Charges that M. Shapiro was intimidated and forced by threats to agree on a verdict which he did not believe to be a fair one while serving on the case of Alexander Shkutsko against Aaron Ferrer in district court ten days ago are substantiated by affidavits filed in district court Monday afternoon by Isidor Zeigler, attorney for Ferrer, against whom a $5,000 verdict was returned.

West is Booming, Says Captain Haze

Is Impressed by the Wonderful Development in the State of Idaho. J. H. Nickerson, chief deputy United States marshal, and Captain H. P. Haze, also of the marshal's force, returned Sunday night from Boise City, Idaho, where they went last week to take Edson K. Carr, federal prisoner, to Idaho for trial. Carr previously told The Bee that he wanted to Idaho on the charge of using the mails for fraudulent purposes, and the Omaha connection with the case came about from the fact that he was captured here as the result of clever work on the part of Captain Haze.

SALE OF SEALS WILL BE LARGE

Work is Piling Up in the Local Office and Help Needed. FIGHT AGAINST WHITE PLAGUE. Expected that a Large Sum Will Be Realized by the Sale of Seals in State of Nebraska During December. The executive secretary for the Nebraska Anti-Tuberculosis society, Mrs. A. J. Kohn, in spite of the assistance that is being given by the friends of the cause, is being swamped with the work of getting on the market the Christmas seals which are used to advertise and further the work. An appeal has gone out to enlist the services of every willing person in the state, of any age or position who is able to help in some way. There is a great deal of mailing to be done, the seals must be torn apart and records kept of the sales and all of this is additional to the actual work of getting the seals sold.

Bill McCune and His Reds Arrive

Veteran Showman Brings Band of Sioux Indians from Buffalo Bill's Wild West Aggregation. Major Bill McCune, for many years an officer in the service of Buffalo Bill's Wild West show, arrived in Omaha Monday morning from Little Rock, Ark., as official escort in charge of fifty-four Sioux Indians. Chief Iron Tail, in all the glory of his paint and feathers, served as aide to Major McCune. The Buffalo Bill show ended at Little Rock Saturday night, and Major McCune was there to take charge of the Indians. They are on their way back to the Pine Ridge agency, where they will remain until the next show season. It is related of Bill McCune that he can converse so fluently with Indians that he can look upon him as a sort of a Great Spirit, and he can control them as easily as a farmer controls his favorite carriage horse. Upon arriving in Omaha, Major McCune gave his wards permission to roam the town as they pleased, first taking their promise that would not daily around the festive fire water emporium. An Indian promise to Bill McCune is as good as a government bond, consequently it was a sober aggregation of law-abiding citizens gathered at the depot late in the afternoon to take a train for the agency. During the day, the visiting Indians made many purchases among the stores in the retail district. Each redskin had money—and each redskin spent money. The women of the crowd went in heavily on a red ribbon sale, which was organized for their special benefit in a sixteenth street department store.

ELEVATORS AGAIN OFF WATCH

City Hall Employees Again Have to Walk—Lift is Improvised for Mail. Since the elevators in the city hall, after threatening for weeks, have finally closed down, the clerks on the top floors are put to some sort of a scheme to get their mail, as the faithful mailman does not have to come above the second floor when the elevators are not running. The secretary of the superintendent of schools has an improvised lift made from a waste basket and a long cord, and all the mail and messages come up in that.

Whittaker Has More Than Share of Turkey

Has Consignment of Eight Sent Him for the Thanksgiving Day Dinner. W. Whittaker of the Union Pacific law department is adjudged to be the most popular man in Omaha. The secret of this is that Whittaker on Monday morning received a nice parcel of eight Thanksgiving turkeys from a friend in Sidney, Neb. At the time of the last bulletin sent through the guard lines which Whittaker has established all were in fine condition and willing to be sacrificed.

Alden of Chicago speaks to the noon-hour luncheon. Mr. Alden is to talk upon the "Ethical and Professional" and he will argue that publicity really means "seeking after truth."

