

NO SPECIAL PRIMARY IN IOWA

Senatorship Will Be Threshed Out in Open Caucus.

LIST OF PROBABLE CANDIDATES

Senator Young's Temporary Appointment Believed to Be a Handicap to His Election.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, Nov. 27.—(Special.)—There is now but very little doubt that the matter of the senatorial succession in Iowa will be settled by an open caucus of the republican members of the legislature and that there will be no special effort made to refer the matter to the people at a special primary or to bring about a deadlock in the hope of leaving the matter open for a lot of aspiring candidates two years hence.

Early Caucus Probable.

The present outlook is that early in January a caucus of the republican members of the legislature will be held and there will be a considerable field of candidates under consideration; that the legislators will exercise a perfectly free choice in trying to secure for the senate the very best and most representative republican in the state.

Young's Appointment a Handicap.

There is very little doubt that in the legislative caucus the leading candidates for the place will likely be Governor Warren Garret, Attorney General H. W. Byers, Senator L. A. Young, Congressman E. H. Hubbard, Lieutenant Governor George W. Clarke and possibly Major John F. Lacey or Congressman A. F. Dawson.

Garret Popular in North.

The strength of Governor Garret lies in the northern part of the state. He is immensely popular with the republicans in those parts of the state where the republican party is extremely strong.

Attorney General Byers is Regarded as the Most Able of the Entire List of Candidates.

Attorney General Byers is regarded as the most able of the entire list of candidates, for his legal training is of high quality and he has had a great amount of public experience. It is expected he will be a candidate, but he has not said so as yet.

Every Person Mentioned for the Place is, in Fact, a Good Republican.

Every person mentioned for the place is, in fact, a good republican, and it is unlikely an effort will be made to cut anyone out of the race on the ground of not being regular or firmly grounded in the principles of the party.

Cummins Will Talk on Rates.

Senator Cummins goes to Washington next week. He has no very definite program of legislation or legislative work. There are some matters left over from last year which he hopes to have taken up, but realizes that in the short session much will have to give way for the important matters of the session.

Stillman in Lead for Speaker.

It is practically settled that Paul Stillman of Greene county, editor of the Jefferson Bee, will be the next speaker of the house of representatives in Iowa. There were others considered, but the only one seemingly in the race is Ernest Moore of Cedar Rapids, who will hardly be able to secure enough support to make it worth while.

Legislative Members Busy.

A great many of the members of the legislature have been in the city the last few days securing rooms and getting ready for the legislative session in January. The outlook is good that the organization of the legislature will be effected without delay and the speaker will be named on one ballot.

outlook is good that the organization of the legislature will be effected without delay and the speaker will be named on one ballot. The members are saying very little on the senatorial matter but all the republicans are indicating intent to choose a good republican in caucus and not put the matter off until a later time.

Farmers in the Legislature.

There will be a larger number of farmers in the next Iowa legislature than of any other class. Fifty-five of the elected members having classified themselves as farmers. There are forty-four lawyers and twenty bankers in the legislature. For once there is not a doctor in the house, but three in the senate.

Looking for 'Possoms.'

The annual Jeff Logan possom supper will take place again next month provided the possoms can be secured. Mr. Logan has the promise of ten possoms from some western Iowa point and insists upon having the same-grown possoms if possible for his feast to the politicians.

Believe Amendment Will Pass.

Rev. H. H. Sawyer of the State Anti-Saloon league, who has been working for the adoption of the prohibitory amendment by the legislature, has secured an expression of opinion from most of the members of the legislature and he is confident that the amendment will be adopted by the legislature. He has not secured pledges from a majority of the members, but a sufficient number that would indicate it will go through.

New Savings Bank.

The Peru Savings Bank of East Peru was organized and filed articles of incorporation today with $15,000 capital. The Marshall Ice company of Marshalltown also incorporated with $15,000 capital. The Guaranty Life Insurance association of Davenport filed amended articles. The incorporation was recorded in the Ladies of the Aerie No. 1 of Iowa of Sioux City, a fraternal association affiliated with the Eagles.

Rights of a Woman Candidate.

