MILITIAMEN MAKE EXCUSES

Court-Martial Listens to Reasons Why Didn't Go to Riley.

NUMBER HAD WORK TO DO

Several Advance Excuse They Were Under Age and Conflict of State and Parental Authority

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—The court-martial detailed by Adjutant General Hartigan convened in the senate chamber this morning and began taking testimony on the charges filed against some fifty members of the National Guard of the state.

Inasmuch as the accused and the witnesses are held here at the expense of the guard's appropriation, General Hartigan insisted that the court remain in session late tonight in order to complete its work.

Most of the accused were charged with having violated orders in that they failed to show up at the army maneuvers at Fort Riley. Practically all of them pleaded guilty, but a great majority had the same reason for failing to obey orders—they did not believe they had to attend the maneuvers or they were so busy at work they simply could not get off.

A few others pleaded that they were under age and when they joined the guard they did not have the consent of their parents. This put it up to the court to determine whether it had any jurisdiction over these guardsmen.

In most instances the captains of the various companies have come forward in defense of the accused, in practically every case showing that the accused had been a good soldier since the Fort Riley maneuvers and before.

Some Reasons Given.

Private Vernon Taylor, Company L, Second regiment, pleaded guilty to the charge against him, but offered as an excuse that he had to care for 130 acres of wheat which needed care just at that time and he could not get away.

James Canaday of the same company said he received no notice of the army maneuvers, as he was out with a threshing outfit, and then went out to Colorado to work for a drainage company. It was testified that the orders had been mailed him, but no one could dispute the testimony of Canaday that he failed to receive them.

The court-martial attracted a considerable number of witnesses in addition to the large number of accused. When the opportunity presented itself the court went after the captives with severe cross-examination and apparently impressed them with the responsibilities of their positions.

Bert Taylor's Father Hears of Son's Crime

Aged Man Picks Up Stray Page of Newspaper and Reads it Amid Sobs and Moans.

IOLA, Kan., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—"My the sorrow of a poor old man." At the Allen county poor farm, hearing this thought came into the mind of the superintendent and inmates as they observed G. A. Taylor, a county charge, aged 85 years, pick up a stray page of a newspaper and read amid sobs and moans.

The very thing which the superintendent had tried to prevent had occurred, and the feeble old man, nursing life's end, had learned for the first time of his son's awful crime and punishment. In the bit of newspaper picked up on the grounds near the county home the old man read of the murder committed by his son, Bert Taylor, at Minden, Neb., and of his death on the gallows in the state penitentiary on October 2.

After the old man had remained silent for a few minutes some of his companions sought to console him. "It's the way they all must go," he sobbed. "It's all the boy could expect if he transgressed the law and killed his sister-in-law. If a man will do such a thing he must suffer the consequences. One thing I know, he was taught to be a good boy at home and to avoid bad company."

The elder Taylor has been an inmate of the Allen county poor farm two years. Age and adversity have greatly enfeebled him and he tells his associates that he is patiently waiting for death's summons to release him from his sufferings and burdens which are all too heavy.

PLATTSMOUTH, Neb., Nov. 15.—(Special.)—The jury in the Geno murder case brought in a verdict at 9 o'clock this morning finding Sittman and Keizer guilty of the murder of Mike Geno. Having the choice of fixing the sentence at life imprisonment or hanging, the jury decided upon life imprisonment.

With George Saunders, another laborer, Geno was walking down the railroad tracks toward the quarry the night of September 1 when attacked by Sittman and Keizer. Saunders escaped and gave the alarm. Geno died from his injuries the next morning.

When the men were brought to trial they pleaded guilty, Sittman declaring he had been intimidated and forced to make the written confession. Their attorneys entered a plea of self-defense.

KIMBALL LAUNDRY DAMAGED

Fire Causes Ten Thousand Dollars Loss to Concern.

CUSTOMERS' PROPERTY INSURED

Flames Start from Unknown Origin and Sweep Through Main Part of Building—Laundry to Resume Thursday.

