

THE BEE'S HOME MAGAZINE PAGE

Black and White Fur Wrap

POSED BY MISS WELLINGTON OF THE 'BLUE BIRD CO.'
This beautiful model, in which two colors are combined in the fashionable black and white effect is stunning. The coat is of white unspotted ermine skins, pliable and soft as satin, and the black ermine tails form part of the simple trimming. The border is of moleskin in stripes, one strip of skins running upward the other downward to form the stripes.

DREAM OF THE RABBIT FIEND

Attractions in Omaha.

"The Spendthrift" at the Brandeis. Bouhal Puynter at the Krug. "The Milk White Flag" at the Boyd. Vaudeville at the Orpheum. Vaudeville at the American Music Hall. Vaudeville at the Gayety.

Oiga Netherole arrived in New York in a touchingly optimistic mood. Miss Netherole brought with her the manuscript of a drama which the press agent makes her say "is the most wonderful ever written by the foremost dramatist of the world."

"Some play," surely, this. Who the foremost dramatist in the world is Miss Netherole reluctantly keeps secret. But, we are assured, it will be revealed later. In the meantime one may put his money on Arthur Wing Pinero, Al H. Wood or Lincoln Carter, as he personally elects.

This week affords the last opportunity to see Averill Harris and Lloyd Ingraham of the Eva Lang company at the Boyd. Mr. Harris is returning to New York and Mr. Ingraham is to teach the young dramatic idea how to shoot. In their places next week will be seen Edward Lynch and John J. McCabe, respectively. Opportunity is afforded in the play of next week for the introduction of a number of dancing specialties, though not so many as are now adorning "The Milk White Flag."

For the principal female role in "Daddy Duffard," the new four-act character comedy in which Albert C. Caster will make his first American appearance on the dramatic stage, Liebier & Co. has engaged Violet Fleming, who last year created the title role in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." Chevalier is the great comic singer of the London halls, the foremost "character singer" in the world. His tour some years ago with Yvette Guilbert will be recalled as curiously uneven—big houses here and there and almost none at all in other places.

At the Gayety Gallagher & Shean offer "The Big Banner Show," an entertainment full of activity and go. The musical comedy which is presented is entitled, "The Girl from Paris," which introduces

Plan of South Dakota Temperance Forces

Movement on Foot to Put Statewide Bill on Referendum Ballot in Two Years.

PIERRE, S. D., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Quincy Lee Morrow of Brookings, one of the leaders of the temperance movement for South Dakota, while in this city last night declared that the recent defeat of the county local option proposition by a larger vote than that with which it was defeated two years ago, does not mean any halt in the work in South Dakota and that they will come to the legislative session of 1911 with an initiative law calling for statewide prohibition for the state. His position on this is that there are many voters in the state who will vote for state-wide prohibition on the ground that in the control of liquor, if it is allowed to be sold at all in the state, the home rule idea for cities and towns should prevail. But while they take such a position on county option they are willing to vote to banish the "demon of rum" from the state in its entirety and would willingly vote to that effect on the initiative law. Mr. Morrow appears to have the support of most of the temperance workers of the state. At the same time there is a conservative element among the temperance advocates who believe that it would be wise politics to let the matter lie quiet over one election, as the continual pushing of the question after the people have voted it down twice would only mean defeat another time, while with a wait they believe success might be attained. But the radicals appear to be in control and the question will be before the voters at the next election, only in another form.

ASK REPRIEVE FOR CRIPPEN

Return to their Piers. Passengers on Both Liners Were Panic Stricken at the Time of the Collision, but Assurance of the Officers that There was no Danger Speedily Quoted Them.

Passengers on both liners were panic stricken at the time of the collision, but assurance of the officers that there was no danger speedily quieted them.

NOTICED BALD SPOT COMING ON HEAD

Interesting Story of Consultation with Dermatologist and Successful Use of Cuticura, Also Case of Severe Ivy Poisoning, Relief of Which by Cuticura was Permanent.

"Nine years ago I noticed a bald spot coming on my head and, as I was only nineteen years old, it did not seem natural, as it was on the side of my head instead of on top. My mother advised my seeing a dermatologist and I did so, one of the best in Boston, and he said it was due to a germ I must have got at the barber's. He couldn't assure a cure, but by treating each hair separately by electricity, he said, the hair might come out white or gray, if it came out at all. He proposed giving me a treatment every month for six months at ten dollars a treatment. When I told my mother she advised using Cuticura Soap and Ointment every day. In two months my hair commenced to grow, and in six months each hair would never have known there had been any trouble, the hair coming out being black, the exact shade of my own. I have never had any trouble since, so Cuticura is invaluable to me, you see. G. J. Browne, Kensington St., Dorchester, Mass., Jan. 29, 1910."

