Board Takes Layoff Until Saturday Waiting for Douglas.

NO REFEREE IN DONOHUE CASE Supreme Court Will Outline His

Duties Fully When He is Named -Notice Served Upon

Auditor.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Nov. 21 -- (Special.)-The state canvassing board met this morning and adtourned until Saturday to await the receipt of the Douglas county official vote. Those present at the meeting were Secretary of State Junkin and State Auditor Barton. Those absent were Governor Shallenberger and his new attorney general, Arthur Mullen, and Treasurer Brian.

No Referee Yet. The supreme court has adjourned until Baturday without having named a referee to take testimony in the que warranto proceedings against Chief of Police Donahue to remove him from office. In his talk to the court W. J. Connell, attorney for Donahue, said his interpretation of the Sackett law was that it was not the duty of the referee to pass on the law in the case, but merely to report the evidence without making a finding in law. The court will outline the duty of the referce when the appointment is made.

Notice Sent Anditor. Arthur Mullen, the mix-weeks' attorney general, has in addition to notifying foreign corporations that he will bring suit against them if they do not file a report of their business in his office by December 5, has sent the same notice to the state auditor. Mr. Barton by law is the agent for all foreign corporations doing business in Nebrasks. This law was enacted so that service sould be secured on the corporations. Mr. Barton notified the corporations of the letter he received.

FIRST MEETING OF STATE IRRIGATION CONVENTION

Legislative Committee is Appointed to Draw Up Bill Creating Irrigation District.

BRIDGEPORT, Neb., Nov. 23.-Special.)-Eighty-five accredited delegates and a large number of interested visitors attended the first meeting of the Nebraska State Irrigation convention which was in session in Bridgeport on Tuesday and Wednesday, November 15 and 16, and great interest was taken in the proceedings, assuring the complete success of the movement and placing the new association among the most prominent organizations of the state.

A number of instructive papers were read bearing upon the subject of irrigation. among them being a talk by W. E. Guthrie on "The Development of Irrigation in Nebranks.

its chief contributors. Since her husband's death Mrs. Douglass had continued her charitable, philanthropic and religious work. She rebuilt the Congregational church, bought for it a $1,500 pipe organ and gave it an $5,000 parsonage. Up to the time of her death she retained title to the parsonage, but its use was free to the church and her will gives the church the title. Mrs. Douglass heavily endowed Caes college at Neligh, Neb., and was one of the chief contributors to its support.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglass were childless. Mrs. Douglass leaves a will which, it is understood, bequeaths practically all her estate to relatives in New York state and New Jersey. Her husband's will left his estate to these relatives, subject to his widow's life interest.

Mrs. Douglass took an sarnest interest in banking matters. She rarely missed a directors' meeting and her opinions were highly respected by her fellow directors.