Big Fair in the Bee Lobby

Various Churches of Omaha to Serve Luncheon and Sell Christmas Gifts. Twenty-three Omaha churches, of all denominations, will work together in the big Christmas fair that is to be held in the lobby of the Bee building December 2 to 5. In 1909 five churches used the Bee building corridor as a place in which various home made wares of needlework and art of several kinds, ceramic and culinary, could be sold. Besides the bazaar the churches give luncheon every day while the fair is going on.

WATCH IS KEPT FOR VANDALS

Missouri Pacific Man Reports Vigilance for Wandering Suspects. J. T. Murphy, who is acting as special agent of the Missouri Pacific railroad in Omaha during the illness of Special Agent Carver, reported Monday that a watch is being kept for wandering vandals. According to Murphy several boys and men have been arrested in Missouri for attempting to damage machinery in the Missouri Pacific roundhouses. He says there has been no trouble in Omaha and the strikes is being conducted here in a strictly orderly fashion.

CONFERENCE ON METHODS OF CHURCH FINANCES HELD

A. F. McGarrak Holds Several Meetings in Omaha, Discussing Improvements. A. F. McGarrak of Auburn, N. T., a representative of the executive committee of the Presbyterian General Assembly, is in the city holding conferences on the principles and methods of church finances. Mr. McGarrak represents a movement to improve and systematize the business affairs of the church. He spoke at a largely attended meeting of the Ministers' association Monday morning and conducted another conference at the First Presbyterian church at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. He will be at the First German Presbyterian church Monday evening.

MINE RESCUE CAR TEACHING USE OF LIFE SAVING DEVICE

Government Demonstrators Pass Through on Tour of Instructing Miners in Rescue Work. Transforming the practice of "flirting with death" to that of laughing at the Grim Reaper is the task being carried out by Mine Rescue car No. 4, which arrived over the Union Pacific in Omaha Monday. Sumner S. Smith, mining engineer, is in charge of the car with a cook and a first aid to the injured expert. The car is making a tour of all the mining camps of the middle west section, demonstrating a Draeger mine rescue helmet. The device is something on the order of a diver helmet, which is over the rescuer's head and connects with an oxygen generating cartridge on his back, and serves to supply him with breathing air while he enters any sort of a gas laden atmosphere. With this helmet, according to the demonstrators, a man can make his way into the charnel pits of a burning mine and remain in the fumes as long as he chooses, carrying on the work of fire fighting or rescue. He lives in his own atmosphere no matter how densely the atmosphere is filled with noxious gases.

RUSH WORK ON NEW CARS

Street Railway Hurrying Conveyances to Completion for the Holiday Season. In view of the Christmas and holiday rush on the Omaha street cars the street railway company is rushing the work on twenty-five new "pay-as-you-enter" cars which are to be placed on the Hancock park line about the middle of December. The heating systems of the cars are on the way and as soon as they arrive will be installed and the cars will be put in service. When the new cars are put on the cars now on the Hancock park line will be put on the South Omaha line, making three of Omaha's lines fitted out with this system.

Louisiana Farmers Sell Garden Truck in April, May and June. They ship to market when produce is scarce and prices high. They grow their crops in nature's hot houses. THEY live where extremes of heat or cold are unknown. After they cash in on their early crops at fancy profits, they use the same ground two or three times more in the same year. This is the new Louisiana which is being developed by men who gave up the uncertainty of getting ahead in the cities for a guaranteed prosperity in the land of quick fortunes. The soil is so rich that fruit and truck and grass, berries and grain, immediately produce enormous profits; the climate means comfort and health. Splendid markets are within quick and easy access. Freight rates are very low; farms from 5 to 25 dollars an acre, just as good as the higher priced land of the north. Write now for free information—facts you ought to have. IMPORTANT—The Rock Island's Agricultural Bureau will help you make your farm a success—supply expert information as to what to raise, when to plant your crops, and the markets where your produce is most in demand. State how much you can invest, where you want to go and what you want to grow. Address: L. M. ALLEN, Passenger Traffic Manager, 2029 La. Salle Station, Chicago. JOHN SEBASTIAN, Third Vice-President, Rock Island.
