The red cross Christmas seals of the Anti-Tuberculosis association are now distributed for sale in the state of Nebraska to the number of 200,000, and twice that many more will be sent out and ready for the opening day of the sale, December 1. It was intended originally by the executive secretary for this section to try to sell 20,000, but they have been so many calls that the number has been increased to 200,000. The executive secretary has opened up an office at 307 Brandeis building and any merchant or dealer in Nebraska who wants to become an agent for the sale can send a request there. This office has also a plentiful supply of attractive posters, window cards and sign board bills and they will be sent out to help advertise the sale. Only responsible merchants are allowed to undertake the work, and when it is undertaken it must be done with enthusiasm and with every effort to make it a success. Schools, churches, lodges, clubs, and all organizations of good standing are asked to help and no one is allowed to derive any profit or any commercial advantage from having the agency. All unsold seals are returned to the central office in Omaha and 50 per cent of the gross proceeds in each city is returned to the local red cross organization, if there is one, to help in its sanitary reform and anti-tuberculosis work... MICHIGAN MEN ARE TO MEET Will Hold Dinner Saturday Night at the Henshaw Ratscheller to Celebrate. The committee of the local alumni in charge consists of Lyman L. Bryson, chairman; Gilbert M. Hitchcock, John R. Webster, Charles U. McDonald, Frank Crawford and E. J. Waters.

SNAKE RIVER PLANS EXHIBIT

League of Commercial Clubs in Idaho Energetic. ENTHUSES OVER THE LAND SHOW Big Display Will Be Made at Land Products Show by Business Men in Snake River Valley of Idaho. REYNOLDS, Idaho, Nov. 16.—(Special.)—The League of Commercial Clubs of the upper Snake river valley is now collecting an exhibit to send to the Western Land-Products exhibit in January and it will be accompanied by C. G. Keller of Reynolds, who was a former Omahan, at one time in charge of the office for Swift & Co., and later that of the Nebraska-Moline Flour company. Mr. Keller left Nebraska in 1906 on account of poor health. Not only has he regained his health and added 100 pounds in weight, but he has added to his material welfare as well. He planted 300 acres in wheat this fall and last year purchased another 100 acres, already needed to wheat. As chairman of the publicity committee of the league he is now boosting for the Omaha Land show and says, "We want to show the people back there what we can raise and what we have. We have good schools and good churches and this is a place which a woman will feel is one where she will want to make a home. A man can raise big crops of wheat and he can also raise all kinds of farm crops and fruits, but it is the home question that he wants to look up first and that is all right here and I want to show my old friends at Omaha what an opportunity they are missing." Mr. Keller is one of the big-hearted men of this section, and the reception he gave the land show representative is but an example of the interest that is felt by the people who have come here from Omaha territory in the "folks back at home." The people of Idaho are alive to the fact that the people of Nebraska, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas are the ones who are most interested in their country and they are planning to show what they have done in the "new west." While this is not a bonanza farming section, still one company near this city threshed 61,000 bushels of wheat this fall, and while this is true in this case, it is the exception for, on the whole, it is a section of homes and not of large acreage.

