

kick was matched by one made by Lewis, which was a similar failure.

The superiority of Harvard over Yale was shown in the rushing, for ten times the crimson got first down, and its work in this style, and fifty-five times, brought gains of 20 yards, while Yale, getting first down six times, tried rushing thirty-seven times for 111 yards.

Yale succeeded in the inside kick entirely, while Harvard tried it four times as an effective ground game.

The game was the shortest of championship football contests, lasting less than an hour and three-quarters. The scene, which had as its setting a patch of green turf with crowds of humanity on all four sides, electrified with color from the sun as it slowly crept down to the horizon. The stinging was effective and one of the striking color effects was when the Harvard cheering section in the west stand outlined an "H" in crimson and white pennants, waving them to a college air.

The weather was superb and the crowd very satisfactory to even the most fastidious, because it presented in grand array representatives of many of the country's leading families—men of power and interest in the business and financial world, statesmen, scholars and the fair college girl—beset her heart! All the large cities of the east had formidable representation in the grandstands. There was not a bad line in a single detail of the brilliant picture.

Hefting Favors Harvard.

The big Harvard team, which had come down through the season without a defeat, was a 19 to 2 favorite over the Yale eleven. The lineup:

WORK ON THE NEW BALL PARK

Actual Construction is to Begin Friday Morning.

WILLIAM MEYERS GETS CONTRACT

Pa. Houker Returns from Chicago Jacket in Highly Optimistic Frame of Mind—Makes Deals for Players.

Work will begin on the construction of the new ball park for the Omaha base ball club this morning. The contract for the structure has been let by Pa. Houker to William Meyers and he is to begin work as soon as the Thanksgiving day foot ball game is played.

William A. Houker, president of the Omaha club, arrived Saturday morning from Chicago, where he and Manager Schlipke had been in attendance at the meetings of the Western league and also of the minor leagues. He is most optimistic for the future of baseball in the Western league. He has made several deals for players which he says he is not able to announce at this time, but which will materially strengthen the Omaha team. The only deal he has announced is the sale of Cadman to Lancaster, Pa.

Will Be in Fine Shape.

"The Western league will be in fine shape next year," said Mr. Houker. "The Topeka team has been taken over by a large number of the leading business men of Topeka and they will back up the team with a will. We won out in a victory for this league when it was decided that we were to retain our class for at least ten years without change."

"The new park will be a beauty and we will be able to seat at least 15,000 people when we have big foot ball games at the park. There are to be 1,500 reserved seats in the stands with open chairs similar to those in the new White Sox park at Chicago. There will be 750 box seats. The improvements at the park will cost over $250,000, giving Omaha the finest park in the west."

ALL READY FOR THE BIG GAME

Omaha High to Battle with Crank Chicago Team.

BOTH HAVE GOOD RECORDS

Real Contest to Determine Relative Merits of the Eastern and Western High School Teams Thanksgiving Day.

Probably there was never more interest in a high school intercollegiate foot ball game in the west than is being taken in the Omaha-Chicago game scheduled for Thanksgiving day. Both of the teams are top-notchers. Wendell Phillips, manager and coach of the Omaha team, has had such a fine team for the last four years that it is becoming to be known even as far as Chicago, and the contest is being watched closely and commented on by Chicago foot ball fans and experts.

The Wendell Phillips record gives them a clear sheet except for a defeat at the hands of the Lake Forest academy team, in which there are several Omaha boys, who are the backbone of the team. Omaha High school has only one game lost up to date, the Lincoln game, which it retrieved by defeating the Lincoln eleven by a higher score later. Omaha's record up to November 13 total 172 to their opponents' 14, while the Wendell Phillips record stand 162 to 23, so the two have it nearly even on this point.

Wendell Phillips team will average 150 pounds in weight, while the Omaha squad averages 160 pounds to the man more. As officials for the event Ben Cherrington of Nebraska will referee, J. T. Maxwell of the Omaha Young Men's Christian association will umpire, Cedric Fetter of Union college will act as head linesman and H. Erman will be the field judge.

