleasant taste in your memory as well as your mouth. Big, ripe, luscious cherries that remind you of the fragrant blossoms from which they came. And pears that will make you declare you've never tasted a pear before until that hour. All these can be had by asking your grocer for

Hunt's Quality Fruits

"The Kind That is Not Lye Peeled"

The supply is limited. Not all of the fruits that come from California are the best fruits by any means. Your share of the crop has been delivered to your city. Your grocer has taken them into his stock. It only remains for you to take them into your mouth to prove up what we say.

Hunt's Quality Fruits are the pick of the finest orchards of California. The flavor of the fresh ripe fruit is in every can. The care we give them in canning is the care of the private home.

It is hard to handle tree-ripened fruit, but it is well worth our labor to you. For the flavor that comes with the sun and the wind and the flowing sap, you can never forget.

No half ripe fruits can bear the label of Hunt; no lye peeled peaches are allowed to wear our name.

They cost you no more than the ordinary kind, although they cost us more.

Ask your grocer today for a can of Hunt's Quality Fruits. If he hasn't them he will gladly get them for you because he knows their worth.