Real Estate Men Resolve to Tell the Truth Only

Exchange Passes Strong Resolution on Subject of Honesty—Would Expel All Fibbers. Members of the Omaha Real Estate exchange surveyed Omaha Wednesday noon from the roof of the City National bank building. Enthusiasm over the building and the view was considerable, but soon the various members' eyes began to focus on various sections of the city. "See that high ground over there, that's where our new addition to best thing now on hand in Omaha; lots from $3 up; close in, all improvements," and so forth. Other tongues talked of other sections in which particular interest for the speakers inhaled. The exchange, before it went on this inspection trip, passed unanimously a motion expressing appreciation of the efforts of the men who have erected this building. A new by-law came before the meeting for informal consideration. It received approval and will be later formally adopted. This by-law, which was offered by D. C. Patterson, reads as follows: "Every statement made by one member to another in the course of any negotiation shall be made strictly in good faith, and be the truth to the best of his knowledge and belief, and any member who shall wilfully and knowingly deceive or mislead another, touching any matter of value relating to any bargain or negotiation between the parties, shall be liable to expulsion from the exchange. In a case where any person not a member of the exchange shall in any negotiation or bargain in which a member is party, be guilty of any fraudulent breach of good faith toward such a member, the committee on arbitration shall on complaint of such member and on being satisfied as to the fact of such a breach of faith record in a book to be kept for that purpose the name of such person, together with a proper recommendation for the private use of members of the exchange." Mr. Keller is one of the big-hearted men of this section, and the reception he gave the land show representative is but an example of the interest that is felt by the people who have come here from Omaha territory in the "folks back at home." L. Travis of New Orleans, was the guest of honor at a banquet given Tuesday night at the Hotel Rome by Messrs. George T. and S. H. Wilson of this city, to the representative of the World's Panama exposition, at New Orleans. Both the Messrs. Wilson are staunch advocates of New Orleans as the point for holding the exposition in 1915. Colonel Travis and several representatives of the Louisiana delegation came over from Council Bluffs on this occasion. Among other men present were T. A. Norris, J. Mack Sholl, ex-national bank examiner of Illinois, and William Hughes of Kansas City, Charles M. Stanley of Topeka, William H. Walker of Wichita, and M. G. Hodnette of Austin, Texas, besides several very prominent citizens of Omaha who are very much interested in the New Orleans exposition. George T. Wilson acted as toastmaster. Colonel Travis, replying to the toast of "San Antonio and Texas" said: "San Antonio is perhaps, from its historical and traditional associations, the most interesting city west of the Mississippi river. The flags of six nations have waved above its battle-scarred missions, and to every flag it was true and loyal until they were pulled down by its own consent." Mr. Hodnette spoke for "Limitless Texas." W. H. Walker answered to the toast of "Bleeding Kansas." George T. Wilson made an eloquent speech for the twin cities of Omaha and Council Bluffs. He paid a high compliment to Kansas and Iowa, and stated that the Cornhuskers of the Platte were ready at all times to feed and welcome their brothers of the valley. Frightened Into Fits by fear of appendicitis, take Dr. King's New Life Pills, and away goes bowel trouble. Guaranteed. 25c. For sale by Beaton Drug Co.

Sixteen Machines Show No Change

Examination of Voting Machines Shows First Returns Are Correct. Figures on sixteen Omaha voting machines, examined by the canvassing board in the basement of the city hall Wednesday morning, proved to be identical with the returns from them sent to County Clerk Haverly the night of the election, November 8. No gains nor losses for any candidate resulted from the examination. Examination and recording of the machine figures was resumed Wednesday afternoon and will continue through most of Thursday. The machines examined Wednesday morning were those of the third and fourth precincts, First ward; third and fifth precincts, Second ward; first precinct, Fifth ward; first and second precincts, Seventh ward; first precinct, Eighth ward; first precinct, Tenth ward; third and fourth precincts, Eleventh ward; second, fourth and fifth precincts, Twelfth ward; two precincts, Eleventh ward.

Child May Die from Horrible Scalding

Joseph Venditto Suffers Burns About Body by Falling into Boiling Water Tuesday. Nine-year-old Joseph Venditto is at the point of death at his parents' home, 121 South Twenty-fourth street, as the result of fearful scalds about the limbs, resulting from a fall into a pot of boiling water Tuesday. The child received his injury while playing at the Smith Brick company plant, Twenty-second street and Woolworth avenue. He walked and crawled all the way home, tearing the burned shreds of clothing from him as he went. It is reported he may die from the shock and exposure.

Three Days' Time Required to Cure the Drink Habit the Neal Way

Where Formerly It Took Weeks It Now Requires Only Days to Cure. In the treatment of alcoholism the remarkable results obtained by the administration of the Neal 3-Day Liquor Cure have long been recognized. The old custom of placing alcoholic patients under from four to six weeks' treatment with the necessary loss of time and money is being of the past. Three days are all that are required to cure drunkards, either benighted or habitual, at the Neal Institute in Omaha at 1502 South Tenth street, and the cure effected without the use of dangerous hypodermic injections or injurious drugs. Another desirable feature of the medicine used in the treatment is the rapidity with which it restores the general system to its normal condition. From the very first dose almost all craving for alcoholic stimulants is destroyed and a perfect cure is effected in only three days' time. It has been demonstrated that there is no such thing as a secret cure for drunkenness and you are taking great risks in administering the "secret" medicine. The genuine Neal Cure is administered in Nebraska only at Grand Island and at 1502 South Tenth street, Omaha, Neb. Address Neal Institute Co., O. B. 1502 South Tenth street, Omaha, Neb.