Following are some details of the two teams:

Omaha High School Record	Wendell Phillips Record
Oct. 1—Nebraska City, here.....Won—22 to 0	Oct. 1—Lake Forest Academy.....L 0 to 0
Oct. 8—Harlan, here.....Won—20 to 0	Oct. 8—West Aurora High School.....L 0 to 0
Oct. 15—York, here.....Won—27 to 0	Oct. 15—Highland Park High.....L 0 to 0
Oct. 22—Shenandoah, here.....Won—27 to 0	Oct. 22—Bridgeway High (Chicago).....L 0 to 0
Oct. 29—Lincoln, at Lincoln.....Lost—9 to 6	Nov. 5—South Omaha, here.....Won—34 to 0
Nov. 12—Lincoln, here.....Won—10 to 0	Nov. 12—Hyde Park High School.....L 0 to 0
	Nov. 12—University High School.....L 0 to 0

Shenandoah Eleven

Defeats Neb. City, Would Play Omaha

Iowa Team Claims Championship of State and Wants Thanksgiving Game with Nebraskans.

SHENANDOAH, Ia., Nov. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Shenandoah High school defeated Nebraska City today, winning the game 31 to 6. The Nebraska team never had the ghost of a chance to score. The only feature of the game was Shenandoah's plowing through Nebraska City almost at will. The Nebraska lads played their best and won favor by their own right.

Shenandoah now claims the championship of Iowa high schools, not having met defeat this year. The team wants a game with Omaha High on Thanksgiving day if possible.

Shenandoah has not been defeated this season. Only once has a score been made against the team. Creston, Ia. High made three points against the eleven on a goal from the field a week ago. The final score was Shenandoah, 18; Creston, 3.

Lord Baltimore Again

Ordered Off Tanbark

Blue Ribbon Winner Asserted to Be Lame by Judges—Silico Stays in America.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Lord Baltimore, the brown gelding that has won so many blues, both here and abroad, for C. W. Watson of Baltimore, was ordered off the tanbark again tonight by the judges in the grand stand that he was lame. The famous horse had a series of setbacks in this year's show. Mr. Watson was indignant, but made no formal protest.

William Grant, driving for Mr. Borg, was also puzzled.

"I'll wager $10,000," he exclaimed, "that Lord Baltimore isn't lame and I'll let the judges name the veterinary."

Charles Wilson, driving for Alfred G. Vanderbilt, also was positive Lord Baltimore had nothing the matter with him.

There were two bad spills this afternoon and one this morning, but nobody was injured.

It was announced that Louis W. Wines of Brighton, England, had sold the Kentucky futurity winner, Silico, by Moko Silico, to John E. Madden, from whom Mr. Wines bought him. Mr. Madden would not name the price he paid, but said it was a few thousand more than he got for him.

That price was $24,000. Under the Wines ownership Silico established a mark of 2:05 1/2 on a five-furlong track in Austria, and it was that performance that decided Madden to buy him back.

CATARRH

A SYSTEMIC BLOOD DISEASE

Catarrh is not merely an affection of the mucous membranes; it is a deep-seated blood disease in which the entire circulation and greater part of the system are involved. It is more commonly manifested in the head, nose and throat, because of the sensitive nature of these membranes, and also because they are more easily reached by irritating influences from the outside. The symptoms of Catarrh, such as a tight feeling in the head, nose stopped up, throat clogged and dry, hacking cough, etc., show that the tiny blood vessels of the mucous membranes are badly congested and inflamed from the impurities in the circulation. To cure Catarrh permanently the blood must be purified and the system cleansed of all unhealthy matter. Nothing equals S. S. S. for this purpose. It attacks the disease at its head, goes down to the bottom of the trouble and makes a complete and lasting cure by PURIFYING the blood. Then the inflamed membranes begin to heal, the head is cleared, breathing becomes natural and easy, the throat is no longer clogged, and every unpleasant symptom of the disease disappears. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and for this reason is the most certain cure for Catarrh. Book on Catarrh and medical advice free to all who write.