Fire originating in the drying room of the Kimball Laundry company, near Sixth and Jackson streets, at 1 o'clock this morning damaged building and equipment to the extent of $10,000. Patrolmen sent discovered the fire from the alley back of the building and turned in an alarm from the Rome hotel. By the time the fire department arrived smoke was pouring from the front of the building and the flames in the rear were shooting across the alley. Within twenty minutes the fire was put under control, and by 3 o'clock was almost completely extinguished.

At 10:30 last evening the A. D. T. watchman, Kane, made an exhaustive examination of the building and at 1 o'clock looked for again, but no signs of fire were apparent either time.

The cause is unknown and cannot very well be laid to defective wiring, as the building was newly wired and a complete new electrical plant installed last spring.

The building is a two-story brick structure with a three-foot frontage and a half a block deep. The damage to it will be about $5,000. The building is not owned by the company, but belongs to Frank Burkley and Hugh McCaffrey.

"Our damage," said Manager Strain, "will probably not be over $10,000, although it is hard to place it definitely. We carry a $0 per cent insurance policy of $25,000. Of that, $1,000 was on our customer's property, a thing which very few laundries do."

"The fire could not have occurred at a worse time, for the building is always full of laundry in the early part of the week. When we shall begin work again is merely a matter of adjustment, probably tomorrow. Our customers will be taken care of, although some will doubtless be short of collars and cuffs for awhile. Our greatest loss will lie in our costly electrical machinery."

Reopens Thursday.

The officers of the company are: F. J. Kimball, president of Beatrice; F. E. Kimball, vice president of Beatrice; G. M. Strain, treasurer and manager, and H. A. Jacobberger, secretary.

The Kimball laundry will resume business Thursday.

"We have two forces of men at work," said Manager G. M. Strain Tuesday morning, "one carting out the burned clothes and making adjustments and the other cleaning up the building. We did not lose more than $10,000, and that is covered by insurance. There will be few of our employes thrown out of work, and those that are will be re-employed in a very short time. The greatest loss caused by the fire was to our fine electrical equipment, but that can be re-installed by supply houses here in Omaha. The washing and ironing machines are not manufactured here, were only slightly damaged."

Mr. Strain said he thought the fire was probably caused by spontaneous combustion.

"The drying room has remained constantly heated for years and the beams becoming charred and always remaining warm while the clothes in the room were damp, and I believe that combination brought on combustion," said Mr. Strain.

BLINDNESS IS ON DECREASE

Ned Abbott of State Institution Points Out Reasons for Improvement in Condition.

Ned Abbott, brother of Keene Abbott of Omaha, and superintendent of the state school for the blind at Nebraska City, was in Omaha Tuesday. He says that the state institution is in the best condition it has been ever known in. "We have fifty-seven pupils now," said Mr. Abbott, "and the most we have had at any time was sixty-seven. The fact is that blindness in this state and in the whole country is decidedly on the decrease. We have better surgical and curative operations are done skillfully enough now to avoid the dangers of infection. "More care is taken of children when they are very young. The conditions of the home are better, we have fewer Fourth of July accidents and in every way there are influences working to do away with the affliction. There is less in this state now, disregarding entirely the growth in population, than there was twenty years ago."

British Parliament Meets and Adjourns

Long Cabinet Conference Delays Crisis in Veto Proposition Until Friday.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Parliament reassembled today, but in the absence of Premier Asquith the proceedings lacked the acute interest that has been anticipated and the political crisis anticipated is delayed until Friday.

When the House of Lords assembled this afternoon Lord Lansdowne, in the face of opposition, said he would tomorrow move "that this house invite his majesty's government to submit to its consideration the terms of the Parliament bill."

This is official designation of the veto bill, which is the center of all the trouble. Lord Lansdowne denied the report that the recent constitutional conference broke down because the peers would not ask ex-Premier Balfour to accept certain terms.

The Globe this evening gives currency to a report that Premier Asquith is considering the restoration of the cabinet, and the king has refused the guarantee sought by the premier.

The Best Cough Syrup is Easily Made at Home. Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Refunded if It Fails.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup and saves you about $2 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It stops obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—in a hurry, and is splendid for sore throats, colds, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a pint bottle and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one or two or three hours. Tastes good. This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative.

Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in gaultherin and the other natural healing elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada now use this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. The plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equalled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—Adv.