This letter is but one of hundreds giving proof of the success of the Cuticura Remedies in treating the scalp. Write to Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Prop., Boston.

Trial of Mrs. McMahon Begins at Sturgis

Slayer of Attorney Thomas is Arraigned on Charge of Murder—Regular Panel Exhausted.

STURGIS, S. D., Nov. 17.—(Special Telegram.)—The case of Mrs. Nellie McMahon, charged with the murder of Attorney Thomas, her late husband's law partner, was called for trial this morning. The regular panel was exhausted at the morning session and a special venire of fifty was summoned to appear this afternoon. It is expected that the panel will be completed this afternoon and that the taking of testimony will begin Friday morning.

Defendant was accompanied by her attorneys and her sister, Mrs. J. W. Brooks of Chicago. The work of examining the jury for defendant was conducted by Attorney Harry P. Axtwater of Sturgis.

BIG LINERS IN COLLISION

La Lorraine and Prinz Frederick Wilhelm Badly Damaged in Hudson River.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—In a collision in the Hudson river today between the French line steamer La Lorraine, bound for Havre, and the North German Lloyd liner Prinz Friedrich Wilhelm, bound for Bremen, as they were drawing out into the stream to sail for Europe, both steamers were badly damaged above the water line and had to

Try This When Your Hair is Dusty

(From the New York Herald.)
"When the hair is dusty and dull, and you want to clean it quickly, just sprinkle through it a little dry shampoo powder made by mixing four ounces of corn root with four ounces of starch."
"Then brush the hair thoroughly and not only will it be clean, but it will have a rich and glossy lustre that can be given in no other way. So little time is required for this dry shampoo that it can be done profitably whenever the hair is dressed."
"Therax is excellent for the scalp and gives the hair new life and vigor. The regular use of this mixture heightens the natural color, while washing the hair with water too often causes it to lose color and become dull and brittle."—Adv.

Items of Interest for the Women Folk

All linen to be used in the home of a newly married couple should be bought by the bride, and to this rule there is absolutely no exception. Of course, such an outfit may be one of the presents given by a member of the family, and should consist of sheets, pillow cases, towels for hand and body, kitchen and glass towels, table covers and table linen. The number, as well as the variety, is limited only by the amount a girl, or her parents, wish to spend.

For a girl of small income, who will live simply, two dozen hand towels are enough, for with this number there will be plenty of fresh ones. Six bath towels should be sufficient.

For the butler's pantry a dozen linen glass towels is none to many, and there should be the same number for the kitchen, as well as four roller towels.

Dining room linen need not be large in quantity, and if a large cloth is used only for dinner three should be enough, if money is not plentiful. One cover should last through a week, and three provides for a fresh one in the chest while the others are in use or being laundered. Two dozen dinner napkins can be made to do, but three are better. A fresh one should be put on the table every night.

For luncheon and breakfast table doilies may take the place of a big cover, and there should be three sets of these. Also small napkins, four dozen being none too many.

Centerpieces are not used as formerly with dinner covers, and they are likely to be among gifts sent to the bride, in any event.

One dozen sheets should be provided, or a dozen and a half if the house is equipped with single beds. Pillow cases are required in greater number, for they are changed oftener, and two dozen should be on the list. Three counterpanes and blankets or eiderdown puffs are also necessary.

Each girl knows how many bureau and table covers she will need, and when she must be economical one change should be enough at first. There is no objection, and it is well to wait for these small articles until going into the house to live, for only then can a woman know precisely what she wants.

ROSAANNA SCHUYLER.

"Style and inexpensive" seldom go together. A girl can have pretty and becoming clothes nowadays at comparatively small expense, but style is something one must pay for.

Unfortunately for short women, style is the first requisite. They cannot indulge in the dainties that their slender sisters use. For to bring out their best points the cut must be good. This is imperative. Then the design must be chosen with care, while the color, also the fabric, demands attention.

You must choose dark colors. What these shall be I cannot say without knowing the details of your own coloring. Brown and gray are not good colors for stout figures. But navy blue, dark red, dark green and black are recommended, provided, of course, the tone selected is becoming to the wearer.

In design select those showing straight up and down lines.

Though you are tall you are also stout,

Tasty Meat Dishes for Dinner

Pot Roast—Three or four pounds from the top of the round or from the sitch bone make excellent pot roast. Put in a frying pan a few small pieces of suet or salt pork and brown the meat in this fashion. Try and brown carefully to brown evenly on all sides. Slice this a small onion, a carrot and a half turnip and place in a round bottom iron kettle, having a close cover, or better still, a casserole or earthen baking dish. Lay the meat on the vegetables, adding also a sprig of parsley and a bit of bay leaf. Rinse the frying pan in which the meat was browned with a scant cupful boiling water and turn over the meat and vegetables with salt and pepper to season.