E PERTS LIKE THE GIANTS

Think Well of Their Chances for Next Season—Players Are Signing Up.

In most of the cities of the major league circuits there seems to be a disposition to be more kindly to the Giants as saviors of athletic triformity in 1911, than has always been the custom.

Before the season of 1910 began there were some of the base ball clan who thought New York would be fortunate to finish in the first division. Perhaps the wish was father to the thought. New York had to have its own team, and the city rivalry is concerned. Western friends in particular like nothing better than to see the representatives of the "big city" beaten.

It is nothing new. That feeling of ambition to whip the nighty was in existence away back when the city of New York first made its advent as one of the members of the major league circuits.

A victory over the Giants in the 90s was worth quite as much as all of the "ninety and nine" defeats by a team representing a smaller city.

The reasons are very simple for the changed attitude in regard to the probable chances of the Giants in 1911. Chicago has been beaten for the world's championship and New York beat Pittsburgh in the National league race. Base ball prophets see in these results reasons why the Giants are very dangerous in the year to come.

It is expected that Chicago will need much repairing, possibly. It is surmised that there are to be changes in the Pittsburgh team. Very lively. Mr. Dreyfuss has said that he will have no player in his organization in 1911 who consults artificial stimulants too freely.

He believes that the natural stimulation which comes from good and healthy base ball, is much more to the purpose. Very likely he is right. Players cannot over-indulge in stimulating beverages and get their best on the field. As the citizen said who was celebrating the election of Dix: "It isn't what you've got, but it's getting over it."

A mild third quencher is rather harmless, but efforts to drown one's anatomy are more than likely to bring forth such reaction as tells upon athletic endeavor.

The Giants finished the season of 1910 playing better ball than they had during any part of the year. That, too, is hopeful. A team which plays up to its top speed to the last moment of the year, because its objective point is to finish higher than a rival, is more to be relied upon in the season to come than the team which stops because it has reached an end and ambition is lost when there is no championship to be achieved.

"Yesterday 'Chief' Meyers was diverted long enough from his Shakespearean revival to trundle to the office of the New York Base Ball club and sign a contract for the season to come. The contract had no cause to regret that New York obtained his services some two years ago from St. Paul.

He's a modest chap and bears not a word of the stink of his race. "When I came here I tried to do my best," said he. "There was a great deal about base ball that I didn't know, and I am still learning. I do feel that I have improved and I am chuck full of resolution to do better next year. This stage business comes in handy. It's a little help, and I am very grateful for the many favors which I have received from the New York public."

Arthur Shafer, that clever youngster who aches with ardor to be a regular, signed his contract yesterday. Immediately afterward he took a train for the long overland ride to California. He has a beautiful home in one of the most beautiful parts of his native state. "I'm lucky," said he, "for I have summer almost all the year around. When I get out to the shore of the Pacific the weather will be delightful, and when I come back to New York I'll enjoy the best part of the year in my eastern home. It's a little hard to tell which I like the better."

Mathewson and Devore have signed their contracts for next year. Other players will fall into the line by one, and with the veterans there are some promising youngsters who will be tried out in the spring, and some of them will play with the team.

Managers in the National league, other than John J. McGraw, think that he has the shining pitcher in Drucker. Considering that Drucker had really the first season in which he had real major league experience he finished with capital success.

Like all green material he needs seasoning. The manager he says the better he should be for many a season to come if he does not meet with accident. He is only a boy, just out of school, and his future is as bright as the prospect of the team which he almost worshiped—Mathewson.

It is too early to predict the regular team of 1911. Probably the manager doesn't know himself who will compose it. There are a great many things to be considered and there is always the probability of "what may happen."

The owner of the club, John T. Brush, who is least likely to be slighted in his views to be as keen to win another pennant for New York, as New York fans are eager to see one at the Polo grounds, has started early to arrange affairs for the season to come, because he believes that the psychological moment for a championship is right at his elbow.
