

You'll find Your Opportunity in the New West

When Horace Greeley said:

"Go West, Young Man"

He realized, as few did, at that time, the wonderful possibilities of that marvelous country known as "the West."

Thousands followed his advice; they wanted to build homes and make a greater nation, so, in the face of innumerable difficulties, they made their way, and after long, toilsome years found success.

They and their children turned the wilderness into granaries and gardens, and are today the most independent, contented people in the nation.

There is room for millions more

There are thousands of new acres being put under irrigation every year, and there are hundreds of growing towns and cities where business ventures promise great returns—for people are commencing to realize the west's possibilities and are going out by the thousands. One railroad alone reports 50,000 colonists settled during 1909.

So that we may again repeat Horace Greeley's advice:

Go west, young man, where there's a chance to make good

The wilderness has been fitted for further development, and the young man with brains and brawn, persistence and a little capital can make more here for himself and his family than in any other place in the nation.

The Western Land-Products Exhibit, To be held in Omaha January 18 to 28, 1911

Will bring the whole West under one roof, thus enabling you to see for yourself what its people are doing every day.

The exhibits will be made up by the richest and most promising communities in the states of Colorado, Wyoming, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington and California, and they will be in charge of men who will be anxious to answer all your questions and to discuss your particular case.

The Omaha Bee and The Twentieth Century Farmer

Wish to convince the people about the wonderful possibilities of the west, and they are backing up the Western Land-Products Exhibit because they realize that an exhibit of this kind will show people more of the real truth about this wonderful section than any amount of pure talk and the real interest in the upbuilding of the empire is due to the fact that they realize that it is upon the west that Omaha must depend for its future progress and greatness.

Land information bureau

So many of our readers have written us from time to time, asking us for reliable information as to soil, climate and value of land in localities in which they were thinking of locating or buying for investment, that we have decided to establish a Land Information Bureau.

This bureau will make investigations and gather data, so that it will be able to either answer inquiries direct or give parties wanting information the names of reliable persons to whom you can write.

When writing, address, Land Information Bureau, The Twentieth Century Farmer, Omaha, Neb.