Attorney General Byers has received a number of letters from residents of Hamilton county asking him for an opinion as to whether or not a woman can claim the office of county superintendent when she was elected under one name and wants to take the office under another. She married after the primary and before the election, but permitted herself to be voted for in her first name. The claim is made that she cannot hold the office, but the attorney is not likely to so hold.

Anna Dorth Kills Her Baby and Then Tries to Burn Body

DUBUQUE Ia., Nov. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Anna Dorth today confessed to killing her five-week-old child and then attempting to burn its body in the woods on her father's farm near here. Falling to get the body to burn she hid it under leaves, and took the police to the place. The crime was committed Thanksgiving night, the girl wandering about in the woods all morning.

The superintendent of a founding institution, from which the child was taken Thursday night, became suspicious and gave the police the clue.

FUNERAL OF DENISON PIONEER

All Stores Closed During Services for Founder of Town. DENISON, Ia., Nov. 27.—(Special.)—The funeral of Hon. H. C. Laub, the pioneer citizen of this county, was held in the Methodist Episcopal church of which he was a most prominent member Thursday afternoon. Every business house in the city was closed during the hour of the funeral, and the large church was crowded with people. The sermon was given by the pastor, Dr. Senesky. At its close the Rev. Threshouse, now Perry, a former pastor, gave a fine tribute on the career of the deceased.

Washington Affairs

(From a Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—Army orders. Lieutenant Colonel Euclid E. Frick, medical corps, and Captain Edward W. W. Frick, medical corps, are detailed as members of the examining board to meet at Camp Grant, Ill., with Major William H. Brooks, medical corps, and Captain Herbert C. Gibbs, medical corps, relieved.

Clark Expresses Views.

Representative Clark declared that he felt that a conference of self-appointed delegates who met at the edge of one part of the country would not be a wise move from the standpoint of democratic harmony. He favored a Jackson day celebration in Baltimore, to which should be invited the leading democrats of the country. He declared his desire to co-operate with the Maryland democrats in what he considered a thoroughly commendable move and asserted his unqualified belief in the entire selfishness of the motives that have inspired the movement.

DEMOCRATS TO HOLD MEETING

Invitation to Leaders in All States to Come to Baltimore.

NOT POLITICAL CONFERENCE

National Jackson Day Celebration of Democratic Achievements—Will Rejoice in Recent Victory of the People.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 27.—The movement to bring to Baltimore the representative democrats of the country, in and out of congress, in a gathering that will present an opportunity to rejoice over the recent democratic victory, and to interchange views as to the future, was placed on a definite foundation today.

Not Conference.

It was thoroughly understood that the Baltimore celebration will not be in the nature of a conference, the result of which will bind or commit either the democratic party or the individuals participating therein.

Not Conference.

It was further understood that there are to be no resolutions adopted, no petition presented for the presidency, or for other office, and no resolutions passed indicating or outlining a platform. Likewise it was made plain that no section of the country and no element of the party is to be overlooked or left unrepresented, but that the gathering will be open, free and devoted solely to the promotion of party unity and harmony.

Not Conference.

It is proposed to send invitations to every democratic member of the present congress and of the next congress of both countries to shoulder the party in the country, regardless of their differences in the past, and to extend a welcome generally to democrats who desire to keep alive the present triumphant spirit of the national democracy.

Not Conference.

Chairman Mack expressed his desire to co-operate with the Maryland democrats and declared himself ready to do anything that would promote party harmony and success. He pointed out the dangers in the holding of a "conference" and declared that to attempt to indicate policies or formulate a platform at this time would be both unwise and unnecessary. Friction and discord would inevitably follow.

Not Conference.

The suggestion that a celebration be held of the democratic victory in the nature of a Jackson day banquet and mass meeting, however, met with his hearty approval. As chairman of the national committee he felt that to lend himself to any plan that would look like an attempt to commit the democratic party to any particular policy or man would be ridiculous. To the plan of a general celebration and ratification of the party victory he felt he could lend himself without impropriety or criticism and would gladly do it.

Not Conference.

Representative Clark declared that he felt that a conference of self-appointed delegates who met at the edge of one part of the country would not be a wise move from the standpoint of democratic harmony. Not Conference.

The members of the local committee propose to start to work at once with the determination of making the mass meeting and banquet the biggest of the kind ever held in the country.