Cook for at least four hours, uncovering and basting occasionally. It may be cooked on top of the stove or in the oven. During this time the vegetables will steam to a pulp and there will be gravy. Take up the meat, strain and thicken the gravy with browned flour, adding more boiling water if desired. Some cooks like one or two okra pods or a cup of tomato added with the other vegetables; but this is a matter of taste.

New England Pot Roast—A New England pot roast is slightly different. For this take three or four pounds from the round, season with salt, pepper, and rub over with flour. In the bottom of an iron pot put a thick slice of crusty bread, and over this sprinkle one-half cupful chopped suet and a large onion sliced. Lay the beef on this and pour over it a cupful of boiling water. Cover and cook for an hour, then turn and cook for an hour longer. Take up the meat and brown in hot butter or pork drippings, then put in the center of a pot platter. Strain the gravy from the pot, thicken with browned flour and pour over the meat. Serve with a garnish of boiled and sliced carrots.

Swiss Roast—Take round steak cut two or two and a half inches thick and pound into it as much flour as it will absorb, using the edge of a heavy plate for the purpose. Put into a frying pan with hot lard or drippings and brown on both sides. Cover with water, adding a sliced onion and a cupful tomato, fresh or canned; cover tightly and cook for two or three hours, adding more water if necessary.

Just before it is done, season with salt and pepper.

Stewed Beef Kidneys—Take a fresh beef kidney and let it stand in cold water for about ten minutes. Remove fat and skin, then cut or chop into dice. Put into a stew pot, just cover with cold water and put over a slow fire. Add a slice of onion, half a teaspoon of salt, a quarter teaspoon of pepper, three dessert spoons canned tomato, half a teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Let simmer, not boil, for about an hour or until tender. Take about a tablespoonful of the gravy in a cup, and when cool mix it with a dessert spoon of flour to a smooth, thin paste.

Gradually stir into the stew until it seems thick enough. Let simmer a little while longer, serve very hot in a covered dish. This can be prepared the day before and simply heated the next morning for breakfast.

EMMA FALOOK TELFORD.

How to Prevent the Skin from Becoming Dry in the Winter Time

"I begin with the first cool wind of autumn to take special care my skin doesn't get dry. For that is what wind does to flesh, and if no treatment to counteract this effect is given hardness and general lack of softness that add to the appearance of age will soon be noticed."

"Of course, I know that what suits one woman's complexion may not do for another, but I have reached 42 years of age without having fine wrinkles, and I am willing to tell what I do to prevent them."

"Every night, from about the middle of September to the first of May, I have a cold cream wash before I go to bed. That is the way I keep the skin tissues red. I don't leave the cream on. That isn't necessary, save when the face is actually chapped, but my treatment serves to make up, and no more, the amount of natural oils that have been absorbed by wind and dust."

Daily Health Hint

Oatmeal is an excellent dish for cold weather as it has excellent properties for heating the blood, it is too strong and substantial a food for invalids and even makes heavy demands on the digestion of those who are in good health.

The Soft Answer.
"You were trying to evade the law by operating an automobile without being qualified."
"Trying to evade the law, nothing. I didn't run right into an officer!"—Kansas City Journal.

Magic.
FIRST WITCH. Thrice the telephone bell hath rung.
SECOND WITCH. Thrice the outer door hath swung.
THIRD WITCH. Porter cries: she comes! she comes!
Round about the lady go.
Draw it tighter—so and so—
Put six yards of velvet there.
Here a stitch and there a pin!
The noble maid is now a queen.
Meanwhile laughing in our sleeves.
ALL.
Hobble, hobble, stitch and bobble!
How shall we reel and how shall we wobble.
SECOND WITCH. Piber that the worn hat span,
Lace that through the customs won.
Wrench around a costly fiddle.
Here compress and there extend,
Fashioner's galore.
Hook and eye a peg or more—
Let to wrinkles mar the folds.
White, the trusty covert holds.
ALL.
Hobble, hobble, stitch and bobble!
How shall we reel and how shall we wobble.
THIRD WITCH. Reize we now the agile cat,
Drop his belt into the vat.
And smelt the shimmering dyes
The noble maid is now a queen.
Then into the cauldron throw
Grandmother's worn-out shapau,
Busher's baskets, coal hods, crocks,
Wings of hens and tails of cocks,
Dugger's poniards, arrows, spears,
To no more ruin one's fears—
Bind the fabric wide and high
With a pin for every eye.
ALL.
Hobble, hobble, stitch and bobble!
How shall we reel and how shall we wobble.
SECOND WITCH. Lay the bill be large and bold—
Hobble dear will buy the shod.
—O, a, You Muses in New York Street.

She—Widows almost always marry again.
He—Yes, because dead men tell no tales.

PLEASANT PARTY
"I like him; he always stands up for his friends."
"What a nice sort of man to meet in the subway!"