Thanksgiving of Precious Memories

By C.S. Harrison

The very name, Thanksgiving, gives us a thrill of joy. It calls up precious memories. It is our national day. It is a part of our history.

To me the coming day is fraught with interest. You not only observe the national day, but you celebrate my seventy-eighth birthday.

Thanksgiving Day at Grandpa's.

Seventy-eight years,—when a boy I would look on such a birthday as a mountain top which I had no idea of gaining.

my back. As a young man, I was not strong, and had to leave college in utter collapse. But, thank God, I was endowed with considerable will power.

But he did, and three years ago he went up there and celebrated his fiftieth anniversary. Sometimes in the night the great, hungry timber wolves would howl along my track almost broken-hearted.

Watched the Great West Grow.

I have seen the great west grow up from babyhood. While a little fellow in 1844, father was sick and we were in a 9x12 foot shanty in Chicago.

ences of our civilization. It is wonderful, it hardly seems like the same world. We are thankful today for the fuller revelations of the unknown.

Oh, we can not get along without God. When we think of all the ministries of nature, how dependent we are on the return of the seasons...

Thunder Storms Clear the Air.

How many things come up for Thanksgiving. We are glad that Teddy, plunging into the wilds of Africa, killed his lions and has returned to hunt out the lions of greed and graft.

Auto Suggestions. It's a long road that has no tacks. A tack avoided is a tire repaired. The race is to the swift, provided the constant doesn't telephone ahead.

Notice to Fat Women. Presumably you know, ladies, that the proper paper nowadays is lined. Curves are rare. You have got to take off your fat.

Prices Cut Deeper Than Ever. Men's Suits and Overcoats—One lot of garments worth up to $12.50—goes now at $3.98.
