

TENNIS RANKING IN SYSTEM

Committee Issues Blanks to All Players.

MARKS ERA IN THE SPORT

By Means of System Officials Can Get Fullest Possible Lawn Tennis Information and Keep Perfect Tab on Players.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Seeking to obtain the fullest lawn tennis information possible upon which to establish a national ranking list for the season of 1911 the committee recently issued blanks to the players...

Haphazard Days Over.

"It is evident that the days of haphazard lawn tennis are over," remarked an official yesterday, "and the players and clubs that fail to take an accounting of the new order of things are likely to have a rude awakening before long."

The document sent out to the players is ruled to contain records of fifty-seven open tournament and championship matches. Three main division heads had tabulation: Opponent, "Won and Lost" and "My Score."

Impetus to Better Conditions.

The impetus in favor of better conditions, especially toward the rankings, over which annual wrangles were held and which led to the controversy between Clarence Hobart and A. L. Hoakins, was shown with the appointment of Philip B. Hawk as chairman of the ranking committee several years ago.

The establishment of the present plan in a large measure attributable to the foundation upon which Mr. Hawk built, which resulted in his election to the national executive committee at the annual meeting a year ago.

Ability is Considered.

"The ranking committee is desirous of giving full consideration of each player's playing ability, together with each player's record of matches won and lost during the year. Therefore if the committee does not receive from you inclosed record of your matches you may not receive any ranking this year on account of insufficient data."
